INTRODUCTION.

THE Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade having been pleased to adopt "The Mercantile Navy List" as a channel for promulgating the regulations and orders that may become necessary from time to time; the book will henceforth assume an official character, and all information contained therein be considered authentic.

In order to explain to Shipowners and their Officers the nature of their business in connection with the Boards of Examiners and the Shipping Masters; a careful abridgment of the Official Instructions, issued for the guidance of these officers, is inserted; and such other valuable information is detailed, under separate heads, as will render "The Mercantile Navy List" a useful and necessary appendage to the merchant's counting-house and the captain's cabin. The compilation of the tabular matter has been a work of considerable labour and expense; the influential support of those connected with the Mercantile Marine is therefore confidently anticipated in favour of a periodical so essential to their general interests.

MEMORANDUM.

In consequence of the prevalence of Desertion, particularly in the British Colonies, the notice of Shipowners is particularly directed to the following Clause in the Mercantile Marine Act, expressly framed to insure the conviction of Offenders when the evidence of the Master and the production of the Log Book are not available. Owners should caution the Masters of their Ships of the necessity of strict attention to this provision, as considerable inconvenience and loss of forfeited wages has already resulted from the certificates required not having been forwarded to the Registrar of Seamen in order to be produced, to sustain the charge of Desertion, in the Police Courts :—

“And be it enacted, that in all Cases of Desertion from any ‘Ship’ in any place abroad, the Master shall produce the Entry of such Desertion in the Official Log Book to the Person or Persons required by the ‘General Merchant Seamen’s Act’ to indorse on the Agreement a Certificate of such Desertion; and such Person or Persons shall thereupon make and certify a Copy of such Entry and also a Copy of the said Certificate of Desertion; and if such person is a public Functionary, he shall, and in other Cases the Master shall, forthwith transmit such Copies to the Registrar-General of Seamen in London; and the said Registrar shall, if required, cause the same to be produced in any legal Proceeding; and such Copies, if purporting to be so made and certified as aforesaid, and if shown to have come from the Custody of the said Registrar, shall in any legal Proceeding relating to such Desertion be received as Evidence of the Entries therein appearing.”—13 & 14 Vic. cap. 93, sec. 74.

NAMES OF THE OFFICERS APPOINTED PURSUANT TO THE Act 13th & 14th Vict., cap. 93.

*Extra Examinations are held only at those Ports marked thus: *.*

NOTE.—All Ports having registered vessels of 30,000 tons and upwards engaged in the Foreign trade, are entitled to Local Boards; also such other ports as the Board of Trade may direct. The qualification for a member of these Boards is the ownership of 250 tons of Foreign-going ships; and the same amount of Foreign tonnage is necessary to constitute a voter, but no person, however large his possession of tonnage, is allowed more than ten votes. The elections take place triennially; and, in addition to the six members elected, four are nominated by the Board of Trade.

APPROPRIATE CERTIFICATES.

A PERSON possessing a Master's Certificate, whether of competency or service, is eligible to command any vessel of whatsoever tonnage, and either certificate is sufficient for clearance at the Custom House. But a condition in the Charter party of vessels taken up by Government for the conveyance of troops, stores, or emigrants, and also the Regulations of the principal Steam Packet Companies, require that the Master and principal officers shall possess Certificates of competency.

The First Mate may engage as Mate of any kind ;

The only Mate as First Mate when there is no other ; or as Second Mate when there is a First Mate.

The Second Mate is not appropriate for any superior station, and must be employed only in cases where a First Mate is also engaged.

Certificates of Competency or Service may be either of a grade appropriate to the Stations held for the time being, or of any superior grade.

ABRIDGMENT

OF THE

INSTRUCTIONS TO SHIPPING MASTERS.

ISSUED BY THE LORDS OF THE COMMITTEE OF PRIVY COUNCIL FOR TRADE.

THE Shipping Offices established under the Act will be of three classes :—

First.—Those established by local marine boards.

Secondly.—Those established in ports where no local boards exist, which will be in the Custom Houses, and be conducted by the Officers of Customs.

Thirdly.—Those established in Sailors' Homes in the Port of London.

The first will be under the control of the local boards by which they are established, and the officers employed in them are to look to the local board for their instructions, except in matters relating to the receipt and payment of money, as to which they are to obey the instructions of the Board of Trade.

The second and third are subject in all matters to the immediate control of the Board of Trade.

The following instructions have been prepared chiefly with a view to the two latter classes ; but as those parts which relate to the receipt and payment of money will apply to the first also, and as it may be found convenient by the local boards to have one uniform printed code of instructions which they can adopt, subject to any modifications they may severally think necessary, these instructions have been made as complete as possible, and include certain duties which belong only to the first class of Shipping Offices. These duties are specially distinguished wherever mentioned, and may be divided as follows :—

General Duties.

The Shipping Master's general duties will be to see that his Office is so managed as to afford every facility to parties attending ; to be prepared for the transaction of business at all reasonable hours ; to post up the Scales of Fees and of Payments for Documents sold at the Shipping Offices ; and to give such other Notices as may be requisite.

To keep properly the Books for the entry of Applicants for Employment, (and to facilitate the making of Apprenticeships;) and of Men shipped and discharged; to make the entries therein duly and punctually, and to allow the same to be referred to by Masters and Ship Owners who may wish for information to be derived therefrom.

To assist Owners of Ships in convicting defaulters or deserters, by adducing the necessary evidence, and in all cases of Litigation to produce in Court any material documents, duplicates, counterfoils, registered entries, or other evidence which may be in his possession, or be sent to him from the Register Office of Seamen.

To have at all times on hand a supply of the sanctioned Forms and Papers, so that no inconvenience or obstruction may arise for lack of them.

To act as the channel through which attested copies of documents deposited in the General Register and Record Office of Seamen will reach parties at the outports.

If any Master or other person refuses or neglects to transact his business with the Shipping Master in the manner required by law and by the regulations of the office, the Shipping Master, if appointed by a local board, is to report the case to such board; and if appointed otherwise, to the Board of Trade; but before making any such representation every facility and explanation should be afforded by the Shipping Master, so that the Master's refusal or neglect may not proceed from ignorance.

*Duties with respect to the Engagement of Crews of Foreign-going Ships.**

If furnished with a book for the purpose he is to enter the names of seamen who want employment, and to allow masters who want crews to inspect it.†

Whenever masters desire to make use of the Shipping Office for the purpose of selecting and engaging their Crews, the Shipping Master will have to obtain from them the particulars necessary for filling up the notice of the engagement of the crew, and to post it in the Shipping Office, and he must then do all that lies in his power to procure the attendance of a suitable crew at the appointed time.

Whenever a master engages his crew elsewhere, and has recourse to the Shipping Office only for the purposes absolutely required by the Act, this notice will be unnecessary. In either case, however, it is essential that the Shipping Master should have at least six hours' notice of the time at which the Master and crew are to attend, and he should insist on such notice being given to him. At the time when such notice is given he should desire the Master to procure, if possible, a written authority for advance of wages, and should furnish him with the necessary form for this purpose, which should, if possible, be filled up and returned to the Shipping Master when the agreement is to be signed. At the time fixed for this purpose, the Master will attend, and, if he has not previously selected his crew, may select them from the men in attendance; or, if he has selected them, will bring them with him. The Master and crew being in attendance, the Shipping Master must see that the agreement is properly settled in duplicate, and the successive folios, if more than one, properly numbered, that the blanks are properly filled up, that the reference, if any, to the sanctioned regulations as to fines is properly made, and that a copy of the Regulations for maintaining discipline is settled accordingly and attached to the copy of agreement which the Master is to take to sea.

* For description of a Foreign-going ship, see Note at p. 35.

† This book will only be kept at the larger ports.

In settling the agreement it will be the Shipping Master's duty to remonstrate against the insertion of any stipulation which he considers contrary to the Acts of Parliament. When the agreement is settled, he must read it over to the crew, or cause it to be read over to them in his presence, and explain it, if necessary: the Master must then sign it, and afterwards each member of the crew, and the Shipping Master must attest each signature. He must then see that the copy of the agreement, which is to be made accessible to the crew, is made to correspond with the original Agreement. This form, as well as a duplicate of the Agreement and Regulations agreed to, will be taken away by the Master; the Shipping Master must retain the other duplicate of Agreement for transmission as after-mentioned. On the latter duplicate the acknowledgment of an authority for Advances should be signed by the Shipping Master, if such an authority has been given. He should then see that the Advance Notes and Allotment Notes are properly filled up, and that the counterparts of the Advance Notes are made to correspond; and, if he supplies the Allotment Notes, that the counterparts of these also are made to correspond. The Allotment Notes and Advance Notes may be delivered to the crew at once, and placed in the hands of the seamen themselves, in the presence of the Shipping Master; and the Shipping Master must see that they are delivered according to the Act.

In cases in which it is the practice for a Foreign-going Ship to clear from one port and to engage none or a part only of her Crew at that port, and then to proceed to another port for the purpose of taking or completing her Crew, the following is the practice to be adopted:—At the first port, the Agreement is to be signed as usual in duplicate before the Shipping Master by the Master and as many of the Crew as are engaged there, and the Fee is then to be paid according to Schedule B. Both the duplicates of the Agreement are then to be delivered to the Master, who is to take them with him to the Port where the remainder of the Crew is to be engaged, and is to produce them to the Shipping Master at such Port, and they must then be signed in his presence by the persons engaged there. One of the duplicates will then be sent by the Shipping Master to the Registrar of Seamen, and one retained by the Master as usual. No fee is to be charged at the second Port for persons engaged there, if they form part of the original crew of the ship; but if the men engaged before the Shipping Master there are substitutes for men previously engaged, the fee of 1s. must always be paid for each.

The Certificates of Masters and Mates in foreign-going ships, are to be produced to the Shipping Master at the time of executing the Agreement; and he must take care that every Master and Mate has a Certificate appropriate to the station he holds in the ship, or of a higher grade (See page 16, for explanation of Appropriate Certificate). The Shipping Master is then to furnish the Master with a Certificate AA, which shall satisfy the Customs that the regulation respecting the execution of the Agreement, and the possession of appropriate Certificates has been complied with.*

* In order to prevent inconvenience by detention of ships' clearance, the Officers of Customs have been instructed to the following effect:—To allow a Master or Mate to proceed to sea in a foreign-going ship, notwithstanding he may not produce a formal Certificate of competency or service appropriate to his station, provided that he produces a written statement, signed by the Examiner (or Examiners as the case

Foreign-going Steam Ships, and other vessels making frequent voyages, are allowed to have Running Agreements to terminate half yearly, on the 30th of June and 31st of December, or on the first return to the United Kingdom after these dates. These Running Agreements are intended to relieve the Masters of those vessels, who keep the same crews, from the necessity of entering them and discharging them before the Shipping Master every voyage. The practice in these cases will be as follows :—On the first engagement of the crew they will sign the Agreement Form A, the blanks in the body of which must be filled up so as to meet the case before the Shipping Master, and in the usual manner. On the first, and every return intermediate between the first commencement and the termination of the agreement, the Master must produce his Agreement to the Shipping Master. If he has any men to discharge or engage, he must discharge and engage them before a Shipping Master in the usual manner, paying the fee of two shillings for each man so discharged or engaged ; and the appropriate Certificates of Mates must be produced when changes occur. The Master must make an indorsement on the Agreement to the effect (as the case may be) either that no men have been discharged or engaged, or are intended to be discharged or engaged before the ship proceeds to sea again ; or that all the men who have been so discharged or engaged, or are intended to be discharged or engaged, have been discharged or engaged before a Shipping Master. The Master shall be warned that a false statement submits him to the penalty of 20*l*. The Shipping Master will then indorse the Agreement, with a statement properly dated, to the effect that the law has been complied with, and give the Master Certificate AA to clear his ship. As the law requires that the duplicate of the Agreement shall be sent to the Registrar of Seamen, to prevent the inconvenience of frequent transmission of that document, when ships are constantly returning to the same port, a third copy should be executed and retained by the Shipping Master ; on this, and on the original in the Master's possession, the changes must be entered ; and in all cases of discharges or entries, Form Schedule G must be filled up and sent to the Registrar of Seamen. When the ship does not return to the same port, the Master should take the third copy with him and produce it, with his Agreement, to be filled up and completed by the Shipping Master, or Shipping Masters, before whom he subsequently discharges the remainder of his crew. On the termination of the Agreement, which must be no later than the first return of the ship to the United Kingdom, after the 30th of June or 31st of December next after its commencement, the whole of the crew must be discharged before the Shipping Master, the papers transmitted to the Registrar of Seamen in the usual way, and a new agreement may then be made for the following half year.

The fees are payable in the usual way, regulated by tonnage on the first agreement and final discharge of the crew—the fee of two shillings on each intermediate engagement and discharge. If, however, men are transferred, in the course of the six months, from one ship to another, belonging to the same Owners engaged in the same trade, and having an agreement similar in its terms, no fee need be paid for the discharge from the one and entry into the other.

may be), or by a Member of the Local Marine Board of the Port at which he is examined, to the effect that he has passed an examination for the grade in which he is intending to proceed to sea, and has produced satisfactory testimonials that the non-production of his Certificate is owing to its not having been transmitted from the Registry Office.

The deductions from the wages of each man will, of course, be made for their engagements and discharges only to which the man was a party, and for which a fee has been paid by the owner.

HOME-TRADE SHIPS.—Masters and Owners of vessels of less than eighty tons burden, employed in coasting only, are not compelled to have written Agreements with their crews ; and Masters and Owners of such vessels, of whatever burden, are no longer compelled to have Official Log Books. The Form D must, however, be produced for such vessels as heretofore. The law in respect to these has reverted to what it was under the Merchant Seamen's Act.

Colonial Ships are subject to the Provisions of the Mercantile Marine Act in the same manner as other ships, except when trading direct between the United Kingdom and their own colony having a Legislative Assembly, and therefore must conform to the regulations of the Shipping Offices. When trading direct they render an account of their crews on Form Schedule C, as before, and obtain the Customs, or Shipping Master's receipt, in order to jerk their ships. Those which engage their crews in their own colony or territory, and are to take them back to that colony or territory, are not bound to engage them afresh before a Shipping Master in England, although the trading of the ship, as far as cargo is concerned, may be between some port in the United Kingdom and other parts of the world. For instance, a Jersey ship which engages her crew in Jersey according to the law of Jersey, and is finally to discharge them in Jersey, may come to London for a cargo and then trade to America and come back to London before finally discharging her crew in Jersey, without being obliged to take them before the London Shipping Master. If, however, any of her men are actually engaged or discharged in London, they must be engaged or discharged (as the case may be) before a Shipping Master.

Payment must be made by the Master of the proper fees and of the purchase-money for such forms and documents as are supplied to him. To prevent difficulty, these payments should be made on the commencement of business.

The crew being engaged, as above mentioned, notice should be given of the time for being on board, by posting up the notice properly filled up.

By these means the business of engaging the crew will be accomplished, and by the notice above mentioned, and other judicious arrangements, which will vary in the different ports, the presence of the men may be pretty generally secured at the time appointed.

If any man who has been so engaged, deserts or does not join, the Shipping Master, on receiving notice thereof, shall enter it against the man's name in his books, and, on his again applying for an engagement, give notice to the Ship Owner to furnish the evidence necessary to convict him. If, after the ship's departure, any question should arise concerning the Advance Notes or Allotment Notes, the Shipping Master should produce, from the documents in his possession, such evidence as may be required to determine it.

For the purpose of reducing the Fees payable by Masters and Owners of Ships which make short and frequent voyages, and the deductions to be made from the wages of Crews on account of such voyages, Fees payable upon the engagement and discharge of Crews under Schedule B. of the Mercantile Marine Act, are not to be paid more than twice in one year, in respect of the same Ship ; so that after making the ordinary payments on two voyages, any further engagement or discharge of the Crew may be effected without further payment. The year for the above purpose is to be taken as commencing on the 1st of January and ending on the 31st December.

For the purpose of proving a right to exemption on this ground, the following plan is to be adopted :—As the Official Log will generally serve for several short voyages, the Master of a Ship making such voyages should enter in his Official Log the payment of the Fees paid by him on his two first voyages, and the Shipping Master to whom he pays them should sign the entries. When, after making two voyages, he again comes to a Shipping Office to engage or discharge his Crew, he must produce the Log with such Entries made in it, and the Shipping Master is, on such production, to proceed with the business without demanding any Fee; and he is to enter the Name of the Ship, and other particulars, in the appropriate Schedule of Account, and to add the words—“ Fees paid on two previous Voyages.”

The crew of every Foreign-going ship must be discharged before a Shipping Master.

At least twenty-four hours' notice of the time appointed for this purpose should be given to the Shipping Master by the Master or Owner.

The Master is to deliver the Official Logbook, and the account of his Crew duly filled up to the Shipping Master, within forty-eight hours after the ship's arrival, and on receipt of it, the Shipping Master must give a certificate there for the purpose of jerking. He must also make an entry of the delivery of the Logbook, in the book supplied for the purpose.

The Master is to give to every Seaman, or leave with the Shipping Master on his behalf, unless he specially desires to be paid without waiting for account, an account of his wages in the required form, twenty-four hours before the time of payment. On the attendance of the crew, the money will be paid in the Shipping Master's presence.

The Shipping Master will then see by the entries in the table at the beginning of the Log, whether any Fines or Forfeitures have been inflicted, and will be able to refer at once to the entries. If these entries are not made and attested in the manner required by the Act, the Shipping Master is not to allow any deduction to be made. If any Fines have been inflicted for offences enumerated in the regulations sanctioned by the Board of Trade, and adopted in the Agreement, they are to be paid to the Shipping Master, who must give a receipt for the same, and enter the amount in the proper place in his accounts. If, however, the Master chooses, in consequence of subsequent good conduct, to remit any such Fine, he is to be allowed to do so; but the Shipping Master should require his reasons for so doing, and if they do not appear satisfactory, should note the fact.

The Shipping Master should give every assistance in his power to check the practice of Desertion.

For this purpose he should, when ships are paid off in this country, and especially in the case of those which come from the North American colonies, examine Form C and the Agreement, in order to ascertain, if possible, whether any of the crew have deserted from other ships. If he has reason to suspect that they have done so, he should warn the Master or Owner not to pay those men until communication has been made to the Owner of the ship from which the men have deserted, in order that the forfeiture may be claimed under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, s. 9, and the Mercantile Marine Act, s. 73. He should then communicate with the last-named Owner either immediately, if he knows where he is, or through the medium of the Registrar of Seamen, who will, when he has the means, forward any letters addressed to him for this purpose, and furnish any information or assistance which may be in his power. If no claim is made by the Owner of the ship from which the men have deserted, or if that claim does not reach the full amount of the wages earned by the deserter on the homeward voyage, the whole of the surplus (as the case may be) of such wages should be claimed under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, s. 9, and the Mercantile Marine Act for the Board of Trade, s. 111.

If it appears that the seaman has, on engaging himself in the ship in which he comes home, made a false statement of the name of his last ship, or of his own name, for the purpose of concealing the fact of his having deserted, or for any other fraudulent purpose, the Shipping Master should insist on the forfeiture provided for by the Mercantile Marine Act, s. 75. Some instances have occurred in which deserters have refused to give the names of their last ship. In these cases the Master should be warned that he is, under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, ss. 26 & 27, and the Mercantile Marine Act, ss. 47 & 55, subject to penalties for not returning this particular in the Agreement and in List C, and that he should, therefore, not engage any man without obtaining from him a statement of it. He should also be asked whether he can give any and what evidence which would lead to the conviction of the deserter.

In the above cases the strict course will be to take the offenders before a magistrate, and have the forfeiture inflicted in due legal form. If, however, the parties are satisfied to leave the matter in the hands of the Shipping Master, without having it decided by a Magistrate, the forfeiture may be paid at once, and, in such cases, the Shipping Master should use his discretion in mitigating the amount, whenever he may consider it desirable to do so.

Lastly, the Shipping Master should take every opportunity of pointing out to Masters and Owners the means of checking desertion, which the provisions of 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, s. 9, and the Mercantile Marine Act, ss. 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, and 75, place at their disposal, and of urging on them the importance of taking active measures to carry these provisions into effect, of giving mutual assistance to each other, and to the Shipping Masters, for this purpose.

If there is any dispute, and the parties mutually agree to refer the same to the decision of the Shipping Master, they are to state their submission to his Arbitration, and he is then to decide to the best of his ability, and for that purpose may call for any Papers as evidence, to enable him to come to a just determination. When his decision is made, the Shipping Master is, if required by either of the parties, for legal or other purposes, to sign and give them a written certificate of his decision in the proper Form.

Upon payment of the wages, and settlement of disputes (if any) being effected, the Shipping Master is to require the Master and Crew to sign a mutual release in the sanctioned Form, which is to be attested by the Shipping Master. This document must be produced if a subsequent dispute arises.

Before the business is completed the Master must give to the Shipping

Master in duplicate a report of the character of his crew, one copy of which is to be kept by the Shipping Master, and the other transmitted to the Registrar of Seamen, as mentioned below. If any seaman requires a certificate of character, the Shipping Master is to deliver it to him.

It is very desirable, though not absolutely required by the Act, that the certificate of discharge should be given to the crew, and their Register Tickets returned in the presence of the Shipping Master, so as to insure their delivery to the right persons. The Shipping Master should always be ready to offer his services for this purpose, and should also, if the seamen are willing, and if consistent with convenience, offer to keep these documents for them in his office till they obtain another engagement.

Should the Shipping Master in the course of investigating the Logbook, or by any other means, discover any act of omission or commission contrary to the provisions of the Act, he should report the same, if appointed by a local board, to such board, and if otherwise appointed, to the Board of Trade, in order that, if necessary, proceedings may be taken, and a record of the fact made in the Register Office.

Upon the discharge being effected, the Shipping Master should make proper entries in the book for entering discharges, and should especially attend to the entries of character. If he has reason to suspect the truth of any report of character, he may at his discretion omit to make the entry, or state his opinion concerning it.

The Shipping Master, if required, is to return the Logbook to the Master, Owner, or party entitled thereto, after he has had possession of it for forty-eight hours ; but it may be called for by direction of the Board of Trade at any time after such re-delivery within two years.

In ports to which ships resort which are engaged in the Whale Fishery, and which are so circumstanced that attendance before a Shipping Master for all or any of the above-mentioned purposes, would cause great inconvenience, the Shipping Master must, as soon as possible after the receipt of these instructions, make a general Report to the Board of Trade, who will thereupon give the necessary directions.

Duties with respect to the Engagement and Discharge of Single Seamen.

On the engagement or discharge of single seamen the process will be the same, so far as the circumstances will permit, as on the engagement and discharge of crews. The fees to be taken are mentioned in the scale.

Duties with respect to Home-trade Ships.

As regards Home-trade ships, the necessary duty of Shipping Master is confined to the following points :—The half-yearly receipt and due transmission of the Agreement of Vessels over eighty tons, and the half-yearly List of Crew of those and all others of whatsoever size. On the receipt of these documents, he is to give a certificate to the Owner or Master, which will enable him to receive a transire. If it appears by the Logbook that any fines have been imposed for breaches of the Regulations mutually agreed upon, sanctioned by the Board of Trade and adopted by the parties, he is to require them to be paid to him, and to deal with them as in the case of Foreign-going Ships.

But when the Masters of Home-trade ships wish to avail themselves of the Shipping Offices for the engagement or discharge of their crew, he is, in such case, to follow the course prescribed for Foreign-going ships, so far as the law and the various necessary documents apply to Home-trade ships : and in this case the same fees are to be charged as in the case of Foreign-going Ships.

Duties with respect to the Sale of the Printed Forms.

Advance Notes must in all cases be bought at the Shipping Office, and are to be sold only when wanted for immediate use ; and in such numbers as are actually wanted. The Shipping Master must, when possible, fill them up, or see them filled up, and also see that the counterfoil of each, which is to remain in his possession, is made to correspond with the note. There will in general be nothing to prevent his doing this, as it is required by the Act that when seamen are engaged in his presence, Advance Notes must be given in his presence. Men, however, who are engaged subsequently to the first engagement of the crew, are not obliged to receive their notes in the presence of a Shipping Master ; and to meet these cases the Shipping Master must, in addition to the notes delivered to the crew, furnish the Master with such blank notes as he may require. In such cases he should number the notes and the counterfoil and request the Master, if the notes are not used, to restore them, or, if this is impossible, to cancel them.

As the Advance Notes have been expensively executed with a view to prevent forgery, and enhance their value to the Seamen, and as they now require no stamp, they will be sold at 1*d.* each, and will not be included in the general scale of the price of Forms. No extra charge is ever to be made for the trouble of filling them up.

The Shipping Master must in this, as in all other cases, look to the Master for payment, whatever further arrangement may be made between the latter and his crew.

All the Forms necessary for a Foreign-going or Home-trade ship, except Advance Notes, may either be purchased at the Shipping Office, or elsewhere, and brought to the Shipping Office, to be there used and dealt with as the case may require. If purchased at the Shipping Office, a whole set must be paid for, according to the scale to be furnished for the purpose, which will vary in proportion to the size of the ship. This payment must be made in full, whenever the Shipping Master is required to supply any of the necessary documents, so that he may never be required to supply broken sets, or to receive or account for fractions of the sums mentioned in the scale.

On the engagement and discharge of single seamen, the necessary documents are to be supplied without charge, except Advance Notes.

It is very desirable that in places where the staff is sufficient, the Shipping Masters should fill up and settle, or make their assistants fill up and settle, the various documents, so that it may be correctly and legibly done ; and in the case of Advance Notes, according to the rules above laid down, the blanks must always be filled up by the Shipping Master.

Duties with respect to the Examination and Certificates of Masters and Mates.

In places where examinations are held the Shipping Master will be supplied with the necessary forms. Every applicant for examination must, before the examination begins, apply at the Shipping Office to have his name put down, and to pay his fee. The Shipping Master is then to sign the receipt, and to deliver it to the applicant to fill up, who must, on presenting himself to be examined, deliver it, properly filled up, with his testimonials and previous certificate of competency or service, if any, to the Examiner. The Shipping Master is to send a list of the applicants, immediately before the examination commences, to the Examiners.

The above duties are confined to those of the ports having local boards at which examinations are held. Shipping Masters will, however, also be the channels through which the certificates of competency will reach the applicants, and their testimonials, if sent to London for verification, will be restored to them. Consequently, as applicants may frequently leave the port at which they are examined, and desire to have their documents sent elsewhere, all Shipping Masters, however appointed, and wherever stationed, must be prepared to perform the following duties :—

Every applicant who passes will, on the conclusion of the examination, receive a Form filled up, and signed by the Examiner; and, upon his presentation of this ticket to the Shipping Master to whom it is directed, the Shipping Master must require him to sign his name in the proper place on the back of the certificate of competency, and of the office copy; and, unless he sees ground for suspecting personation, must make the proper entries on the certificate and office copy, and deliver the former, with the testimonials (if any), to the applicant, and return the office copy to the Register Office. If he sees reason to suspect personation, he must report the case to the local board, if appointed by a local board, and, if not, to the Board of Trade.

If an applicant fails to pass, he will receive from the Examiner an order, and the Shipping Master, to whom it is directed, must return him half his fee, and must also, if the testimonials have been forwarded to the Registrar, and transmitted by him to the Shipping Master, return them to the applicant.

The Shipping Master will also have duties to perform in the case of applications for the renewals of lost certificates, either of competency or service. A form of application for that purpose is supplied. If the Shipping Master is able himself to certify to the circumstances under which the former Certificate is stated by the Applicant to have been lost, he should do so on the back of the Form. If he cannot the Applicant must procure and send with the Form either a statement from the Owner of his last ship, confirming his own statement of the circumstances under which the former Certificate was lost, or if the statement cannot be procured, a Statutory Declaration as to those circumstances, made by himself before a Magistrate. The Shipping Master must then transmit it to the Registrar of Seamen, who will send down a new certificate and office copy to be properly filled up. The former will then be delivered to the applicant, and the latter returned to the Register Office. If the certificate proves to have been lost by wreck or fire, no fee will be charged. The other duties of the Shipping Master relate to the Keeping of his Books and rendering his Accounts to the Board of Trade.

Duties with respect to the Receipt and Payment of Money.

On this subject every Shipping Master, however appointed, is bound to follow the instructions of the Board of Trade, and, if required, to communicate directly with the Board of Trade on the subject. The Shipping Master is to be the channel through which all local receipts and payments are to pass.

The Merchant Seamen's Fund Act, 4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 52, having been repealed by the 14th & 15th Vict., c. 102, which came into operation on the 1st January, 1852, the following Rules have been established for

CONTRIBUTIONS
TO
THE MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND,
AND FOR THE
GRANTING OF PENSIONS FROM THAT FUND.

Contributions to the Fund.

1. ALL Masters and Seamen who have contributed to the Fund before the 8th August 1851 may, if they choose so to do, continue to contribute; but those who did not contribute before that day, cannot now contribute or establish any claim upon the Fund.

2. All future contributions are to be paid to the Shipping Masters appointed under the Mercantile Marine Act.

3. In the case of men who are discharged before a Shipping Master, the contributions are to be paid at the time of the discharge, and are to be proportioned to the length of the voyage reckoning from the day of signing articles to the day of discharge inclusive, and are to be after the following rates, viz. :

(a) For a Seaman,

1s. for each calendar month of the voyage or engagement, and for any broken period of a month exceeding 20 days ;

6d. for any broken period of a month exceeding 10 and not exceeding 20 days ;

4d. for any broken period of a month not exceeding 10 days.

(b.) For a Master,

Double the above rates.

4. In the case of men who are not discharged before a Shipping Master, the contributions may be paid to any Shipping Master before whom the contributors may find it convenient to attend, and may be paid to him at such times as may be fixed by him. These contributions are to be after the following rates, viz. :

23 CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND.

- (a.) For a Seaman,
  - 8s. for one year ;
  - 6s. for nine calendar months ;
  - 4s. for six calendar months ;
  - 2s. for three calendar months.

- (b.) For a Master,
  - Double the above rates.

These contributions must be paid quarterly in advance.

5. In the case of foreign-going ships which arrive after the 1st January 1852, having commenced the voyage before that day, the contribution will be payable for the whole period of the voyage, according to rule 3. above. In the case of home-trade ships, no contribution will be payable for the period intervening between the 8th August 1851 and the 1st January 1852.

6. If a contributor serves for part of any one year in foreign-going ships, and the remainder of the year in home-trade ships, he is to pay as follows : If he contributes 8s. or upwards whilst in foreign-going ships no further contributions will be required. If he contributes less than 8s. whilst in foreign-going ships, the sum which he pays in such ships is to be reckoned as a portion of the 8s. or 16s., as the case may be, which he would, if serving all the year in home-trade ships, have had to contribute, and upon payment of the balance, his contribution for the year is to be considered complete.

7 Any man who has once contributed as Master, or who once contributes as Master, after the 1st January 1852, may continue to contribute thenceforth as Master, and establish a Master's claim on the Fund, although acting as a Seaman ; but if after once contributing as Master, he ceases so to do, and contributes as a Seaman, he will not be entitled to claim as a Master.

8 If any Master or Seaman for three consecutive years previous to the termination of his service at sea fails to pay any contribution to the Fund, he will no longer be allowed to contribute, and will forfeit all claim upon the Fund, whatever his previous contributions may have been.

9. But if any Master or Seaman who has not contravened Rule 8 by failing for three consecutive years previous to the termination of his last service at sea to pay any contribution to the Fund, fails to pay the appointed contributions at the proper times, he will be required, before he can be allowed to make another payment, to pay up all arrears ; and no claim for a Pension can be established until such arrears are paid for the whole period previous to the termination of his last service at sea.

10. No pension can be granted to any Master or Seaman, or to his widow or children, upon any ground whatever, unless he has contributed for a period of at least sixty months, such contribution to have been made either before the 8th August 1851, or partly before and partly after that date.

11. If a Master or Seaman who has before the 8th August 1851 paid dues for sixty months or upwards goes to sea again, and is, within three years from the 31st December 1851, killed or drowned in the Merchant Service, without having in the meantime paid any voluntary contributions to the Fund, his widow and children shall not on account of his so failing to become a voluntary contributor lose their rights to Pensions, provided their claims are in all other respects established as required by these rules.

12. Every Master and Seaman must, on paying his first voluntary contribution, state to the Shipping Master that he intends to be a voluntary contributor, and must produce his old Register Ticket to that officer, who will give him directions for procuring a new Register Ticket in exchange called a Fund Ticket. If the Master has no Register Ticket, he must procure a Fund Ticket, for which purpose the Shipping Master will give him the necessary directions. This Fund Ticket must, on every occasion on which the contributor pays any contribution, be produced to the Shipping Master to whom he pays it, and the Shipping Master will enter on the back of the ticket each amount so paid. Masters and Seamen who become voluntary contributors should take especial care to procure Fund Tickets, and to see that the amount of their contributions is entered on the back thereof, as the ticket will be a proof of the contributions having been paid, and they will be required to produce it upon applying for Pensions.

13. Men-of-War's men who have contributed to the Fund, and desire to continue their contributions, may do so at the rate hereinbefore fixed for seamen who are not discharged before a Shipping Master. Arrangements have been made as to the manner in which these contributions are to be received.

Grant of Pensions.

14. In every case in which a Pension is claimed, it must be proved that the Master or Seaman who, or whose widow or children, make the claim, has contributed to the Fund in the manner pointed out in the above Rules as to contributions. No claim can be entertained by the Trustees or Local Managers of the Fund when the failure mentioned in Rule 8 has taken place, or if the conditions contained in Rule 10 are not strictly fulfilled. In case of any slight departure from the conditions contained in Rules 7 and 9, the Trustees or Local Managers are at liberty to state the circumstances for the consideration of the Board of Trade.

If the Pension has not been forfeited under Rule 8, but some arrears of contribution are due under Rule 9, the Pension may be granted, but the time for commencing payment of the Pension will be deferred, or the rate will be diminished, so as to cover all arrears.

15. No Pensioner is to be considered fully and finally entitled to his or her Pension until the claim and the evidence in support of it have been submitted to the Board of Trade and approved by that Board, as noticed in Rule 28.

16. The number of Pensions granted at one port in one year to each of the different classes of Pensioners hereinafter mentioned, must not exceed the average yearly number of similar Pensions granted at the same port during the five years ending with 1851, except by the special direction of the Board of Trade.

When there is danger of exceeding the above-mentioned limit, those of the worn-out Seamen who have contributed longest to the Fund are to be first provided for.

17. Subject to the foregoing general conditions, pensions may be granted to the following classes of applicants :

30 CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND.

- (a) Masters and Seamen who can prove that they are rendered permanently incapable of service by sickness, wounds, or other accidental misfortune.
- (b.) Masters and Seamen who have become decrepit or worn out by age.
- (c.) Widows whose husbands have lost their lives in the Merchant Service, either by casualty, or by sickness incident to the nature of the service, or by drowning.
- (d.) Widows whose husbands have contributed to the Fund for twenty-one years, provided they were married before the time at which their husbands would have been entitled to receive pensions, in other words, before they became worn-out or decrepit, or incapable of service.
- (e.) Widows whose husbands are at the time of their deaths receiving or entitled to receive a pension provided they were married before the time at which the husbands were entitled to receive pensions, in other words, before they became worn-out, decrepit, or incapable of service.
- (f) Children whose fathers lose their lives in the Merchant Service, either by casualty, or by sickness incident to the nature of the service, or by drowning, provided such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood.
- (g.) Children whose fathers die after contributing for twenty-one years to the fund, provided that such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood, and provided their mothers are, or if living would be, entitled to pensions.
- (h.) Children whose fathers at the time of their deaths are in receipt of or entitled to receive pensions, provided that such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood, and provided their mothers are, or if living would be, entitled to pensions.

18. The amount of pensions to be granted to each of the above classes will be as follows :

Masters . . . . .	6	16	0	a year.
Seamen . . . . .	3	8	0	„
Widows of Masters . . . . .	4	8	0	„
Widows of Seamen . . . . .	2	4	0	„
Children of Masters, each child . . . . .	2	4	0	„
Children of Seamen, each child . . . . .	1	2	0	„

But Pensions are not to be granted to more than four children in one family unless they are orphans.

19. Pensions may be granted to the above, notwithstanding that the Pensioner is in receipt of other income derived from either wages, or public or private charity, or private property, or from a benefit society.

20. If men, after remaining in the service for the better part of their lives, quit the sea at an advanced age but before becoming actually worn out, and then earn a subsistence for a few years on shore, they are not on this account to be considered as forfeiting any claim on the Fund for themselves, their widows or children, to which they would otherwise be entitled.

If, however, men quit the sea service when still of age and strength sufficient to turn permanently to some other work or business, they are to be considered to have ceased to be Seamen, and no pension is to be granted to them when worn out or decrepit, or to their widows or children.

Commutation of Claims.

21. Pensions already granted may be commuted, and gross sums of money may be granted in lieu of Pensions in any special cases in which the money is wanted for purposes of emigration or for other pressing purposes. The reason for the commutation must, however, be stated to the Board of Trade, and approved of by that Board. The amount of such commutations and gratuities will be fixed by the Board of Trade.

Form and Nature of Claim and of Evidence to support it.

22. The London Corporation and the Trustees of Outports will (unless their functions are suspended in consequence of their failing to be duly chosen or resigning, or refusing or neglecting to act,) select the persons who are to receive Pensions, subject to the general Rules and to the tests hereby required, and to approval by the Board of Trade, and the muster rolls and books necessary for this purpose at their respective ports will remain in their possession. If any of these bodies are suspended, provision will be made for the performance of their duties either by the Local Marine Board of the port, or if there is no Local Marine Board, or if that Board is unable or unwilling to undertake them, by the Shipping Master, to whom the muster rolls and books will in that case be transferred.

23. Pensions are to be granted at the port at which the claimants reside, without reference to the question whether the claimants, or their husbands or fathers, have contributed at that port.

24. Claims for Pensions must be lodged with the President and Governors, or the Trustees, or with other the board or officers to whom the duty of inquiring into claims is committed.

The Shipping Master will, in all cases, inform claimants with whom to lodge their claims.

25. Claims must be made in printed forms, which will be furnished for the purpose by all Shipping Masters. These forms will contain directions as to the manner in which they are to be filled up and used.

26. The claims of a widow and her children must not be on the same form, but one form must be used for the widow and a separate one for each child.

27. Satisfactory evidence will be required of the various circumstances requisite to support claims; and for that purpose the following rules are to be observed :—

(a.) Contributions to the Fund prior to the 8th August 1851, having been universal and compulsory, will be considered as proved by the fact of service at sea in British vessels trading from ports in the United Kingdom. This service must be proved as follows :— If and so far as the service is stated to have been in vessels belonging to the port at which the claim is made, it must be verified by reference to the muster rolls there kept, and a statement of such verification must be made on the form of claim by the officer to whom the duty of examining claims is committed, and the claim must then be forwarded to the Registrar of Seamen. If this service is stated to have been partly or wholly in vessels belonging to other ports, the claim must be sent to the Registrar of Seamen for verification, who will either verify it by the records kept at his office, or will transmit it for verification to the port where the muster rolls in which such service is recorded are kept ; from that port it will be returned to the Registrar.

- (b.) Contributions to the Fund subsequent to the 8th August 1851, not being universal or compulsory, must be proved to have been actually made. This must be done as follows :—The Fund Register Ticket, upon which the receipt for each contribution will be marked, must when practicable be attached to the claim. The claim with this Fund Ticket attached will be sent to the Registrar of Seamen, who will verify it by the records of contributions kept in his office.
- (c.) Claimants should also annex to their claims all certificates of discharge or other documents they may possess which can assist in proving their service to be such as is stated in the claim, whether such service has been prior or subsequent to the 8th August 1851.
- (d.) Claims founded on permanent incapacity, arising from sickness, wounds, or accident, must be supported by a certificate, to be signed by two respectable inhabitants of the place and to be confirmed by one or more of the Trustees or local managers or officers acting at the port after personal inspection, and also by the certificate of a medical man.
- (e.) Claims founded on decrepitude or incapacity arising from age must be supported by the like evidence.
- (f.) In the case of claims by widows and children, the death of the husband or father, if happening in this country, must be proved by burial certificate.

In the like cases death, if happening during a voyage, and the cause thereof (if essential), will be shown, by reference to the muster rolls or to the lists kept by the Registrar of Seamen, or by a certificate from the Consul or other proper authority at the place where it happened.

- (g.) In the case of claims made by widows, the marriage must always be proved, and this must be done by the production of the marriage certificate. In such cases it must also be shown that the marriage was contracted at a period of the husband's life before he became entitled to a pension, or, in other words, before he was worn-out, decrepit, or incapable of service.
- (h.) In the cases of claims made by children, the marriage of their parents must be proved by the production of the marriage certificate; and their age must be shown to be under fourteen, by certificates of their birth or baptism.

- (i.) For the purpose of proving, in the case of children above fourteen, that they are incapable from infirmity of obtaining a livelihood, medical certificates must be produced, and for the continuance of the Pension, similar proof will from time to time be required.
- (k.) Evidence which has been produced to establish one claim need not again be produced to establish another founded on the same circumstances; but a reference may be made to the claim already established.

28. When a claim has been established to the satisfaction of the Trustees or Local Managers of the Fund by the production of the evidence above required, and has been verified so far as in their power by reference to the documents in their possession, it should be signed by them or by their officer, and forwarded with all the necessary certificates or other documents annexed, to the Registrar of Seamen, Custom House, London. That officer will complete the verification as pointed out in rule 27, sections a and b, and return it to the Trustees or Local Managers. If the Trustees or Local Managers consider that the Pension ought to be granted, the claim is then to be forwarded to the Board of Trade, with the resolution of the Trustees and other necessary documents attached; and the Board of Trade, if satisfied that it is established, will, subject to the Rules herein contained, place the name on the Pension List, cause a Pension Ticket to be issued to the Pensioner, and give directions for the payment of the Pension.

29. Notice of the arrangements made for the payment of pensions will be given at the Shipping Master's offices, as well as at the places where Pensions have hitherto been paid.

Suspension or Forfeiture of Pensions.

30. If a Pensioner goes to sea after having had a Pension granted to him, he is to report the same to the officer who pays his Pension, and his Pension is to cease, but he may apply to be restored to the Pension List in the usual manner should he again become disabled or be obliged to quit the service on account of age or infirmities. If, however, when he goes to sea he continues to receive his Pension, or if he fails to report his going to sea as above required his Pension will not be restored.

31. If a Pensioner enters the workhouse, his Pension is to be suspended.

32. If a widow re-marries, her Pension is to cease.

33. When children attain the age of fourteen, their Pensions are to cease, except in the special cases of infirmity above noticed.

34. If a Pensioner becomes a pauper lunatic, and is supported in a county asylum, his or her Pension is to be suspended.

35. If a Claimant or Pensioner is convicted of felony, or is guilty of an attempt at fraudulent personation, or makes any fraudulent representation for the purpose of obtaining relief, his or her Pension is to be forfeited.

36. If a Pensioner changes his residence, he must within one month report the change to the officer who pays his Pension ; and if he does not do so, his Pension is to be forfeited either in whole or in part.

34 CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND.

37. If any Pensioner is guilty of violent, insolent, or insubordinate conduct towards the persons employed in payment of the Pensions, or appears in a state of intoxication at the time of payment, or when assembled by order of the person appointed to pay him, or is guilty of giving a false address, or enters a poor house or hospital under a name different to that by which he is borne on the Pension List, or is guilty of any other offence of a fraudulent or disgraceful nature, or tending to create disorder or confusion at the time of payment or assembly, he will be liable to be punished by the suspension either of a part or the whole of his Pension as the offence may appear to deserve, in addition to any other punishment which the law may inflict for the offence.

NAVAL DEPARTMENT BOARD OF TRADE.

NOTE.—In addition to Rule 28, which directs the course to be pursued with reference to the application for Pensions, the Trustees or Local Managers of the Fund when a claim is established to their satisfaction, are to send with the application a descriptive return of the applicant to the Board of Trade on the form which has been provided in duplicate for this purpose.

With reference to the foregoing rules it is desirable, when Shipping Masters receive a deposit from a Master or Seaman desirous of continuing his contributions to the Fund, that they should, when practicable, require the party to procure his Fund Ticket, in order that the entry may be made thereon, and the number of the Ticket placed in the column headed "Number of Register Ticket," in Schedule 11.

As Foreigners are permitted to continue their contributions, a special certificate has been prepared which is to be furnished to such of them as are not naturalised, and therefore entitled to Mariner's Register Tickets —EDITOR.

NOTICE OF EXAMINATIONS OF MASTERS AND MATES.

ESTABLISHED IN PURSUANCE OF
THE MERCANTILE MARINE ACT, 1850;

AND OF
VOLUNTARY EXAMINATION IN STEAM.

Issued by authority of the Board of Trade.

No Foreign-going * vessel is permitted to clear out from any Custom-house in the United Kingdom, unless the masters and mates respectively are in possession of appropriate † Certificates, either of service or of competency.

The Certificate of Service entitles an officer, who has already served as either master or mate in the British Merchant Service before the 1st of January 1851, to go in those capacities again, and may be had by application to the Registrar-General of Seamen, Custom House, London, on the transmission to him of the necessary certificates and testimonials.

Certificates of Competency are granted by the Board of Trade to all masters and mates who have passed examinations, whether under the old or the present regulations, and also to all Officers who have passed Lieutenants', Masters', and Second Masters' examinations, in the Royal Navy and East India Company's service, unless special reasons to the contrary exist; and any person desirous of exchanging a passing Certificate obtained under the former Boards of Examiners for a Certificate of Competency, should send it to the Registrar-General, as before-mentioned, with a request to that effect, and state the Port to which he wishes it to be returned, where it will be delivered to him by the Collector of Customs.

All other Officers, entering for the first time upon their duties, whether as mate or master, will be required to undergo an examination before one of the Local Marine Boards before they can act in either of those capacities.

For this purpose, Examiners have been appointed under the Local Marine Boards, and arrangements have been made for holding the Examinations at Ports upon different days; and these days are so arranged for general convenience, that a candidate wishing to proceed to sea, and missing the day at his own Port, may proceed to another Port where an examination is coming forward. The Days for commencing the Examinations at the various Ports are given in pages 9 to 15, and for procuring the Examination papers from the Shipping Master, see page 24.

The Examinations required for qualification for the several ranks under-mentioned, are as follow:—

A SECOND MATE must be seventeen years of age, and must have been four years at sea.

In NAVIGATION.—He must write a legible hand, and understand the five first rules of arithmetic and the use of logarithms. He must be able to correct the courses steered for variation and lee-way, and find the difference of latitude and longitude therefrom ; be able to correct the sun's declination for longitude, and find his latitude by meridian altitude of the sun ; and work such other easy problems of a like nature, as may be put to him. He must understand the use of the sextant, and be able to observe with it, and read off the arc.

* By a Foreign-going vessel is meant one which is voyaging to some place out of the United Kingdom, beyond the limits included between the rivers Elbe and Brest.

† For appropriate Certificates, see page 16.

IN SEAMANSHIP.—He must give satisfactory answers as to the rigging and unrigging of ships, stowing of holds, &c. ; must understand the measurement of the log-line, glass, and lead-line ; be conversant with the rule of the road, as regards both steamers and sailing-vessels, and the lights carried by them.

AN ONLY MATE must be eighteen years of age, and have been four years at sea.

IN NAVIGATION.—In addition to the qualification required for a Second Mate, an only Mate must be able to work a day's work complete, including the bearings and distance of the port he is bound to, by Mercator's method. He must be able to observe and calculate the amplitude of the sun, and deduce the variation of the compass therefrom. He must know how to lay off the place of the ship on the chart, both by bearings of known objects, and by latitude and longitude. He must be able to use a sextant and determine its error, and adjust it, and find the time of high water from the known time at full and change.

IN SEAMANSHIP.—In addition to what is required by a Second Mate, he must know how to moor and unmoor, and to keep a clear anchor ; to carry out an anchor ; to stow a hold, and make the requisite entries in the ship's log.

A FIRST MATE must be nineteen years of age, and have served five years at sea, of which one year must have been as either Second or only Mate, or as both.*

IN NAVIGATION.—In addition to the qualification required for an only Mate, he must be able to observe azimuths and compute the variation ; to compare chronometers and keep their rates, and find the longitude by them from an observation by the sun ; to work the latitude by single altitude of the sun off the meridian ; and be able to use and adjust the sextant by the sun.

IN SEAMANSHIP.—In addition to the qualification necessary for an only Mate, a more extensive knowledge of seamanship will be required, as to shifting large spars, and sails, managing a ship in stormy weather, taking in and making sail, shifting yards and masts, &c., and getting cargo in and out ; and especially heavy spars and weights, anchors, &c. ; casting ship on a lee-shore ; and to secure the masts in the event of accident to the bowsprit.

A MASTER must be twenty-one years of age, and have been six years at sea, of which one year must have been as First or only Mate, and one year as Second Mate ; or two years as First and only Mate.*

In addition to the qualification for a First Mate, he must be able to find the latitude by a star, &c. He will be inquired of as to the nature of the attraction of the ship's iron upon the compass, and as to the method of determining it. He must possess a sufficient knowledge of what he is required to do by law ; as to entry and discharge, and the management of his crew ; as to penalties and entries to be made in the official log. He will be questioned as to his knowledge of invoices, charter-party, Lloyd's agent, and as to the nature of bottomry; and he must be acquainted with the leading lights of the channel he has been accustomed to navigate, or which he is going to use. In cases where an applicant for a certificate as master ordinary has only served in a fore and aft rigged vessel, and is ignorant of the management of a square rigged vessel, he may obtain a certificate on which the words "fore and aft rigged vessel" will be written. This is not, however, to apply to Mates, who, being younger men, are expected for the future to learn their business completely.

AN EXTRA MASTER'S EXAMINATION is intended for such persons as are desirous of obtaining command of ships and steamers of the first class. Before being examined for an Extra Master's Certificate an applicant must have passed one year either as a Master with an ordinary Certificate of Competency, or as a Master having a First Class Certificate granted by one of the former Boards of Examiners.

IN NAVIGATION.—As such vessels frequently make long voyages, to the East Indies, and the Pacific, &c., the candidate will be required to work a lunar observation by both sun and star, to determine the latitude by the moon and star, by Polar star off the meridian, and also by double altitude of the sun, and to verify the result by Sumner's method. He must be able to calculate the altitudes of the sun or star when they cannot be observed, for the purposes of lunars, also to find the error of a watch by the method of equal altitudes, to correct the altitudes observed with an artificial horizon.

He must understand how to observe and apply the deviation of the compass; and to deduce the set and rate of the current from the D.R. and observation. He will be required to explain the nature of great circle sailing, and know how to apply practically that knowledge, but he will not be required to go into the calculations. He must be acquainted with the law of storms, so far as to know how he may probably best escape those storms common to the East and West Indies, and known as hurricanes.

IN SEAMANSHIP.—The extra-Examination will consist of an inquiry into the competency of the party to heave a ship down, in case of accident befalling her abroad; of getting lower masts and other heavy weights in and out; how to construct rafts, and as to his resources for the preservation of the ship's crew in the event of wreck; and in such operations of a like nature as the Examiner may consider necessary.

The candidates will be allowed to work out the various problems according to the method and the tables they have been accustomed to use, and will be allowed five hours to perform the work; at the expiration of which, if they have not finished, they will be declared to have failed, unless the Local Marine Board see fit to extend the time.

Applicants for Examination are required to give their names to the Shipping Master, or to the Local Marine Board at the place where they intend to be examined, on or before the day of Examination, and to conform to the regulations in this respect which may be laid down by the Local Marine Board, and if this be not done, a delay will be occasioned.

The Examinations will commence early in the forenoon on the days before-mentioned, and be continued from day to day, until all the candidates whose names appeared upon the Shipping Master's list on the day of Examination are examined.

Testimonials of character, sobriety, and trustworthiness, will be required of all applicants, and without which no person will be examined; and as testimonials may have to be forwarded to the office of the Registrar-General of seamen in London for verification, before any Certificates can be granted, it is desirable that candidates should lodge them as early as possible. Upon application to the Shipping Master, candidates will be supplied with a Form, which they will be required to fill up and lodge with their testimonials in the hands of the Examiners.

The fee for Examination must be paid to the Shipping Master. If a candidate fail in his examination, half the fee he has paid will be returned to him by the Shipping Master on his producing a document which will be given him by the Examiner.

The following are the fees to be paid by applicants for Examination :—

Second Mate . . . . .	£1 0 0
First and only Mate, if previously possessing an inferior certificate . . . . .	0 10 0
If not . . . . .	1 0 0
Master, whether Extra or Ordinary . . . . .	2 0 0

Any one who has been one year in possession of a Master's first-class Certificate granted by one of the former Boards of Examiners, or of an Ordinary Master's Certificate of competency granted under the present Examiners, may pass an extra-Examination, and receive an extra-Certificate in exchange for his former one, without payment of any fee; but if he fails in his first Examination, he must pay half a Master's fee on his coming a second time; and the same sum for every subsequent attempt.

If the applicant passes, he will receive a document from the Examiner which will entitle him to receive his Certificate of Competency from the Shipping Master at the port to which he has directed it to be forwarded. If his testimonials have been sent to the Registrar to be verified, they will be returned with his Certificate.

If an applicant is examined for an higher rank and fails, but passes an Examination of a lower grade, he may receive a Certificate accordingly, but no part of the fee will be returned.

As the Examinations of Masters and Mates are made compulsory, the qualifications have been kept as low as possible; but it must be distinctly understood that it is the intention of the Board of Trade to raise the standard from time to time, whenever, as will no doubt be the case, the general attainments of officers in the Merchant Service shall render it possible to do so without inconvenience; and Officers are strongly urged to employ their leisure hours, when in port, in the acquirement of the knowledge necessary to enable them to pass their examinations; and Masters will do well to permit Apprentices and junior Officers to attend schools of instruction, and to afford them as much time for this purpose as possible.

Certificates of Competency are distinguished as follows, and signed by the Naval Members of the Board of Trade :—

Masters who have passed the extra-Examination, a Blue Seal.

All other Masters a Red Seal.

First Mate a Blue; Only Mate a Red; and Second Mate a Yellow Seal.

Certificates of Competency, whether of Masters or Mates, given in exchange for those who have passed the Examination under Regulations of the Board of Trade dated 19th August 1845, a Green Seal.

Certificates of Service, whether Masters or Mates, are issued to those who have served in such capacities prior to the first of January 1851, signed by the Registrar-General of Seamen, and these are to be obtained by transmitting to the General Register and Record Office, in London, a claim on a printed form, to be procured at any Custom House. Upon the claim being verified, the Certificate is transmitted to the Collector of Customs at any port desired.

EXAMINATIONS IN STEAM.

To come into operation on the 1st September, 1852.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for giving to those Masters or applicants for Masters' Certificates who desire to do so an opportunity of undergoing an Examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the Steam Engine. These examinations will be conducted under the superintendence of the Local Marine Boards, at such times as they may appoint for the purpose; and the Examiners will be selected by the Board of Trade, from the engineer surveyors appointed under the Steam Navigation Act. The Examination will not comprise intricate theoretical questions, but will be such as to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to control the working of the engine, and has such a knowledge of the ordinary parts of the machinery as will enable him to judge of the nature of an accident, and, in the absence of the engineer, to give the necessary directions in the engine room.* The practice will be as follows:—The applicant must deliver to the Shipping Master a statement in writing to the effect that he wishes to be examined in Steam. If he is about to pass a Master's examination in Navigation also, this statement must be on or annexed to the form E E; if he has a Master's Certificate of Competency, it must be delivered to the Shipping Master with his Certificate, so that due notice may be given to the Examiner, and so that the Board of Trade on receiving it may have the means of indorsing on his Certificate and recording the fact that he has passed in Steam. He must also, at the same time, pay a fee of 7s., which will be applied in remunerating the Examiners. Notice will be given of the time at which the applicant is to attend to be examined; and if he passes, the result of the Examination will be reported to the Board of Trade, and his Certificate of Competency will be issued or returned to him, as the case may be, with an indorsement as above mentioned, showing that he has passed in Steam. If he fails, no notice of the failure will be recorded on the Certificate, but no part of the fee will be returned.

CANCELLED REGISTER TICKETS.

THE Cancelled Tickets on the List consist of all those numbers outstanding, and ascertained not to be in the possession of the persons to whom they were issued. The list includes all Tickets lost by wreck, fire, or other unavoidable accidents, as well as those lost through negligence, and not returned to the Register Office.

From these causes, the number of Cancelled Tickets accumulates greatly between the half-yearly corrections, published in the London Gazette and exhibited at the Custom Houses of the United Kingdom. In order to facilitate reference, the numbers are placed serialim on the List, so that it can be readily ascertained if any cancelled number is there.

For example,—Supposing a seaman to present his Register Ticket, No. 6,261, to the master of a ship when signing articles. By looking over the List he will find it between 6,224 and 6,353, and should immediately impound the Ticket, and send it to the Custom House; or he is subject to a penalty for employing a man with a cancelled Ticket, and the seaman forfeits all his wages when working with one; besides being liable to punishment for having in his possession and not rendering up a Ticket that has not been legally issued to him.

Again, for example,—Suppose a Ticket bearing No. 9,220 is presented. On reference to the Cancelled List it should appear between the numbers 9,209 and 9,234, but not being there, it is not a cancelled Ticket.

LIST OF CANCELLED MARINERS' REGISTER TICKETS,

The distinguishing Numbers of which are hereby published under the Provisions of the 7th and 10th Sections of the Act of Victoria, cap. 112.

MASTERS OF VESSELS ARE CAUTIONED

Not to employ any person or persons presenting Mariners' Register Tickets bearing any of the Numbers herein set forth; and to render up the Register Tickets of Deserters, and others who do not proceed to sea in their vessels, to the Collectors and Comptrollers of Customs before quitting the port of departure. And all persons becoming possessed of any such Tickets, or of any Ticket other than that legally issued to or deposited with them, are required to transmit the same forthwith to the Registrar of Seamen, Custom House, London, under a

PENALTY OF £20.

BOARD OF TRADE, 8th July, 1851.

INSTRUCTIONS
TO SURVEYORS OF STEAM VESSELS ;

TOGETHER WITH

ABSTRACTS OF THE STEAM NAVIGATION ACT (14 & 15 VICT., CAP. 79)
AS TO THE DUTIES OF SURVEYORS,

AND THE

ADMIRALTY REGULATIONS AS TO LIGHTS TO BE CARRIED.

Duties of Surveyors.

What vessels to be survey- ed. Time when surveys are to be made.  Exception.	EVERY steam-vessel constructed or intended to carry passengers, (except vessels which are employed in carrying mails or despatches under contract with the Admiralty to or from places beyond the limits of the rivers Elbe and Brest) is to be surveyed twice at least in every year by a shipwright surveyor, and by an engineer surveyor appointed by the Board of Trade. These surveys are always, when practicable, to be made in the months of October and April, so that the declarations may be transmitted on or before the 30th day of April and the 30th day of October respectively. But in case the last survey may not have been made in either of those months, then such survey is to be made, and such declaration transmitted to the Board of Trade, in the course of the thirty days next before the expiration of the six months after the date of the last certificate. And in case any steam-vessel at the times when the surveys ought to be made should not be in the United Kingdom, or not be in a proper state for a survey, either from her being under repair, or from any other satisfactory reason, then the survey is to be made and the declaration transmitted as soon after as possible, with a statement of the reasons which have prevented the survey of such vessel being made at the time prescribed.
---	--

If any steam-vessel meets with an accident either in her hull or in her machinery, or if either hull or machinery undergo any repair or alteration, she is to be re-surveyed as soon as the alteration or defect is made good. And whenever surveys are made, the declarations of the efficiency of the hull and machinery are to be made to extend to a period of six months from the date of the survey, provided they appear to be good for that time, but if not, then for such a period and no more as in the opinion of the surveyor they are calculated to last in order. But when a survey of either the hull or machinery alone is made, the declaration is to be given for a period only which will make it expire when the existing certificate falls in, so that at the next examination both hull and machinery may be surveyed together, unless, indeed, the owner wishes to have a survey of both kinds, in which case the declaration is to be given for six months, or for a shorter period, if the state of the vessel require it. In the case first mentioned, of a single survey only, a reduced fee will be required, but in the last mentioned, a whole fee must be paid.

In cases of accident.

The declarations are to specify whether the vessel is adapted for Sea service, or for River and Lake service only; and if she be adapted for river or lake service only, the local limits within which such vessel is to ply is to be entered in the declaration.

Declarations what to set forth.

In the declarations made by the shipwright surveyors of river and lake vessels, there is to be inserted the number of passengers, deck and cabin, which each vessel is calculated to carry. In estimating these numbers the following rule is to be observed :—

Number of passengers to be stated in the declarations.

Rule.—Take the area of the deck, free of incumbrance of hatches, steam chest, companions, steerage-wheel, &c., and allow three square feet to each passenger.

Rule for calculating them.

In the certificate of the Irish steamers, the scale of passengers will be inserted by the Board of Trade; and in the declaration of other sea-going vessels, the shipwright surveyor is to state the number of square feet of clear space upon the upper deck that can be conveniently occupied by passengers.

Printed forms of declarations will be supplied by the Board of Trade, which the surveyors are to fill up, and deliver to the owner of the vessel or his agent, in order that they may be by them transmitted to the Board of Trade; and as the owners of steamers are liable to a penalty of ten shillings a day after fourteen days' delay in the transmission of the declarations to the Board of Trade, surveyors are to be careful that such declarations are duly delivered to the owners or their agents, and for the proof of which they will be held responsible.

Surveyors responsible for the due delivery of declaration to owners.

If these declarations are to the satisfaction of the Board of Trade, a certificate and a copy of it will be granted to the owner of the vessel,* and a further copy supplied to the surveyor, who is thereupon to see that the copy supplied to the owner, or some other one, in large and legible characters, is suspended in a conspicuous part of the vessel. And the surveyors are to take care that the suspended copies correspond with the certificates which have been furnished to them.

* The certificates will be forwarded to the shipping masters, to whom the owner or his agent at the port are to apply for them.

Surveyors' return of the capabilities of steamers.

The surveyors are to make returns to the Board of Trade, in forms which will be supplied for this purpose, of the build, dimensions, draft of water, burthen, rate of sailing, room for fuel, and the nature and particulars of the machinery of all steam-vessels capable of going to sea. In procuring this information, the surveyors will be assisted by the owners, or the master and the engineers of the vessels, but they are to be careful to avoid all such questions as may appear to be unnecessarily inquisitive, and they are to procure the information at proper and convenient times. In the making of these returns, one object is to obtain a competent knowledge of the efficiency of the steam-fleet of the country, in the event of any of such vessels being required by the Government. Consequently it is desirable to know what guns a vessel could carry according to her scantling, for use in action, and what number of troops, horses, or ammunition and stores each vessel could stow; and what number of days coal for consumption, at full power, each vessel could contain, and such like particulars.

Any useful information that cannot be placed in the headed columns is to be written in the remark column.

Returns when to be made.

These returns, when once obtained, are to be made in the month of April, in addition to the ordinary declarations.

Iron steamers to be surveyed by both surveyors.

When the hull of an iron steam-vessel has to be surveyed, the surveyors of both kinds (shipwright and engineer) are to make their inspection together, and the engineer surveyor is to sign the declaration conjointly with the shipwright surveyor.

Vessels to be provided with boats stated in the Act.

The shipwright surveyor is to take care that all steam-vessels are provided with the boats required by the Act, both as to number and cubic contents. Surveyors are not to insist upon the precise lengths and breadths and depths inserted in the table, but are to approve of any boats of sufficient strength, the cubic contents of which are equal to or greater than the cubic contents of the boats specified in the table; and to ascertain this, it will be sufficient to multiply the quantities into each other without reference to sectional areas.

Life-boats.

In the examination of the life-boats care is to be taken that the buoyancy applied is sufficient to support in the water the number of persons the boat is calculated to hold.

Life-buoys.

The life-buoys required by the Act are also to be examined by the shipwright surveyors, who are to recommend that they be always kept in a place of readiness.

Fire-hose.

The enactments with respect to boats and life-buoys do not apply to vessels having a certificate under the Passenger Act, 1849.

The hose required by the Act is to be of sufficient length to extinguish fire in every part of the vessel, and as it is to be worked by the engine, it will be the engineer surveyor's duty to inspect it.

The night signals of distress are to be carefully examined by the shipwright surveyors, to see that they are kept dry and in good order, and are protected from fire and accident, and that the cannon is in good condition and ready for use.* Signals of distress.

The engineer surveyor, in his examination of the machinery and boilers, is particularly to direct his attention to the safety valves, and, if he considers it necessary, he is to satisfy himself as to the pressure upon the boiler, from the weight upon the valve, and he is to see that the additional safety valve imposed by the Act is properly constructed, and is of the same dimensions as that of the ordinary valve, so that the intention of the Act be fully carried out. Safety valves.

The light boxes and lamps of steamers are to be carefully inspected by the shipwright surveyor, who is to notice whether they are in order, and the blinds so fixed as to blink the light in the manner required by the Admiralty regulations, for which see p. 262, and that the lenses are so placed that the light will show in the required directions. Lights.

A certificate to the effect that the compasses of all sea-going steamers have been examined and adjusted by competent persons is to be required of the master or owner, and is to be carefully examined by the shipwright surveyor, who is to satisfy himself as to the proficiency of the person whose signature is attached to the certificate, so as, in the words of the Act, Sect. III. "to be satisfied that the compasses have been properly examined and adjusted," more especially in iron steam-vessels; and either the certificate, or a copy of it, with the name of the party giving the certificate, is to be sent with the surveyor's return to the Board of Trade. Compasses.

All iron steam-vessels (except those specially exempted in the Act) are to be divided into three water-tight compartments, by bulkheads before and abaft the engine-room; and the surveyors (engineer and shipwright together) are to report that these bulkheads are of sufficient strength for the purpose contemplated by the Act. Water-tight bulkheads in iron steamers.

In the placing of these bulkheads, mistake has often been made in fixing them too close to the engine-room, by which either the forward or after compartment is left so capacious that either filling with water will carry the vessel down. The surveyors cannot alter such as are fixed, but they are to notice such in their reports to the Board, or any other peculiarity which may appear to be necessary.

Surveyors hearing of accidents on board steam-vessels are to proceed on board, and inspect the vessel, and, if necessary, the machinery and boilers, and report the case without delay to the Board of Trade; taking care, however, not to cause any alteration of the articles on board which would be at all likely to affect any legal evidence, should an inquiry into the case afterwards be necessary. Accidents to be reported.

* For the various articles required by the Act, see Sect. xxii. and xxiii. at the end of these Instructions.

dered necessary; and in cases of accident or damage sustained or caused by steam-vessels, the surveyors, if required so to do, are to hold an investigation under the 31st and 32nd section of the Act.

Surveyors may go on board at all reasonable times for the purpose of inspection.

The surveyors may go on board any steam-vessel, at all reasonable times, for the purpose of inspection, either of the vessel, the machinery, the boats, or other equipments rendered necessary by the Act, and the owners, masters, and engineers of steam-vessels are required by the Act to give to the surveyors, on being requested so to do, all such information and assistance within their power as may be required for the purpose of the returns required by the Act. But in the performance of this part of their duty, the surveyors are to be careful to avoid impeding the duty of the vessel, or giving offence to any of the officers on board the vessel. But if they should be hindered or vexatiously obstructed by any person in the performance of their duties, they are to communicate the same without delay to the Board of Trade, as such persons render themselves liable to a penalty of 5*l*. (Sect. xviii.) And in making their periodical surveys, or surveys of any kind, they are to take convenient opportunities for so doing, so far as can be done consistently with the periods named in the Act; and with respect to the examination of the bottom of the vessel outside, they are to take the opportunity of making it at times when the vessel is lying upon the ground, or in dock, or on the slip, which may always be done, considering that unless a vessel meet with an accident, one such inspection in each year will be sufficient.

To take the opportunity of the vessel being on the ground examine her bottom.

If necessary, a surveyor may order a vessel to be docked.

If, in consequence of any accident to a steam-vessel, or for any other reason, the surveyor considers it necessary so to do, he may require the vessel to go into dock for the purpose of surveying the hull thereof; but the surveyors are to be cautious so as never to exercise this power unless the circumstances are such as really to require it.

Examination of officers commanding steam vessels, in steam.

The masters of all sea-going steamers, who so desire the means of undergoing an examination as to their general knowledge of the machinery of steam-vessels, the engineer surveyor appointed for this purpose,* on receiving a notice from the Local Marine Board of the port at which he resides, is to attend at the time required, and put the applicant through such a course of examination as will satisfy the examiner that he is competent to control the working of the engine, and is conversant with the ordinary parts of the machinery, so as to be able to judge of the nature of any accident that may occur, and, in the absence of the engineer, if necessary, to give the requisite directions in the engine-room.

A list of the vessels to be surveyed by each surveyor will be forwarded to him, and each person is, as far as can be done, to confine his inspections to the vessels appropriated to him; but if any surveyor be applied to by any owner, master, or agent to survey any vessel in the port not appropriated, he is to do so; and at any time when called upon in cases of emergency, and to prevent inconvenience to owners, he is to make any survey that may be required of him.

As the names of all the steam-vessels frequenting certain ports are not at present known, the surveyors are to make a list of all such vessels as frequent their port, and which it would be convenient to have surveyed there, and transmit it to the Board of Trade.

Every surveyor who demands or receives, directly or indirectly, from the owner or master of any vessel surveyed by him under the provisions of this Act, any fee or remuneration whatever for or in respect of such survey otherwise than as the agent and by the direction of the Board of Trade, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 50*l.* at the suit of any person whatsoever. Surveyors taking fees from owners or agents liable to a penalty of 50*l.*

The fees for the certificates will be paid to the shipping masters by the owners or their agents at the time of the delivery of the certificate.

Every person who knowingly and wilfully makes or assists in making a false or fraudulent declaration or certificate with respect to any vessel requiring a certificate under this Act, or who knowingly and wilfully forges, counterfeits, or fraudulently alters or assists in forging, counterfeiting, or altering, any declaration of certificate required by this Act, or any words or figures in any such declarations or certificates, or the signatures thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, or shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding 50*l.*, or on imprisonment, with or without hard labour, not exceeding one month. Penalty for making a false declaration.
Penalty for forging, altering, or making a false declaration or certificate.

ABSTRACT OF SUCH PARTS OF THE STEAM NAVIGATION ACT (14 & 15 VICT. CAP. 79.), AS RELATE TO THE DUTIES OF SURVEYORS.

Survey of Steam-Vessels and Number of Passengers.

Steam-vessels to be surveyed, and owners to transmit declarations to Board of Trade twice a-year.

SECTION III.—The owner of every steam-vessel constructed or intended to carry passengers (except vessels which fall within the definition of foreign-going ships contained in the Mercantile Marine Act, 1850, and are employed in the conveyance of the royal public mails or despatches under contract with and under the superintendence of the Lord High Admiral or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral), shall cause such steam-vessel to be surveyed twice at least in every year, at the times hereinafter directed, by a shipwright surveyor and by an engineer surveyor appointed for the purposes of this Act by the Lords of the said Committee, such shipwright surveyor in the case of an iron steam-vessel being a person properly qualified to survey iron steam-vessels, and shall obtain a declaration of the sufficiency and good condition of the hull of such steamer, and of the boats and other equipments thereof, required by this Act, and also, if the Lords of the said Committee so require, a statement of the number of passengers (whether deck passengers or other passengers) which such vessel is constructed to carry, under the hand of such shipwright surveyor, and a declaration of the sufficiency and good condition of the machinery of such steamer under the hand of such engineer surveyor, and in such declarations it shall be distinguished whether such vessel is in construction and equipments adapted for sea service as well as for river or lake service, or for river or lake service only; and when any such vessel is adapted for lake and river service only, such declaration shall state the local limits within which such vessel is in the judgment of the surveyor adapted for plying; and in the case of sea-going vessels the declaration of one of the surveyors shall contain a statement that he is satisfied that the compasses have been properly examined and adjusted; and such owner shall transmit such declarations to the Lords of the said Committee within fourteen days after the dates thereof respectively.

Times appointed for the Surveys.

SECTION IV.—In all cases where the same may be possible, such surveys shall be made in the months of April and October, and such declarations shall be transmitted on or before the thirtieth day of April and the thirty-first day of October respectively, or if the last preceding survey of any such steam-vessel were not made in either of those months, then such survey shall be made and such declaration transmitted in the course of the thirty days next before the expiration of six months next after the date of the certificate granted as hereinafter mentioned upon the last preceding survey; but if the owner of any such steam-vessel as aforesaid be unable to have the same surveyed in the month of April or October, as the case may be, or in the course of such thirty days as aforesaid, either by reason of such vessel being absent from the United Kingdom during the whole of those periods respectively, or by reason of such vessel or the machinery thereof being under construction or repair, or of such vessel being laid up in dock, or for any other reason satisfactory to the Lords of the said Committee, then the owner of such steam-vessel shall have the same surveyed as aforesaid as soon thereafter as possible, and shall transmit such declarations to the Lords of the said Committee, within fourteen days after the date thereof, together with a statement of the reasons which have prevented the survey of such vessel at the time hereinbefore prescribed; and the owner of every such steam-vessel in respect of which such declarations shall not have been transmitted at the times and in the manner hereinbefore directed shall, except in any case in which the survey of such vessel shall have been prevented as hereinbefore is provided, forfeit and pay the sum of ten shillings for every day that the sending of such declarations is delayed, and such sum shall be paid upon the issue of the certificate hereinafter mentioned, together with the fee hereinafter mentioned, unless the Lords of the said Committee think fit in any case to remit such forfeiture or any part thereof.

Certificates.

SECTION V.—Upon the receipt of such declarations the Lords of the said Committee shall register the same, and, if they are satisfied that the provisions of this Act have been complied with, shall cause to be transmitted to the master or owner of the steam-vessel to which such declarations refer, a certificate, signed by one of the Secretaries to the said Committee, or by some one or more of the Members of the Naval Department of the Board of Trade, or the Secretary to such department, that the provisions of the law with respect to the transmission of declarations in respect of such vessel have been complied with; and such certificate shall be called a “sea-going certificate” where, according to the declaration of the surveyor, such vessel is adapted for sea service as well as river or lake service; and such certificate shall be called a “river certificate” where, according to such declaration, such vessel is adapted for river or lake service only, and shall set out the local limits within which such vessel is to ply; and where any such vessel is constructed to carry passengers, and the Lords of the said Committee think fit so to do, in order to prevent the overcrowding of such vessel with passengers, they shall insert in such certificate the number of passengers, whether deck passengers or other passengers, which such vessel is constructed to carry; and the Lords of the said Committee shall from time to time transmit lists of the vessels in respect of which such certificates have been issued to the officers of customs in all ports in the United Kingdom, and such officers shall cause such lists to be put up in a conspicuous place in the custom-house at each port.

Board of Trade to grant certificates, and transmit lists, to be put up at custom-houses.

Board of Trade may cancel certificates, and
declarations.

SECTION VI.—The Lords of the said Committee may revoke and cancel such certificates in any case where they have reason to believe that the declarations of the sufficiency and good condition of the hull and machinery of any vessel, or either of them, have been fraudulently or erroneously made, or that such certificate has otherwise been issued upon false or erroneous information, or where they have reason to believe that since the making of such declarations the hull or machinery of such vessel has sustained any injury, or is otherwise insufficient; and in every such case the Lords of the said Committee may, if they think fit, require the owner to have the hull or machinery of such vessel again surveyed, and to transmit a further declaration or declarations of the sufficiency and good condition thereof before re-issuing any certificate, or granting a fresh one in lieu thereof; and the Lords of the said Committee may at any time revoke any certificate, for the purpose of inserting in any certificate to be issued in lieu thereof the number of passengers which the vessel to which such certificate relates is constructed to carry.

How long
force.

SECTION VII.—No certificate bearing date on any day between the first of April and the fifteenth of May in any year shall be held to be in force, for the purposes of this Act, after the fifteenth day of November following, and no certificate bearing date on any day between the first of October and the fifteenth of November following shall be held to be in force for the purposes of this Act after the fifteenth day of May following, and no certificate bearing date on any day not falling within the periods before defined shall be held to be in force after the expiration of six months from the date thereof, and no certificate shall be in force after notice to the owner or master of the vessel to which the same relates by the Lords of the said Committee that they have revoked the same: Provided always, that if any steam-vessel shall have been absent from the United Kingdom for the whole of the month of April or the whole of the month of October in any year, or the whole of the thirty days next before the expiration of six months from the date of the certificate last granted in respect of such vessel, the certificate previously granted to such vessel (if not expressly cancelled or revoked) shall continue in force till the return of such vessel to the United Kingdom, and for twenty-one days afterwards.

Proviso.

Fees to be
tificates.

SECTION VIII.—The owner of every steam-vessel requiring certificate under this Act shall pay for every certificate granted by the Lords of the said Committee such sum as the Lords of the said Committee appoint, not exceeding the sums following; that is to say,

Where the tonnage of such vessel does not exceed one hundred tons, a sum not exceeding 2*l*.

Where such tonnage exceeds one hundred tons and does not exceed three hundred tons, a sum not exceeding 3*l*.

Where such tonnage exceeds three hundred tons, a sum not exceeding 4*l*.

And such fees, as well as such forfeitures as hereinbefore mentioned, shall be paid to the Lords of the said Committee, or as they may direct, and shall be applied towards defraying the expenses incurred in execution of this Act; and the Lords of the Committee may regulate the manner in which such fees and forfeitures are to be received, and in which they are to be kept, and in which they are to be accounted for.

Application of fees and forfeitures.

SECTION IX.—Every person who knowingly and wilfully makes or assists in making a false or fraudulent declaration or certificate with respect to any vessel requiring a certificate under this Act, or who knowingly and wilfully forges, counterfeits, or fraudulently alters, or assists in forging, counterfeiting, or fraudulently altering, any declaration or certificate required by this Act, or any words or figures in any such declaration or certificate, or the signature thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, or shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty not exceeding 50*l.*, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, not exceeding one month.

Forgery of declaration or certificate to be a misdemeanor, or subject person convicted summarily to fine or imprisonment.

SECTION X.—The owner or master of every steam-vessel shall forthwith on receipt of any such certificate as aforesaid by him or his agent from the Lords of the said Committee, cause the same, or a true copy thereof, in distinct and legible characters, to be put up in some conspicuous part of the vessel, so as to be visible to all persons on board the same, and shall cause it to be continued so put up so long as such certificate remains in force and such vessel is in use, and in default such owner, or if he can prove the default to have been caused by the master, such master, shall for every offence be liable to a forfeiture or penalty not exceeding 10*l.*

Copy of certificate to be placed in conspicuous part of vessel.

SECTION XI.—It shall not be lawful for any steam-vessel (other than any such mail-packet aforesaid) to proceed to sea or upon any voyage or excursion with any passengers on board, the owner of which has not transmitted to the Lords of the said Committee the declarations hereinbefore required, and the owner or master of which has not received from them a certificate that the provisions of the law in that respect have been complied with as hereinbefore provided for, such certificate being a certificate applicable to the voyage or excursion on which such vessel is proceeding; and no officer of Her Majesty's Customs shall clear out any steam-vessel (other than any such mail-packet as aforesaid) for sea or for any voyage or excursion, with passengers on board, or grant to the owner or master thereof any transire or other Customs document necessary for the conduct thereof, unless upon the production of such certificate as aforesaid (being a certificate then in force); and if the owner or master of any steam-vessel (other than any such mail-packet as aforesaid) proceed to sea or on any voyage or excursion, with any passengers on board, without having such certificate as aforesaid, or a true copy thereof in distinct and legible characters on board, and so put up as aforesaid in some conspicuous part of the vessel, (such certificate being a certificate then in force,)

Vessel not to proceed on her voyage without certificate.

No Officer of the Customs to clear out, &c., any steam-vessels but upon production of certificate.

Penalty on owners and masters of vessels proceeding without certificate.

the owner thereof shall for such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding 100*l.*, and the master of such vessel shall also be liable to a further penalty not exceeding 20*l.*

Penalty on owner, &c., for carrying more passengers than specified in certificate.

SECTION XII.—If in any such certificate the number of passengers which the vessel to which such certificate relates is constructed to carry is stated, it shall not be lawful to carry on board thereof any greater number of passengers, whether deck passengers or other passengers, than the numbers thereof respectively stated in such certificate; and if the owner or master or other person in charge of any such vessel receive on board thereof, or if such vessel shall at any time have on board, any greater number of passengers, whether deck passengers or other passengers, than the numbers thereof respectively specified in such certificate, the owner or the master, or other person having charge thereof, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding 20*l.*, and shall also forfeit five shillings for every passenger over and above the number so specified in the certificate as aforesaid.

Surveyors.

Power for Board of Trade to appoint and remove surveyors, &c., and fix rates of remuneration.

SECTION XVI.—The Lords of the said Committee may from time to time appoint such number of fit and proper persons to be shipwright surveyors and engineer surveyors for the purposes of this Act, at such ports or places as they think proper, and may from time to time remove such surveyors or any of them, and they may from time to time fix, alter, or vary the rates of remuneration to be received by such Surveyors.

Surveyors to make returns of the build, &c., of vessels, and owners, &c., to give information for that purpose.

SECTION XVII.—The said surveyors shall make such returns from time to time to the Lords of the said Committee with respect to the build, dimensions, draft, burden, rate of sailing, room for fuel, and the nature and particulars of machinery of the vessels surveyed by them, as shall be required by the lords of the said Committee; and every owner, master, and engineer of any such vessel shall, on demand, give to such surveyors all such information and assistance within his power as may be required by them for the purpose of such returns; and every such owner, master, and engineer who, on being applied to for that purpose, wilfully refuses or neglects to give such information or assistance, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 5*l.*

Surveyors to act under direction of the Board of Trade; to be allowed to go on board steam-vessels to inspect, &c.

SECTION XVIII.—The said surveyors shall execute their duties under the direction of the lords of the said Committee; and in the execution of such duties it shall be lawful for them to go on board any steam vessel at all reasonable times, and to inspect the same or any part thereof, or any of the machinery, boats, equipments, or articles on board thereof to which the provisions of this Act or any of the regulations to be made by virtue thereof apply, not unnecessarily detaining or delaying the vessel from proceeding on any voyage, and, if in consequence of any accident to any such vessel, or for any other reason they consider it necessary so to do, to require the vessel to be taken into dock for the purpose of surveying the hull thereof; and any person who hinders any such surveyor from going on board any such steam-vessel, or otherwise impedes him in the execution of his duty under this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 5*l*.

SECTION XIX.—Every such surveyor who demands or receives, directly or indirectly, from the owner or master of any vessel surveyed by him under the provisions of this Act, any fee or remuneration whatsoever for or in respect of such survey, otherwise than as the agent, and by the direction of the lords of the said Committee, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 50*l*. at the suit of any person whomsoever.

Penalty on surveyors demanding or receiving fees unlawfully.

Build of Iron Steamers.

SECTION XX.—That the owner of every steam-vessel built of iron, of one hundred tons burthen or upwards, the building of which shall have been commenced since the twenty-eighth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and the owner of every steam-vessel built of iron, of less burthen than one hundred tons, the building of which shall have commenced after the passing of this Act, except vessels used solely as steam-tugs, shall cause the same to be divided by transverse water-tight partitions, so that the fore-part of the vessel shall be separated from the engine-room by one of such partitions, and so that the after-part of such vessel shall be separated from the engine-room by another of such partitions; and it shall not be lawful for the officers of Her Majesty's Customs or for any other person, to grant a Certificate of British registry to, or to clear out or grant a transire to, or allow to proceed to sea, any iron steamer of one hundred tons burthen or upwards, built since the said twenty-eighth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, or to any iron steamer of less burthen than one hundred tons, built after the passing of this Act, except as aforesaid, unless the same be so divided as aforesaid; and if any steamer hereinbefore required to be so divided proceeds to sea without being so divided, the owner shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 100*l*.

Iron steamers to be divided by water tight partitions.

Officers of Customs not to grant certificates, except so divided.

Penalty on owner for neglect.

Safety Valves.

SECTION XXI.—After the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two it shall not be lawful for any steam-boat, of which surveys are required by the provisions of this Act, to go to sea, or to steam upon the rivers of the United Kingdom, without having a safety valve upon each boiler, free from the care of the engineer, and out of his control and interference; and such safety valve shall be deemed to be a necessary part of the machinery, upon the sufficiency of which the engineer surveyor is to report as herein provided.

Steam-vessels to carry safety-valves out of control of engineer, and to be deemed a necessary part of machinery.

Boats, &c. in Sea-going Vessels.

Sea-going vessels to be provided with the number of boats and of the dimensions herein mentioned.

SECTION XXII.—No decked vessel, except vessels used solely as steam-tugs, shall proceed to sea from any port or place in the United Kingdom whatsoever, unless it shall be provided, according to its tonnage, with boats duly supplied with all requisites for their use, and not being fewer in number nor less in their cubic contents than the boats the number and cubic contents of which are specified in the following table; provided that the said limits of dimension be not considered applicable to vessels engaged in the whale fishery:—

NOTE.—In the case of Steam Vessels, Two paddle-box boats may be substituted for any Two of the Boats in Column III.

And no such vessel carrying more than ten passengers, shall proceed to sea unless, in addition to the boats hereinbefore required, it also be provided with a life-boat furnished with all requisites for use, or unless one of its boats hereinbefore required be rendered buoyant after the manner of lifeboats; and no such vessel shall proceed to sea with passengers as aforesaid, unless it also be provided with two life-buoys, to be kept ready for immediate use: provided, that the enactments with respect to boats and life-buoys herein contained shall not apply in any case in which a certificate has been duly obtained under the ninth section of the Passengers Act, 1849.

SECTION XXIII.—No steam-vessel, except vessels used solely as steam-tugs, shall proceed to sea unless it shall be provided with a hose adapted for the purpose of extinguishing fire in any part of the vessel, and capable of being connected with the engines of the vessel; nor, if carrying passengers, without being provided with the following means of making signals of distress, that is to say, twelve blue-lights or twelve port-fires, and one cannon, with ammunition for at least twelve charges; or, in the discretion of the master or owner of such vessel, with such other means of making signals as shall have been previously approved by the Lords of the said Committee.

SECTION XXIV.—If any such steam or other vessel as aforesaid proceed to sea without being provided with such boats and other equipments as hereinbefore required for such vessel, or if any of such boats or other equipments be lost or rendered useless in the course of the voyage through the wilful fault or negligence of the owner or master, or if in case of any of such boats or life-buoys being accidentally lost or injured in the course of the voyage, the master or other person having charge of the vessel, wilfully neglect to replace or repair the same on the first convenient opportunity, then and in every case where the owner shall appear to be in fault, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 100*l.*; and in every case where the master or other person having charge of the vessel, shall appear to be in fault, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 50*l.*

SECTION XXV.—It shall not be lawful for any officer of customs to clear out, or to grant a transire to, or allow to proceed to sea, any such steam or other vessel as aforesaid, unless the same is provided with such boats and other equipments as hereinbefore required for such vessel; and in any case in which any vessel is delayed by reason of non-compliance with any of the provisions hereinbefore contained, the tide-waiter left on board shall be maintained at the expense of the master or owner of such vessel until such provisions are complied with.

Lights, and Provisions against Accidents from Collision.

SECTION XXVI.—The Lord High Admiral, or the commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral, shall from time to time make regulations requiring the exhibition of such Enactments with respect to boats and life-buoys in Sect. 9, of 12 and 13 Vict. c. 33, not to be affected.

No steamer to proceed to sea without being provided with a hose and signals.

Penalties on masters, &c. neglecting to provide boats, equipments, &c.

Officers of Customs not to clear out vessels not complying with the above provisions.

Admiralty to make regulations as to lights.

Penalty on owners and masters failing to obey them.

Existing regulations to continue in force till revoked.

Accidents to be reported to Board of Trade.

Notice to be given of apprehended loss of steam-vessels.

lights by such classes of vessels, whether steam or sailing vessels, within such places and under such circumstances as they think fit, and may from time to time revoke, alter, or vary the same, and they shall cause such regulations to be published in the London Gazette, and to be otherwise publicly made known, and such regulations shall come into operation on a day to be named in such Gazette, and they shall cause such regulations to be printed, and shall furnish a copy thereof to any owner or master of a vessel who applies for the same, and production of the Gazette containing such regulations shall be sufficient evidence of the purport and due making thereof; and all owners and masters, or persons having charge of vessels, shall be bound to take notice of the same, and shall, so long as the same continue in force, exhibit such lights, and no others, at such times, within such places, in such manner and under such circumstances as are enjoined by such regulations; and in case of default, the master, or other person having charge of any vessel, or the owner of such vessel, if it appear that he was in fault, shall for each and every occasion upon which such regulations are infringed, forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding 20*l*. : provided always, that all regulations made by the said Lord High Admiral, or commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral, under the authority of the said recited acts or either of them, and in force at the passing of this Act, together with the penalties applicable thereto, shall continue and be in force as if the same had been made under this Act, until the same be revoked.

SECTION XXIX.—Whenever any steam-vessel (other than a ship of war) has sustained or caused any accident occasioning loss of life or any serious injury to any person, or has received any material damage affecting her seaworthiness or efficiency either in her hull or in any part of her machinery, the owner, master, or other person having the charge of such vessel shall, within twenty-four hours after the happening of such accident or damage, or as soon thereafter as possible, transmit through the Post Office to the Lords of the said Committee, by letter signed by such master or other person, a report of such accident or damage, and the probable occasion thereof, stating the name of the vessel, the port to which she belongs, and the place where she is; and if such master or other person neglect so to do, he shall for such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding 50*l*.

SECTION XXX.—If the owner of any steam-vessel have reason, owing to the nonappearance of such vessel, or to any other circumstance, to apprehend that such vessel has been wholly lost, he shall, as soon as conveniently may be, send notice thereof in like manner to the Lords of the said Committee, and if he neglect so to do within a reasonable time, he shall for such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding 50*l*.

Inspection of Steam-Vessels.

SECTION XXXI.—The Lords of the said Committee may from time to time, whenever it seems expedient to them so to order, appoint any of the surveyors to be appointed by them as aforesaid, or any other fit person, as an inspector, to go on board any ship or vessel, to report to them whether the provisions of this Act, or the regulations made under or by virtue of this Act, have been complied with, and also whether the hull and machinery of such vessel, if the same be a steam-vessel, are sufficient and in good condition, or to report to them upon the nature and causes of any accident or damage which such vessel has sustained or caused, or is said to have sustained or caused.

Board of Trade may send Inspectors on board vessels whenever necessary.

SECTION XXXII.—It shall be lawful for any such inspector as aforesaid, and also for any person being a member of the said Naval Department of the Board of Trade, to go on board any steam-vessel at all reasonable times, and to inspect the same or any part thereof, or any of the machinery, boats, equipments, or articles on board thereof, to which the provisions of this Act, or any of the regulations to be made by virtue thereof, apply, not unnecessarily detaining or delaying the vessel from proceeding on any voyage; and in all cases of accident or damage such inspector or other person may make such inquiries, and receive answers or returns thereto, as to the nature, circumstances, and causes of such accident or damage, as he thinks fit, and may, by summons under his hand, require the attendance of all persons whom he thinks fit to call before him upon any question or matter connected therewith or relating thereto, and may administer oaths, and examine such persons upon oath, and may require and enforce the production upon oath of all log-books, accounts, agreements, or other papers or writings in anywise relating to any such matter as aforesaid, or in lieu of requiring and administering an oath may require any person to make and subscribe a declaration of the truth of the matters respecting which he has been examined or interrogated: Provided always, that no person shall be required, in obedience to any summons from such inspector or other person, to travel more than ten miles from his actual abode at the time of receiving such summons, unless such reasonable allowance for expenses in respect of his attendance to give evidence, and of his journeys to and from the place where he may be required to attend for that purpose, be made and tendered to him as would be allowed to any witness attending on subpoena to give evidence before any of Her Majesty's Courts at Westminster; and in case of any dispute as to the amount of such expenses, the same shall be referred by such inspector, or other person, to one of the masters of Her Majesty's Court of Queen's Bench, and such master shall, on a request made to him for that purpose under the hand of such inspector or other person, ascertain and certify the proper amount of such expenses.

Powers of Inspectors.

Proviso for expenses of witnesses.

Penalty for obstructing Inspectors.

SECTION XXXIII.—If any person wilfully impede such inspector or other person in the execution of any part of his duty, whether on board any ship or vessel or elsewhere, every person so offending, and all persons aiding and assisting therein, may be seized and detained by such inspector or other person, or by any persons called by him to his assistance, until such offender can be conveniently taken before some Justice of the Peace or other officer having proper jurisdiction; and every such offender, and also every person who refuses to attend as a witness before any such inspector or other person, when required so to do, in the manner hereby directed, or who refuses or neglects to make any answer, or to give any return, or to produce any document in his possession, or to make or subscribe any declarations which such inspector or other person is hereby empowered to require as aforesaid, shall for each offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding 5*l*.

Proof of issue and transmission of certificates.

SECTION XXXVIII.—All certificates purporting to be issued in pursuance of this Act by the Lords of the said Committee, and to be signed as hereinbefore required, shall be taken to have been so issued and signed, unless the contrary is proved; and every document purporting to be an office copy of any such certificate as aforesaid, and to be signed in the manner hereinbefore required for the signature of such certificate, shall be received in evidence, and shall be deemed to be a true copy of the original of which it purports to be a copy, and in proving the transmission of any such certificate from the Lords of the said Committee to the master or owner of any steam-vessel, it shall be sufficient to prove that the same was duly received by some officer of Customs or other public servant, and was by him delivered to or left at the place of abode or business of such master or owner, or delivered to any person in charge or appearing to be in charge of the vessel to which the same relates.

Miscellaneous.

Not to affect 12 & 13 Vict. c. 33.

SECTION XLVII.—Nothing in this Act contained shall be taken to repeal or alter any of the provisions of the "Passengers' Act, 1849."

Not to extend to ships of war or foreign vessels.

SECTION XLVIII.—Nothing in this Act contained shall apply to any ship belonging to Her Majesty, nor to any vessel not being a British vessel or a vessel owned wholly or in part by British subjects, nor to any steam ferry-boat working in chains, commonly called a steam floating bridge.

Copy of this Act, &c. to be kept on board.

SECTION L.—The master of every steam-vessel to which this Act applies shall provide himself with a copy thereof, and also of all regulations made by virtue of this Act by the Lord High Admiral or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral, with respect to the exhibition of lights, and shall at all times keep the same on board his vessel, and in case he refuse or neglect to do so shall be subject to a penalty not exceeding 5*l*.

Penalty for neglect.

SECTION LI.—This Act shall come into operation on the Thirty-first of December after the passing thereof, and may be cited as “The Steam Navigation Act, 1851.”

By the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council appointed for the consideration of all matters relating to Trade and Foreign Plantations.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, WHITEHALL, August 1, 1849.

ORDERED, That

The rules for carrying deck passengers in steam-vessels between Great Britain and Ireland be as follows :

1. The number of deck passengers to be carried by a paddle steamer, having no cargo on deck, shall be one passenger to every ton of the builder's tonnage.
2. The number to be carried by a paddle steamer, having cargo on deck, but none of it stowed abaft the paddle shaft, shall be one passenger to every registered ton.
3. The number to be carried when cargo (not live animals or poultry) is stowed abaft the paddle shaft shall be three passengers to every two square yards of clear space abaft the paddle shaft.
4. The number to be carried when live animals or poultry are stowed abaft the paddle shaft, shall be fixed with reference to the arrangement of the vessel and cargo, so as to provide, as nearly as possible, two square yards for every three passengers in a part of the vessel separate from the cattle and live stock.
5. Screw steamers, in which the deck passengers are allowed to go below, and are accommodated with space in the lower deck for one half their numbers, or on which the bulwarks are raised, and a spar deck constructed so as to afford protection to the passengers on deck, shall be licensed to carry the same number of passengers in each case as paddle steamers.
6. Screw steamers, on which these provisions are not made, shall be licensed to carry only one passenger to every four tons of the register tonnage.
7. The proportion of passengers to be carried in the months of November, December, January, February, and March, shall be two-thirds the number allowed in the other months.

N.B. The fractional parts of 2-10ths of a penny, that arise every day in the calculating of the wages, in the 3d, 5th, and 7th columns, are rejected in the several additions in compiling these columns, when under 6-10ths of a penny; but from 6-10ths to 9-10ths of a penny, inclusive, they are reckoned as one penny.

ADMIRALTY NOTICE

RESPECTING

LIGHTS TO BE CARRIED BY SEA-GOING VESSELS TO PREVENT COLLISION.

By the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c.

By virtue of the power and authority vested in us by the Act 14 and 15 Victoria, cap. 79, dated 7th August, 1851, we hereby require and direct that the following Regulations be strictly observed :—

STEAM-VESSELS.

All British sea-going steam-vessels (whether propelled by paddles or screws), shall within all seas, gulfs, channels, straits, bays, creeks, roads, roadsteads, harbours, havens, ports, and rivers, and under all circumstances, between sunset and sunrise, exhibit lights of such description and in such manner as is hereinafter mentioned, viz.—

WHEN UNDER STEAM.

1. Bright white light at the foremast head.
2. Green light on the starboard side.
3. Red light on the port side.

1. The mast-head light is to be visible at a distance of at least five miles in a dark night, with a clear atmosphere; and the lantern is to be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of twenty points of the compass, being ten points on each side of the ship—viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side.

2. The green light on the starboard side is to be visible at a distance of at least two miles in a dark night, with a clear atmosphere; and the lantern is to be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of ten points of the compass—viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side.

3. The red light on the port side is likewise to be fitted so as to throw its light the same distance on that side.

4. The side lights are moreover to be fitted with screens on the inboard side of at least three feet long, to prevent the lights from being seen across the bow.

WHEN AT ANCHOR.

A common bright light.

SAILING VESSELS.

We hereby require that all sailing vessels when under sail or being towed, approaching or being approached by any other vessel, shall be bound to show between sunset and sunrise a bright light in such a position as can be best seen by such vessel or vessels, and in sufficient time to avoid collision.

All sailing vessels at anchor in roadsteads or fairways shall be also bound to exhibit between sunset and sunrise a constant bright light at the mast-head, except within harbours or other places where regulations for other lights for ships are legally established.

The lantern to be used when at anchor, both by steam-vessels and sailing vessels, is to be so constructed as to show a clear good light all round the horizon.

We hereby revoke all regulations heretofore made by us relating to steam-vessels exhibiting or carrying lights; and we require that the preceding regulations be strictly carried into effect, on and after the 1st of August, 1852.

Given under our hands the 1st day of May, 1852,

By command of their Lordships,

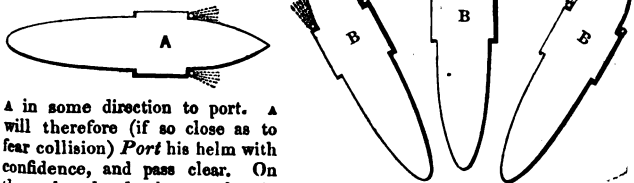

W. A. B. HAMILTON.

HYDE PARKER,

P. HORNBY.

Diagrams intended to illustrate the Working of this Mode of Fitting Lights.

1st Situation.—In this situation the steamer A will only see the red light of the vessel B in whichever of the three positions the latter may happen to be, because the green light will be hid from view. A will be assured that the port side of B is towards him, and that the latter is therefore crossing the bows of

A in some direction to port. A will therefore (if so close as to fear collision) Port his helm with confidence, and pass clear. On the other hand, the vessel B, in either of the three positions, will see the red, green, and mast-head lights of A appear in a triangular form, by which the former will know that a steamer is approaching directly towards him. B will act accordingly.

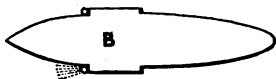

It is scarcely necessary to remark that the mast-head light will always be visible in every situation till abaft the beam.

2nd Situation.—Here A will see B's green light only, which will clearly indicate to the former that B is crossing to starboard.

Again, A's three lights being visible to B will apprise the latter that a steamer is steering directly towards him.

3rd Situation.—A and B will see each other's red light only. The screens preventing the green lights from being seen. Both vessels are evidently passing to port.

4th Situation.—Here a green light only will be visible to each; the screens preventing the red lights from being seen. They are therefore passing to starboard.

5th Situation.—Here the two coloured lights, visible to each, will indicate their direct approach towards each other. In this situation both should put their helms to port.

Directions for Fitting the Lights.

The manner of fixing the coloured lights is to be particularly attended to. They should be fitted, each, with a screen of wood, on the inboard side, in order to prevent both being seen at the same moment from any direction but that of right a-head.

This is important, for without the screens (a principle first introduced with this plan) any plan of bow-lights would be ineffective as a means of indicating the direction of steering.

This will be readily understood by a reference to the preceding illustrations, where it will appear evident, that in any situation in which two vessels may approach each other in the dark, the coloured lights will instantly indicate to both the relative course of each,—that is, each will know whether the other is approaching directly or crossing the bows either to starboard or to port. This intimation is all that is required to enable vessels to pass each other in the darkest night with almost equal safety as in broad day, and for the want of which so many lamentable accidents have occurred.

It is left to all persons concerned to furnish themselves with whatever description of lantern they may see fit to adopt, provided always that the above conditions are fully and effectually carried out.

By command of their Lordships,

W. A. B. HAMILTON.

NOTE.—The system of night lights laid down in the above Regulations has been adopted in her Majesty's Service, and by the governments of the principal foreign maritime nations.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament made and passed in the sixth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to regulate the payment of salaries and allowances to British Consuls at Foreign Ports, and the disbursements at such ports for certain publick purposes," it is amongst other things enacted "that it shall and may be lawful for all Consuls-General and Consuls appointed by His Majesty, and resident within the dominions of any Sovereign or any Foreign State or Power in amity with His Majesty to accept, take, and receive the several fees particularly mentioned in the tables to this said Act annexed, for and in respect or on account of the several matters and things and official acts and deeds particularly mentioned in the said schedules; and that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, by any order or orders to be by him made, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time, as occasion may require, to increase or diminish or wholly to abolish all or any of the fees aforesaid, and to establish and authorise the payment of any greater or smaller or new or additional fees or fee, for or in respect of the several matters and things mentioned in the said schedules or any of them, or for or in respect of any other matters or things or matter or thing to be by any such Consul-General or Consul done or performed in the execution of such his office."

And whereas such Consuls-General and Consuls have under the provisions of the said Act, levied fees on certificates as to the shipment and discharge and desertion of British seamen at Foreign Ports :

And whereas it is expedient to alter the said fees: Now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act, and in execution of the powers in Her Majesty in Council in that behalf vested, it is hereby ordered by Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, that whenever a British Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul shall be called upon by masters of merchant ships to give his sanction in writing as to the shipment or discharge of a seaman, or his certificate as to the desertion of a seaman, it shall be lawful for such Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul to demand, recover, and receive from all masters or other chief officers or commanders of any ship or vessel belonging to any of Her Majesty's subjects, the sum of Two SHILLINGS for each seaman whose shipment or discharge shall have been so sanctioned, or whose desertion shall have been so certified; and that it shall not be lawful for such Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul to levy a larger fee for this service.

And the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

WM. L. BATHURST.

MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND.

Notice to Masters and Seamen.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament passed this 8th day of August, 1851, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts relating to the Merchant Seamen's Fund, and to provide for winding up the said Fund, and for the better Management thereof in the meantime," it is, amongst other things, enacted as follows :—

Section 20. "After the passing of this Act no Master or Seaman shall be compelled to pay any Duty or Contribution to the Fund; but any Duties which have become due to the Fund, and have been deducted from Wages before the passing of this Act, shall be paid to the Board of Trade, or in such manner as it directs; and any Master or Owner who neglects or refuses to make such Payment shall, in addition to such Payment, be liable to a Penalty of twice the Amount which he so neglects or refuses to pay."

Section 21. "No Master or Seaman who has not contributed to the Fund before the passing of this Act shall be allowed to contribute thereto, or to establish any Claim for a Pension or other Relief for himself or for his Wife or Children."

Section 22. "All Masters and Seamen who before the passing of this Act have contributed to the Fund, shall be allowed to continue to contribute thereto in manner hereinafter mentioned, and shall in respect of their Contributions be entitled to Relief in the Manner and subject to the Conditions hereinafter mentioned."

Section 23. "The Board of Trade shall fix the Time at which the Contributions to be made after the passing of this Act are to commence, and shall give not less than One Month's Notice thereof by advertising the same in the London Gazette; but such Time shall not be later than the First Day of January, One thousand eight hundred and fifty-two."

Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of the Provisions of this Act, Masters and Seamen will, after this 8th Day of August, 1851, no longer be compelled to pay any Contributions whatever to the Merchant Seamen's Fund.

Due Notice will be given of the Time at which the voluntary Contributions referred to in the Twenty-second Section of the Act, above quoted, are to commence, and of the manner in which they are to be paid.

BOARD OF TRADE, 8th August, 1851.

N.B.—This Notice is to be posted in the Shipping Offices, and to be otherwise distributed and made public.

TO OWNERS AND MASTERS OF STEAM VESSELS AND SAILING VESSELS.

Notice is hereby Given,

That after the 31st day of December next, 1851, the Steam Navigation Act, 14 & 15 Victoria, cap. 79, will come into operation, except as regards the additional Safety Valve, which will not be in force until after the 1st day of March, 1852; and the attention of Owners and Masters of all Vessels is directed to the following Provisions of that Act :

Survey of Steam Vessels.

S. III. to S. VIII. All Steam Vessels, except such as are employed in carrying Mails under Contract with the Admiralty to and from places beyond the River Elbe and Brest, must be surveyed twice a year. These surveys will be conducted by Shipwright-surveyors and Engineer-surveyors, appointed for the purpose by the Board of Trade under the New Act, and by no other persons. The Surveyors are to satisfy themselves as to the sufficiency of the Hull and Machinery; and that the Boats and other Equipments are such as are required by the Act; and also, in seagoing Vessels, that the Compasses have been properly adjusted. When the surveys have been made the Declarations must be forwarded by the Owners or their Agents to the Board of Trade within 14 days from the dates thereof, under a Penalty of 10s. for every Day's delay. Certificates of sufficiency will then be sent to the Masters or Owners through the Shipping Master of the Port. For these Certificates Fees must be paid, according to the following scale :—

For Vessels not exceeding 100 Registered Tons . . .	2l.
„ exceeding 100 and not exceeding 300 . . .	3
„ exceeding 300 . . . . .	4

Certificates, if dated between the 1st of April and the 15th May, will not be in force beyond the following 15th November, and if dated between the 1st of October and the 15th November, will not be in force beyond the following 15th May, and if dated at any other time, will not be in force more than Six Months from the date.

The Certificate or a legible Copy must be put up on board, so as to be visible to Passengers, under a Penalty of 10l.

Officers of Customs will not clear or grant Transire to Steamers without the production of the above Certificates, and if a Steamer proceeds to Sea or on any Excursion without a Certificate, the Owner will be liable to a Penalty of 100l., and the Master to a Penalty of 10l.

If the Certificate contains the number of Passengers to be carried, the Master will, if he takes more, be liable to a Penalty of 20l. and 5s. additional for every Passenger above the number.

Build of Iron Steamers.

S. XX.

The Owner of every Steam Vessel built of Iron, of one hundred Tons Burthen or upwards, the building of which has been commenced since the 28th of August, 1846, and the Owner of every Steam Vessel built of Iron of less Burthen than One hundred Tons, the building of which commences after the 7th of August, 1851, except Vessels used solely as Steam Tugs, must cause the same to be divided by transverse Water-tight Partitions, so that the Fore Part of the Vessel shall be separated from the Engine Room by One of such Partitions, and so that the After Part of such Vessel shall be separated from the Engine Room by another of such Partitions; and Officers of Customs are not to grant a Certificate of British Registry to, or to clear out or grant a Transire to, or allow to proceed to Sea, any Iron Steamer of One hundred Tons Burthen or upwards built since the said 28th of August, 1846, or to any Iron Steamer of less Burthen than One hundred Tons built after the 7th August, 1851, except as aforesaid, unless the same be so divided as aforesaid; and if any Steamer required to be so divided proceed to Sea without being so divided, the Owner will be liable to a Penalty not exceeding 100*l*.

Iron steamers to be divided by water-tight partitions.

Officers of Customs not to grant Certificates, except so divided.

Penalty on owner for neglect.

Safety Valves.

S. XXI.

After the 31st of March, 1852, it shall not be lawful for any Steam Boat, of which Surveys are required by the Provisions of the Act, to go to Sea, or to steam upon the Rivers of the United Kingdom, without having a Safety Valve upon each Boiler, free from the Care of the Engineer, and out of his Control and Interference; and such Safety Valve shall be deemed to be a necessary Part of the Machinery upon the sufficiency of which the Engineer Surveyor is to report as provided by the Act.

Steam-vessels to carry safety valves out of control of engineer.

Boats, &c., in Sea-going Vessels, as well Sailing Vessels as Steamers.

S. XXII.

No decked Vessel, except Vessels used solely as Steam Tugs, is to proceed to Sea from any Port or Place in the United Kingdom whatsoever, unless it is provided, according to its Tonnage, with Boats duly supplied with all Requisites for their Use, and not being fewer in Number nor less in their Cubic Contents than the Boats the Number and Cubic Contents of which are specified in the following Table; provided that the said Limits of Dimension be not considered applicable to Vessels engaged in the Whale Fishery.*

Sea-going vessels to be provided with the number of boats, and of the dimensions herein mentioned.

And no such Vessel carrying more than Ten Passengers is to proceed to Sea unless, in addition to the Boats required as above, it also be provided with a Life Boat furnished with all Requisites for Use, or unless One of its Boats required above be rendered buoyant after the manner of Life Boats; and no such Vessel shall

Enactments with respect to boats and life-buoys in Sect. 9 of 12 & 13 Vict. c. 33, not to be affected.

S. XXIII.

No steamer to proceed to sea without being provided with a hose, and signals.

S. XXIV.

Penalties on Masters, &c., neglecting to provide boats, equipments, &c.

proceed to Sea with Passengers as aforesaid unless it also be provided with Two Life Buoys, to be kept ready for immediate use : Provided, that the above Enactments with respect to Boats and Life Buoys are not to apply in any case in which a Certificate has been duly obtained under the Ninth Section of the Passengers' Act, 1849.

No Steam Vessel, except Vessels used solely as Steam Tugs, is to proceed to Sea unless provided with a Hose adapted for the purpose of extinguishing Fire in any part of the Vessel and capable of being connected with the Engines of the Vessel, nor, if carrying Passengers, without being provided with the following means of making Signals of Distress, that is to say, Twelve Blue Lights, or Twelve Port-fires, and One Cannon, with Ammunition for at least Twelve Charges, or, in the Discretion of the Master or Owner of such Vessels, with such other means of making Signals as have been previously approved by the Board of Trade.

If any such Steam or other Vessel as aforesaid proceed to Sea without being provided with such Boats and other Equipments as hereinbefore required for such Vessel, or if any of such Boats or other Equipments be lost or rendered useless in the course of the Voyage through the wilful Fault or Negligence of the Owner or Master, or if in case of any such Boats or Life Buoys being accidentally lost or injured in the course of the Voyage, the Master of other Person having charge, of the Vessel wilfully neglect to replace or repair the same on the first convenient opportunity, then if the Owner appears to be in fault he will be liable to a Penalty not exceeding 100*l.*, and if the Master appears to be in fault, he will be liable to a Penalty not exceeding 50*l.*

Provisions against Accidents from Collision, for Sailing Vessels as well as Steamers.

S. XXVII.

Rules to be observed by vessels passing each other.

Whenever any Vessel proceeding in One Direction meets a Vessel proceeding in another Direction, and the Master or other Person having charge of either such Vessel perceives that if both Vessels continue their respective Courses they will pass so near as to involve any Risk of a Collision, he is to put the helm of his Vessel to Port, so as to pass on the Port Side of the other Vessel, due regard being had to the Tide and to the Position of each Vessel with respect to the Dangers of the Channel, and, as regards Sailing Vessels, to the keeping of each Vessel under Command; and the Master of any Steam Vessel navigating any River or narrow Channel is to keep as far as is practicable to that Side of the Fairway or Mid-channel thereof which lies on the Starboard side of such Vessel; and if the Master neglect to observe these Regulations or either of them, he will for every such Offence be liable to a Penalty not exceeding 50*l.*

S. XXVIII.

Owners not entitled to compensation in certain cases of

If in any Case of a Collision between Two or more Vessels it appear that such Collision was occasioned by the Non-observance either of the foregoing Rules with respect to the passing of Steamers, the Owner of the Vessel by which any such Rule has been infringed shall not be entitled to recover any recompense whatsoever for any Damage sustained by such Vessel in such Collision, unless it appears to the Court before which the Case is tried that the Circumstances of the Case were such as to justify a Departure from the Rule; and in case any Damage to Person or Property be sustained in consequence of the Non-observance of either of the said Rules, the same is in all Courts of Justice to be deemed, in the Absence of Proof to the contrary, to have been occasioned by the wilful Default of the Master or other Person having the Charge of such Vessel, and such Master or other Person will, unless it appears to the Court before which the Case is tried that the Circumstances of the Case were such as to justify a Departure from the Rule, be subject in all Proceedings, whether Civil or Criminal, to the legal consequences of such Default.

collision, but master to be liable to penalty.

S. XXIX.

Whenever any Steam Vessel has sustained or caused any Accident occasioning Loss of Life or any serious Injury to any Person, or has received any material Damage affecting her Seaworthiness or Efficiency either in her Hull or in any part of her Machinery, the Owner, Master, or other Person having the Charge of such Vessel must, within Twenty-four Hours after the happening of such Accident or Damage or as soon thereafter as possible, transmit through the Post Office to the Board of Trade, by Letter signed by such Master or other Person, a Report of such Accident or Damage and the probable Occasion thereof, stating the Name of the Vessel, the Port to which she belongs, and the Place where she is; and if such Master or other Person neglect so to do, he will for such Offence be liable to a Penalty not exceeding 50*l*.

Accidents to be reported to Board of Trade.

If the Owner of any Steam Vessel have Reason, owing to the Non-appearance of such Vessel, or to any other Circumstance, to apprehend that such Vessel has been wholly lost, he must as soon as conveniently may be send Notice thereof in like Manner to the Board of Trade, and if he neglect so to do within a reasonable Time he will for such Offence be liable to a Penalty not exceeding 50*l*.

S. XXX.
Notice to be given of apprehended loss of steam-vessels.

S. L.

The Master of every Steam Vessel must provide himself with a Copy of the Act, and also with a Copy of the Regulations as to the Exhibition of Lights issued by the Admiralty, and must keep the same on board his Vessel, under a Penalty of 5*l*.

Masters to have a copy of the Act.

To prevent inconvenience and misunderstanding respecting the above Table of Boats to be carried to sea by Steamers and sailing Vessels,

Notice is hereby Given,

That any Boat, the cubic contents of which are equal to the cubic contents of a particular Boat in the Table, may be substituted for it, provided the Length, Breadth, and Depth of the one multiplied into each other, without regard to sectional areas, are equal to the Length, Breadth, and Depth of the other similarly multiplied.

The Regulations as to the Exhibition of Lights for Steamers, already issued by the Admiralty under the former Act, will remain in force until further notice.

BOATS.

Instructions for the Guidance of Shipwright Surveyors, regarding the Boats to be carried by Sailing Vessels and Steam Vessels, as required by the 22nd Section of the Steam Navigation Act.

1.—With regard to Sailing Vessels :—

Sailing Vessels of 150 tons burden or under, which, by reason of their carrying deck cargoes, or from other causes, such as their size, or the insufficiency of hands on board, are unable to carry the Boats specified in the Act, may be provided with such one efficient and substantial Boat as would carry the crew in case of necessity.

In Colliers, and other Sailing Vessels, of 150 to 200 tons burden, (which are often deeply laden,) a “Dingey” of any description, in good and substantial condition, may be substituted for the Boat mentioned in column 1 of the table.

The above relaxations, however, should not apply to vessels carrying passengers, which ought to have the number of Boats specified in the Act.

When any Sailing Vessel is provided with Boats of the number specified in the Act, and containing together the aggregate number of cubic feet required by the Act, these Boats will be sufficient, notwithstanding that each individual boat is not of the specified size.

If, however, the Boats are in number what the Act requires, but are deficient in size, the requisite amount of cubical contents must not be made up by adding another Boat.

2.—With regard to Steam Vessels :—

If the smaller number of Boats required by the Act is carried, one of them must be of the capacity named in column 2 of the table, or larger.

If the larger number of Boats is carried, the cubic contents (equal in their aggregate to the cubic contents required by the Act) may be spread in any way over the whole number of Boats.

3.—With regard to Sailing Vessels and Steam Vessels :—

The measurement of the Boats should be taken outside for length and breadth, and inside for depth, measuring from the top of the wash strake.

NOTICE TO MASTERS.

Wages and Effects of Deceased Seamen.

Every Master of a Vessel is bound to take charge of the Money and Effects of a Seaman or Apprentice dying on Board or during the Voyage, and as soon as convenient to cause any perishable or saleable effects which he has on board to be sold by Auction at the Mast or other Public Auction ; and to make an entry at the time of such Sale in the Official Log Book, whenever such book is required to be kept, stating the date, the Articles sold, and the Sum received for each, such entry to be attested by a Mate or one of the Crew. The Moneys so received and taken charge of, together with any effects that may remain unsold, and the balance of Wages due to the deceased, must be delivered by the Master, in the case of a Foreign Going Ship, to the Shipping Master when he attends before that Officer to discharge his Crew ; and in the case of a Home Trade Ship, upon his first subsequent delivery of Half-yearly Returns to a Shipping Master. Any Master who makes Default is liable, in addition to the above payments, to a Penalty not exceeding twice the Amount unaccounted for, or not exceeding 50l.

Every Master is bound under like penalties to deliver an Account to the Shipping Master of such Effects, Money, and Wages, and for this purpose the Shipping Master will deliver to the Master a Form of Account which must be fully and correctly filled up.

PLAN FOR CONDUCTING VOLUNTARY EXAMINATIONS IN STEAM, WITH INSTRUCTIONS FOR CARRYING THE SAME INTO EFFECT.

The appointment of Engineer Surveyors under the Steam Navigation Act, 1851, having afforded the means of instituting the Examinations on Steam which were adverted to in paper No. 1., circulated among the Local Marine Boards in 1850, arrangements have been made with the concurrence of the Local Marine Boards, for enabling persons either in command or expecting to be placed in command of sea-going steamers to be so examined if they desire it.

The following is a statement of the plan proposed for this purpose, and of the practice for carrying it into effect.

The examination will be viva voce. It will extend to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of the steam-engine, and the applicant must show that he has a sufficient knowledge of the ordinary parts of the machinery, as will enable him to judge of the nature of an accident, and in the absence of the engineer, to give the necessary directions in the engine room. In order to guide the Engineer-Surveyor as to the extent of knowledge which the Board of Trade think it desirable that applicants should possess, the following set of questions have been drawn up and should in substance be adhered to. To these may be added any questions of a similarly easy and practical character which the Examiner may think desirable; but it is to be distinctly understood that all intricate theoretical questions on the expansion and elastic force of steam, on calculations of horse power, on areas of cylinders, valves, or in short any of the more difficult questions which appertain to the steam-engines and boilers, may be avoided, and that the examination may in fact be confined to what a master of a steam-vessel may be called upon to perform in cases of the death or delinquency of the engineer.

If the applicant should fail to answer some few of the under-mentioned questions, and yet, in the opinion of the Examiner, possess such a competent knowledge of the parts of the engine generally, and such other practical knowledge of the subject, as will enable him to effect the object in view, he may in such a case exercise his discretion as to whether a sufficiently high standard of knowledge has been attained, and pass him or not accordingly.

QUESTIONS

TO BE ANSWERED BY COMMANDERS OF STEAM VESSELS UNDER EXAMINATION IN THE PRACTICAL USE OF THE STEAM ENGINE.

Explain the nature and use of the principal valves and cocks connected with the boilers and engines, commencing with the boilers.

Boiler Valves and Cocks.

Safety valves.
Reverse or atmospheric valves.
Communication or stop valves.
Feed valves.
Kingston valves.
Blow-off cocks.
Communication cocks.
The water-gauge cocks.
The glass water gauge.
Steam gauge.
Hand-pump for boilers.

Engine Valves and Cocks. .

Throttle valves.
The slide valves.
The expansion valves.
The escape valves on top and bottom of cylinder.
The blow-through valve.
The foot valve.
The delivering valve.
The air-pump bucket valves.
The injection valves and cocks.
Bilge-pump valves and cocks.
Stop or sluice valves to discharge pipes.
Jacket cocks.
The sniffing valves.

Boilers.

1. If the safety valves were set fast, how would you relieve the pressure on the boilers, if steam was up and could not make its escape?
2. How do you ascertain the saltness of the water in the boilers?
3. How would you manage to change the water in the boilers, if the blow-off cocks were set fast?
4. On examining the boilers, and they are found to be thin, what measures would you adopt to prevent accidents?
5. How would you keep the boiler free from salt and incrustation?
6. Is it requisite to have a hand-pump fitted to the boilers; if so, for what purpose.
7. Explain the use of the gauge-glasses and gauge-cocks, fitted on the boilers.
8. If the mercury was blown out of the steam-gauge by the pressure of steam in the boilers, what would you apprehend was the cause?
9. What would you do to relieve the pressure of the boilers?
10. How would you regulate the height or quantity of water in the boilers?
11. When the steam is up, how is the feed applied to the boilers?
12. When it is not up, what is necessary to be done before the fires are lighted?
13. When the engines are stopped, what precautions are necessary with regard to the water in the boiler?
14. What is meant by a boiler priming?
15. How would you prevent it doing so?
16. If the water in a boiler is suffered to get too low what may be the consequences?
17. What height should the water stand in a common boiler above the flues.
18. What height should the water stand in a tubular boiler above the tubes?
19. If any of the tubes were damaged by the fire or leaky, what would you do, supposing you could not shift them?
20. How do you detect the pressure of steam in a boiler?
21. If the water in a boiler is suffered to get too high, what might be the consequences?
22. How would you know when the water in the boiler requires changing?
23. Explain the use of the thermometer and hydrometer?

Engines.

24. Explain the use of the cylinders.
25. Explain the use of the air pump.
26. Explain the use of the condenser.
27. Explain the use of the eduction pipe.
28. Explain the use of the hot-water cistern.
29. Explain the use of the piston, and how fitted.
30. Explain the use of the stuffing-box and glands.
31. Explain the use of the parallel-motion rods.
32. Explain the use of the excentric, and how fitted.

33. Explain the use of the starting-lever.
34. Explain the use of the barometer.
35. Explain the use of the steam-gauge.
36. The vessel is alongside the wharf, proceed to get the steam up.
37. When the steam is up, how is it applied to the engines to set it in motion ?
38. What precaution is necessary before the engine is set in motion ?
39. How do you start the engine ?
40. Is it necessary to move the engines by hand a turn or two before starting ?
41. The engines being started, regulate the injection-cocks so as to keep them going at full or reduced speed.
42. What is the use of the injection ?
43. How is the vacuum maintained in a condensing engine ?
44. How do you know when there is too much injection ?
45. How do you know when there is not enough injection ?
46. If the injection was not shut off when the engines are stopped, what would happen ?
47. If the condenser reject the injection, what would you do ?
48. Would it be advantageous if an injection-pipe was fitted so as to take injection from the bilge, if required ?
49. If water should get into the cylinder, what might be the consequence ?
50. In running free with a heavy sea, and a jump upon the engines, what precautions would you take to endeavour to prevent damage to the engines ?
51. If one engine was damaged, what would you do in order to proceed ?
52. If the excentric should break, could the engines still be worked ?
53. If a bearing becomes heated, what would you do ?
54. How would you slow an engine ?
55. How would you stop an engine ?
56. Wherein does a high-pressure differ from a low-pressure engine ?
57. How do you admit tallow into the cylinders, when the engines are at work, for the purpose of lubricating the pistons ?
58. What is meant by working the engines expansively ?
59. How would you disconnect the engines if there was no disconnecting gear fitted.
60. What is meant by throwing the engines out of gear ?
61. Why have two feed-pumps fitted, say one to each engine ?
62. Is it requisite to have branch-pipes fitted to the feed-pumps ; if so, for what purpose ?

The Engineer Examiner should provide drawings and working sections, on a sufficiently large scale, of the various parts of the steam-engine, and of the valves and slides, &c., as may be necessary, and should require the applicant to make use of them in giving his answers to the various questions put to him ; and if an opportunity offer the applicant should be permitted, under the guidance of the Engineer, to start and stop an engine of some vessel which may have her steam up.

The practice will be as follows :—

The Examination will be conducted, in connexion with the other Examinations, in the premises and under the superintendence of the Local Marine Board, who will fix the time at which, and most convenient to all parties, it is to be held in such a way as may be most consistent with their ordinary business. The persons who may be examined in Steam are those who possess certificates of competency as masters, or who are applying for them. Any such person desiring to be so examined must hand in to the Shipping Master a statement in writing to that effect. If he is already possessed of a master's certificate of competency, he must deliver this statement with his certificate to the Shipping Master, at such time as the Local Marine Board may appoint for the purpose. If he has no certificate of competency, but is applying to be examined for one, he must make the statement above mentioned upon or annex it to the form E E. He must also, at the same time, pay a fee of 7s., which is to be entered by the Shipping Master in Schedule I.; and this entry must always be made so as to appear distinct from the fee (if any) paid by the applicant for an ordinary examination, and should be noted as being paid for an examination in Steam. No part of this fee of 7s. will be returned in case of failure.

A A

The Shipping Master will inform the applicant of the time and place at which he is to attend to be examined, and the examination will then and there proceed in the same manner as the other visd voce examinations, according to the plan above laid down. The Examiner in Steam should then enter the result upon Form F F., in the column headed Remarks, and should sign the entry so made. If the applicant fails, and has given in his certificate, it may be at once returned to him. If he passes, his certificate (if any) is to be sent with the Form F F. to the Board of Trade. In the case of men who pass, the words "Passed in Steam," with the date and place of the examination, will be entered on the certificate and counterpart, and recorded, and the certificate will then be sent down to the Shipping Master, and delivered to the applicant in the usual manner.

The remuneration to be paid to the Engineer Examiners for their trouble cannot be definitively settled until some experience is obtained of the number of persons examined and of the manner in which the examinations are conducted; but steps will be taken to settle this point at an early period. The Board of Trade will also consider the necessary expense of preparing the drawings and plans above referred to, which the Examiners are to submit before they incur any outlay. The fees to be paid as above mentioned will be applied towards payment of the above remuneration and expenses, and the remainder, if any, will be paid out of funds in the hands of this Board.

It will be observed the Examinations in Steam are confined at present to Masters. Should they be found to succeed they may hereafter be extended to Mates.

The above system of examination will commence with the beginning of the month of September, 1852.

LIGHTS IN SEA REACH, RIVER THAMES.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
30th September, 1851.

The permanent Light Houses which have been in course of erection in Sea Reach, being now completed,

Notice is hereby Given,

that the lights, both at the Chapman Head, and at the Mucking Stations, are now exhibited in those structures, and the temporary Lights discontinued.

CHAPMAN HEAD.

The Light at this Station burns at an elevation of 40 feet above the Level of High Water Spring Tides, and is of the usual or natural colour—except, that upon the Line of Bearing of the East River Middle Buoy, viz., S. E. by E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. from the Light House—it is coloured Red, which colour extends to the Northward to the Light House, on Southend Pier, in the direction E. by S.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S.

MUCKING.

The Light at this Station burns at an elevation of 40 feet above the level of High Water Spring Tides, and is of the usual or natural colour, except in the following directions, in which the Light is coloured Red, viz. :—

- 1st.—In the direction E. by S.  $\frac{3}{4}$  S. which clears the Scars and Chapman Head.
- 2nd.—On the Line of Bearing S. W. by W. from the Light House, in which direction it strikes the Spit of the Oven's Shoal, a short distance outside the 9 feet mark of Low Water Spring Tides.
- 3rd.—On the Line of Bearing S.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. from the Light House, a narrow strip of Red Light is shown for the purpose of marking the direct Line of Bearing of the West Blyth Beacon.

NOTE.—The above-mentioned Bearings are Magnetic.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

BUNT HEAD, IN THE GULL STREAM.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,

28th October, 1851.

Notice is hereby Given,

That the Bunt Head having extended itself further to the South Westward, the Buoy at that Station has been shifted about two cables length in that direction, and now lies in 4 Fathoms at low water; with the following Marks and Compass Bearings : viz.—

St. George's Church, Ramsgate, in line with the East Pier Head . . . . .	N. $\frac{1}{4}$ E.
Waldershare Tower on with the Spire of a New Chapel at Deal . . . . .
Gull Stream Light Vessel . . . . .	N. E. by N.
South Brake Buoy . . . . .	N. W. $\frac{3}{4}$ W.

N.B.—Mariners are desired to observe that the above further extension of the Bunt Head renders the navigable Channel very narrow.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

YARMOUTH ROADS.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
30th October, 1851.

The Spit on the inside of the Corton Sand having shifted from the Middle Corton Buoy about a quarter of a mile to the Northward, with only 3 Fathoms Water on it at Low Water,—

Notice is hereby Given,

That the positions of the Middle Corton and West Corton Buoys, have been altered as hereunder stated, viz :—

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
6th January, 1852.

Notice is hereby Given,

That this Corporation having issued directions to the Masters and Mates of their several Light Vessels to the following effect, viz. :—

In the event of any Light Vessel being driven from her Station, the Master or Mate, whichever be in charge, is carefully to consider whether she has driven to such a distance, or in such a direction, as to make it dangerous to Shipping to continue to show her Lights, and if the distance or direction be not such as to endanger the safety of Vessels running on their course, the Lights and Balls are to be continued in the usual manner.

But should the Light Vessel have driven so as to be of no use as a Guide to Shipping, the usual Lights and Balls are, in that case, to be discontinued, and two Red Lights substituted, one at the end of the Davit forward, the other on a Stanchion beside the Ensign Staff; and a Red Flare Light shown every quarter of an hour during the night.

And further,

When vessels are observed from a Light Vessel to be in distress, or to require assistance :—

If in the Day Time, Two Guns are to be fired on board such Light Vessel, each at an interval of five minutes, and repeated every half hour until assistance be observed approaching.

If in the Night Time, Two Guns are to be fired on board such Light Vessel, at similar intervals, each followed by a White Rocket thrown in the direction of the Vessel in distress, and these signals are to be continued until the required assistance has been rendered.

Masters of Vessels, Pilots, and other Persons are earnestly requested to take such necessary note of these regulations as may be useful both for the avoidance of danger to themselves, and for aiding their endeavours to render assistance to others.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

INTRODUCTION.

THE Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade having been pleased to adopt "The Mercantile Navy List" as a channel for promulgating the regulations and orders that may become necessary from time to time; the book will henceforth assume an official character, and all information contained therein be considered authentic.

In order to explain to Shipowners and their Officers the nature of their business in connection with the Boards of Examiners and the Shipping Masters, a careful abridgment of the Official Instructions, issued for the guidance of these officers, is inserted; and such other valuable information is detailed, under separate heads, as will render "The Mercantile Navy List" a useful and necessary appendage to the merchant's counting-house and the captain's cabin. The compilation of the tabular matter has been a work of considerable labour and expense; the influential support of those connected with the Mercantile Marine is therefore confidently anticipated in favour of a periodical so essential to their general interests.

MEMORANDUM.

In consequence of the prevalence of Desertion, particularly in the British Colonies, the notice of Shipowners is particularly directed to the following Clause in the Mercantile Marine Act, expressly framed to insure the conviction of Offenders when the evidence of the Master and the production of the Log Book are not available. Owners should caution the Masters of their Ships of the necessity of strict attention to this provision, as considerable inconvenience and loss of forfeited wages has already resulted from the certificates required not having been forwarded to the Registrar of Seamen in order to be produced, to sustain the charge of Desertion, in the Police Courts :—

“And be it enacted, that in all Cases of Desertion from any ‘Ship’ in any place abroad, the Master shall produce the Entry of such Desertion in the Official Log Book to the Person or Persons required by the ‘General Merchant Seamen’s Act’ to indorse on the Agreement a Certificate of such Desertion; and such Person or Persons shall thereupon make and certify a Copy of such Entry and also a Copy of the said Certificate of Desertion; and if such person is a public Functionary, he shall, and in other Cases the Master shall, forthwith transmit such Copies to the Registrar-General of Seamen in London; and the said Registrar shall, if required, cause the same to be produced in any legal Proceeding; and such Copies, if purporting to be so made and certified as aforesaid, and if shown to have come from the Custody of the said Registrar, shall in any legal Proceeding relating to such Desertion be received as Evidence of the Entries therein appearing.”—13 & 14 Vic. cap. 93, sec. 74.

And by the Merchant Shipping Act of 1853, it is provided that—

“If any Seaman or Apprentice is imprisoned in any part of Her Majesty’s dominions on the ground of his having neglected or refused to join any Ship in which he is engaged to serve, or of having deserted or otherwise absented himself therefrom without leave, or of his having committed any other breach of discipline, and if during such imprisonment, and before his engagement is at an end, his services are required on board his Ship, any Justice may, at the request of the Master, or the Owner or his Agent, cause such Seaman or Apprentice to be conveyed on board his said Ship for the purpose of proceeding on the voyage, or to be delivered to the Master, or any Mate of the Ship, or the Owner or his Agent, to be by them so conveyed, notwithstanding that the termination of the period for which he was sentenced to imprisonment had not arrived.”—16 & 17, Vic. cap. 131, sec. 38.

APPROPRIATE CERTIFICATES.

A PERSON possessing a Master's Certificate, whether of competency or service, is eligible to command any vessel of whatsoever tonnage, and either certificate is sufficient for clearance at the Custom House. But a condition in the Charterparty of vessels taken up by Government for the conveyance of troops, stores, or emigrants, and also the Regulations of the principal Steam Packet Companies, require that the Master and principal officers shall possess Certificates of competency.

The First Mate may engage as Mate of any kind ;

The only Mate as First Mate when there is no other ; or as Second Mate when there is a First Mate.

The Second Mate is not appropriate for any superior station, and must be employed only in cases where a First Mate is also engaged.

Certificates of Competency or Service may be either of a grade appropriate to the Stations held for the time being, or of any superior grade.

ABRIDGMENT

OF THE

INSTRUCTIONS TO SHIPPING MASTERS.

ISSUED BY THE LORDS OF THE COMMITTEE OF PRIVY COUNCIL FOR TRADE.

THE Shipping Offices established under the Act will be of three classes :—

First.—Those established by local marine boards.

Secondly.—Those established in ports where no local boards exist, which will be in the Custom Houses, and be conducted by the Officers of Customs.

Thirdly.—Those established in Sailors' Homes in the Port of London.

The first will be under the control of the local boards by which they are established, and the officers employed in them are to look to the local board for their instructions, except in matters relating to the receipt and payment of money, as to which they are to obey the instructions of the Board of Trade.

The second and third are subject in all matters to the immediate control of the Board of Trade.

The following instructions have been prepared chiefly with a view to the two latter classes ; but as those parts which relate to the receipt and payment of money will apply to the first also, and as it may be found convenient by the local boards to have one uniform printed code of instructions which they can adopt, subject to any modifications they may severally think necessary, these instructions have been made as complete as possible, and include certain duties which belong only to the first class of Shipping Offices. These duties are specially distinguished wherever mentioned, and may be divided as follows :—

General Duties.

The Shipping Master's general duties will be to see that his Office is so managed as to afford every facility to parties attending ; to be prepared for the transaction of business at all reasonable hours ; to post up the Scales of Fees and of Payments for Documents sold at the Shipping Offices ; and to give such other Notices as may be requisite.

To keep properly the Books for the entry of Applicants for Employment, (and to facilitate the making of Apprenticeships :) and of Men shipped and discharged ; to make the entries therein duly and punctually, and to allow the same to be referred to by Masters and Ship Owners who may wish for information to be derived therefrom.

To assist Owners of Ships in convicting defaulters or deserters, by adducing the necessary evidence, and in all cases of Litigation to produce in Court any material documents, duplicates, counterfoils, registered entries, or other evidence which may be in his possession, or be sent to him from the Register Office of Seamen.

To have at all times on hand a supply of the sanctioned Forms and Papers, so that no inconvenience or obstruction may arise for lack of them.

To act as the channel through which attested copies of documents deposited in the General Register and Record Office of Seamen will reach parties at the outposts.

If any Master or other person refuses or neglects to transact his business with the Shipping Master in the manner required by law and by the regulations of the office, the Shipping Master, if appointed by a local board, is to report the case to such board ; and if appointed otherwise, to the Board of Trade ; but before making any such representation every facility and explanation should be afforded by the Shipping Master, so that the Master's refusal or neglect may not proceed from ignorance.

If furnished with a book for the purpose he is to enter the names of seamen who want employment, and to allow masters who want crews to inspect it.†

Whenever masters desire to make use of the Shipping Office for the purpose of selecting and engaging their Crews, the Shipping Master will have to obtain from them the particulars necessary for filling up the notice of the engagement of the crew, and to post it in the Shipping Office, and he must then do all that lies in his power to procure the attendance of a suitable crew at the appointed time.

Whenever a master engages his crew elsewhere, and has recourse to the Shipping Office only for the purposes absolutely required by the Act, this notice will be unnecessary. In either case, however, it is essential that the Shipping Master should have at least six hours' notice of the time at which the Master and crew are to attend, and he should insist on such notice being given to him. At the time when such notice is given he should desire the Master to procure, if possible, a written authority for advance of wages, and should furnish him with the necessary form for this purpose, which should, if possible, be filled up and returned to the Shipping Master when the agreement is to be signed. At the time fixed for this purpose, the Master will attend, and, if he has not previously selected his crew, may select them from the men in attendance ; or, if he has selected them, will bring them with him. The Master and crew being in attendance, the Shipping Master must see that the agreement is properly settled in duplicate, and the successive folios, if more than one, properly numbered, that the blanks are properly filled up, that the reference, if any, to the sanctioned regulations as to fines is properly made, and that a copy of the Regulations for maintaining discipline is settled accordingly and attached to the copy of agreement which the Master is to take to sea.

* For description of a Foreign-going ship, see Note at p. 37.

† This book will only be kept at the larger ports.

In settling the agreement it will be the Shipping Master's duty to remonstrate against the insertion of any stipulation which he considers contrary to the Acts of Parliament. When the agreement is settled, he must read it over to the crew, or cause it to be read over to them in his presence, and explain it, if necessary :* the Master must then sign it, and afterwards each member of the crew, and the Shipping Master must attest each signature. He must then see that the copy of the agreement, which is to be made accessible to the crew, is made to correspond with the original Agreement. This form, as well as a duplicate of the Agreement and Regulations agreed to, will be taken away by the Master; the Shipping Master must retain the other duplicate of Agreement for transmission as after-mentioned. On the latter duplicate the acknowledgment of an authority for Advances should be signed by the Shipping Master, if such an authority has been given. He should then see that the Advance Notes and Allotment Notes are properly filled up, and that the counterparts of the Advance Notes are made to correspond; and, if he supplies the Allotment Notes, that the counterparts of these also are made to correspond. The Allotment Notes and Advance Notes may be delivered to the crew at once, and placed in the hands of the seamen themselves, in the presence of the Shipping Master; and the Shipping Master must see that they are delivered according to the Act.

In cases in which it is the practice for a Foreign-going Ship to clear from one port and to engage none or a part only of her Crew at that port, and then to proceed to another port for the purpose of taking or completing her Crew, the following is the practice to be adopted :—At the first port, the Agreement is to be signed as usual in duplicate before the Shipping Master by the Master and as many of the Crew as are engaged there, and the Fee is then to be paid according to Schedule B. Both the duplicates of the Agreement are then to be delivered to the Master, who is to take them with him to the Port where the remainder of the Crew is to be engaged, and is to produce them to the Shipping Master at such Port, and they must then be signed in his presence by the persons engaged there. One of the duplicates will then be sent by the Shipping Master to the Registrar of Seamen, and one retained by the Master as usual. No fee is to be charged at the second Port for persons engaged there, if they form part of the original crew of the ship; but if the men engaged before the Shipping Master there are substitutes for men previously engaged, the fee of 2s. must always be paid for each.

The Certificates of Masters and Mates in foreign-going ships, are to be produced to the Shipping Master at the time of executing the Agreement; and he must take care that every Master and Mate has a Certificate appropriate to the station he holds in the ship, or of a higher grade (See page 16, for explanation of Appropriate Certificate). The Shipping Master is then to furnish the Master with a Certificate AA, which shall satisfy the Customs that the regulation respecting the execution of the Agreement, and the possession of appropriate Certificates has been complied with.†

* He is also required to draw attention to the 75th section of the Mercantile Marine Act. See page 311.

† In order to prevent inconvenience by detention of ships' clearance, the Officers of Customs have been instructed to the following effect :—To allow a Master or Mate to proceed to sea in a foreign-going ship, notwithstanding he may not produce a Foreign-going Steam Ships, and other vessels making frequent voyages, are allowed to have Running Agreements to terminate half yearly, on the 30th of June and 31st of December, or on the first return to the United Kingdom after these dates. These Running Agreements are intended to relieve the Masters of those vessels, who keep the same crews, from the necessity of entering them and discharging them before the Shipping Master every voyage. The practice in these cases will be as follows :—On the first engagement of the crew they will sign the Agreement Form A, the blanks in the body of which must be filled up so as to meet the case before the Shipping Master, and in the usual manner. On the first, and every return intermediate between the first commencement and the termination of the agreement, the Master must produce his Agreement to the Shipping Master. If he has any men to discharge or engage, he must discharge and engage them before a Shipping Master in the usual manner, paying the fee of two shillings for each man so discharged or engaged ; and the appropriate Certificates of Mates must be produced when changes occur. The Master must make an indorsement on the Agreement to the effect (as the case may be) either that no men have been discharged or engaged, or are intended to be discharged or engaged before the ship proceeds to sea again ; or that all the men who have been so discharged or engaged, or are intended to be discharged or engaged, have been discharged or engaged before a Shipping Master. The Master shall be warned that a false statement submits him to the penalty of 20*l*. The Shipping Master will then indorse the Agreement, with a statement properly dated, to the effect that the law has been complied with, and give the Master Certificate AA to clear his ship. As the law requires that the duplicate of the Agreement shall be sent to the Registrar of Seamen, to prevent the inconvenience of frequent transmission of that document, when ships are constantly returning to the same port, a third copy should be executed and retained by the Shipping Master ; on this, and on the original in the Master's possession, the changes must be entered ; and in all cases of discharges or entries, Form Schedule G must be filled up and sent to the Registrar of Seamen. When the ship does not return to the same port, the Master should take the third copy with him and produce it, with his Agreement, to be filled up and completed by the Shipping Master, or Shipping Masters, before whom he subsequently discharges the remainder of his crew. On the termination of the Agreement, which must be no later than the first return of the ship to the United Kingdom, after the 30th of June or 31st of December next after its commencement, the whole of the crew must be discharged before the Shipping Master, the papers transmitted to the Registrar of Seamen in the usual way, and a new agreement may then be made for the following half year.

The fees are payable in the usual way, regulated by tonnage on the first agreement and final discharge of the crew—the fee of two shillings on each intermediate engagement and discharge. - If, however, men are transferred, in the course of the six months, from one ship to another, belonging to the same formal Certificate of competency or service appropriate to his station, provided that he produces a written statement, signed by the Examiner (or Examiners as the case may be), or by a Member of the Local Marine Board of the Port at which he is examined, to the effect that he has passed an examination for the grade in which he is intending to proceed to sea, and has produced satisfactory testimonials that the non-production of his Certificate is owing to its not having been transmitted from the Register Office.

Owners engaged in the same trade, and having an agreement similar in its terms, no fee need be paid for the discharge from the one and entry into the other.

The deductions from the wages of each man will, of course, be made for their engagements and discharges only to which the man was a party, and for which a fee has been paid by the owner.

HOME-TRADE SHIPS.—Masters and Owners of vessels of less than eighty tons burden, employed in coasting only, are not compelled to have written Agreements with their crews ; and Masters and Owners of such vessels, of whatever burden, are no longer compelled to have Official Log Books. The Form D must, however, be produced for such vessels as heretofore. The law in respect to these has reverted to what it was under the Merchant Seamen's Act.

Colonial Ships are subject to the Provisions of the Mercantile Marine Act in the same manner as other ships, except when trading direct between the United Kingdom and their own colony having a Legislative Assembly, and therefore must conform to the regulations of the Shipping Offices. When trading direct they render an account of their crews on Form Schedule C, as before, and obtain the Customs, or Shipping Master's receipt, in order to jerk their ships. Those which engage their crews in their own colony or territory, and are to take them back to that colony or territory, are not bound to engage them afresh before a Shipping Master in England, although the trading of the ship, as far as cargo is concerned, may be between some port in the United Kingdom and other parts of the world. For instance, a Jersey ship which engages her crew in Jersey according to the law of Jersey, and is finally to discharge them in Jersey, may come to London for a cargo and then trade to America and come back to London before finally discharging her crew in Jersey, without being obliged to take them before the London Shipping Master. If, however, any of her men are actually engaged or discharged in London, they must be engaged or discharged (as the case may be) before a Shipping Master.

Payment must be made by the Master of the proper fees and of the purchase-money for such forms and documents as are supplied to him. To prevent difficulty, these payments should be made on the commencement of business.

The crew being engaged, as above mentioned, notice should be given of the time for being on board, by posting up the notice properly filled up.

By these means the business of engaging the crew will be accomplished, and by the notice above mentioned, and other judicious arrangements, which will vary in the different ports, the presence of the men may be pretty generally secured at the time appointed.

If any man who has been so engaged, deserts or does not join, the Shipping Master, on receiving notice thereof, shall enter it against the man's name in his books, and, on his again applying for an engagement, give notice to the Ship Owner to furnish the evidence necessary to convict him. If, after the ship's departure, any question should arise concerning the Advance Notes or Allotment Notes, the Shipping Master should produce, from the documents in his possession, such evidence as may be required to determine it.

For the purpose of reducing the Fees payable by Masters and Owners of Ships which make short and frequent voyages, and the deductions to be made from the wages of Crews on account of such voyages, Fees payable upon the engagement and discharge of Crews under Schedule B. of the Mercantile Marine Act, are not to be paid more than twice in one year in respect of the same Ship ; so that after making the ordinary payments on two voyages, any further engagement or discharge of the Crew may be effected without further payment. The year for the above purpose is to be taken as commencing on the 1st of January and ending on the 31st December.

For the purpose of proving a right to exemption on this ground, the following plan is to be adopted :—As the Official Log will generally serve for several short voyages, the Master of a Ship making such voyages should enter in his Official Log the payment of the Fees paid by him on his two first voyages, and the Shipping Master to whom he pays them should sign the entries. When, after making two voyages, he again comes to a Shipping Office to engage or discharge his Crew, he must produce the Log with such Entries made in it, and the Shipping Master is, on such production, to proceed with the business without demanding any Fee ; and he is to enter the Name of the Ship, and other particulars, in the appropriate Schedule of Account, and to add the words—“Fees paid on two previous Voyages.”

Duties with respect to the Discharge of Crews of Foreign-going Ships.

The crew of every Foreign-going ship must be discharged before a Shipping Master.

At least twenty-four hours' notice of the time appointed for this purpose should be given to the Shipping Master by the Master or Owner.

The Master is to deliver the Official Logbook, and the account of his Crew duly filled up to the Shipping Master, within forty-eight hours after the ship's arrival, and on receipt of it, the Shipping Master must give a certificate there for the purpose of jerking. He must also make an entry of the delivery of the Logbook, in the book supplied for the purpose.

The Master is to give to every Seaman, or leave with the Shipping Master on his behalf, unless he specially desires to be paid without waiting for account, an account of his wages in the required form, twenty-four hours before the time of payment. On the attendance of the crew, the money will be paid in the Shipping Master's presence.

The Shipping Master will then see by the entries in the table at the beginning of the Log, whether any Fines or Forfeitures have been inflicted, and will be able to refer at once to the entries. If these entries are not made and attested in the manner required by the Act, the Shipping Master is not to allow any deduction to be made. If any Fines have been inflicted for offences enumerated in the regulations sanctioned by the Board of Trade, and adopted in the Agreement, they are to be paid to the Shipping Master, who must give a receipt for the same, and enter the amount in the proper place in his accounts. If, however, the Master chooses, in consequence of subsequent good conduct, to remit any such Fine, he is to be allowed to do so ; but the Shipping Master should require his reasons for so doing, and if they do not appear satisfactory, should note the fact.

The Shipping Master should give every assistance in his power to check the practice of Desertion.

For this purpose he should, when ships are paid off in this country, and especially in the case of those which come from the North American colonies, examine Form C and the Agreement, in order to ascertain, if possible, whether any of the crew have deserted from other ships. If he has reason to suspect that they have done so, he should warn the Master or Owner not to pay those men until communication has been made to the Owner of the ship from which the men have deserted, in order that the forfeiture may be claimed under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, s. 9, and the Mercantile Marine Act, s. 73. He should then communicate with the last-named Owner either immediately, if he knows where he is, or through the medium of the Registrar of Seamen, who will, when he has the means, forward any letters addressed to him for this purpose, and furnish any information or assistance which may be in his power. If no claim is made by the Owner of the ship from which the men have deserted, or if that claim does not reach the full amount of the wages earned by the deserter on the homeward voyage, the whole of the surplus (as the case may be) of such wages should be claimed under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, s. 9, and the Mercantile Marine Act for the Board of Trade, s. 111.

If it appears that the seaman has, on engaging himself in the ship in which he comes home, made a false statement of the name of his last ship, or of his own name, for the purpose of concealing the fact of his having deserted, or for any other fraudulent purpose, the Shipping Master should insist on the forfeiture provided for by the Mercantile Marine Act, s. 75. Some instances have occurred in which deserters have refused to give the names of their last ship. In these cases the Master should be warned that he is, under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, ss. 26 & 27, and the Mercantile Marine Act, ss. 47 & 55, subject to penalties for not returning this particular in the Agreement and in List C, and that he should, therefore, not engage any man without obtaining from him a statement of it. He should also be asked whether he can give any and what evidence which would lead to the conviction of the deserter.

In the above cases the strict course will be to take the offenders before a magistrate, and have the forfeiture inflicted in due legal form. If, however, the parties are satisfied to leave the matter in the hands of the Shipping Master, without having it decided by a Magistrate, the forfeiture may be paid at once, and, in such cases, the Shipping Master should use his discretion in mitigating the amount, whenever he may consider it desirable to do so.

Lastly, the Shipping Master should take every opportunity of pointing out to Masters and Owners the means of checking desertion, which the provisions of 7 & 8 Vict. c. 112, s. 9, and the Mercantile Marine Act, ss. 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, and 75, place at their disposal, and of urging on them the importance of taking active measures to carry these provisions into effect, of giving mutual assistance to each other, and to the Shipping Masters, for this purpose.

If there is any dispute, and the parties mutually agree to refer the same to the decision of the Shipping Master, they are to state their submission to his Arbitration, and he is then to decide to the best of his ability, and for that purpose may call for any Papers as evidence, to enable him to come to a just determination. When his decision is made, the Shipping Master is, if required by either of the parties, for legal or other purposes, to sign and give them a written certificate of his decision in the proper Form.

Upon payment of the wages, and settlement of disputes (if any) being effected, the Shipping Master is to require the Master and Crew to sign a Mutual release in the sanctioned Form, which is to be attested by the Shipping master. This document must be produced if a subsequent dispute arises.

Before the business is completed the Master must give to the Shipping Master in duplicate a report of the character of his crew, one copy of which is to be kept by the Shipping Master, and the other transmitted to the Registrar of Seamen, as mentioned below. If any seaman requires a certificate of character, the Shipping Master is to deliver it to him.

It is very desirable, though not absolutely required by the Act, that the certificate of discharge should be given to the crew, in the presence of the Shipping Master, so as to insure their delivery to the right persons. The Shipping Master should always be ready to offer his services for this purpose, and should also, if the seamen are willing, and if consistent with convenience, offer to keep these documents for them in his office till they obtain another engagement.

Should the Shipping Master in the course of investigating the Logbook, or by any other means, discover any act of omission or commission contrary to the provisions of the Act, he should report the same, if appointed by a local board, to such board, and if otherwise appointed, to the Board of Trade, in order that, if necessary, proceedings may be taken, and a record of the fact made in the Register Office.

Upon the discharge being effected, the Shipping Master should make proper entries in the book for entering discharges, and should especially attend to the entries of character. If he has reason to suspect the truth of any report of character, he may at his discretion omit to make the entry, or state his opinion concerning it.

The Shipping Master, if required, is to return the Logbook to the Master, Owner, or party entitled thereto, after he has had possession of it for forty-eight hours; but it may be called for by direction of the Board of Trade at any time after such re-delivery within two years.

In ports to which ships resort which are engaged in the Whale Fishery, and which are so circumstanced that attendance before a Shipping Master for all or any of the above-mentioned purposes, would cause great inconvenience, the Shipping Master must, as soon as possible after the receipt of these instructions, make a general Report to the Board of Trade, who will thereupon give the necessary directions.

Duties with respect to the Engagement and Discharge of Single Seamen.

On the engagement or discharge of single seamen the process will be the same, so far as the circumstances will permit, as on the engagement and discharge of crews. The fees to be taken are mentioned in the scale.

Duties with respect to Home-trade Ships.

As regards Home-trade ships, the necessary duty of the Shipping Master is confined to the following points:—The half-yearly receipt and due transmission of the Agreement of Vessels over eighty tons, and the half-yearly List of Crew of those and all others of whatsoever size. On the receipt of these documents, he is to give a certificate to the Owner or Master, which will enable him to receive a transire. If it appears by the Logbook that any fines have been imposed for breaches of the Regulations mutually agreed upon, sanctioned by the Board of Trade and adopted by the parties, he is to require them to be paid to him, and to deal with them as in the case of Foreign-going Ships.

But when the Masters of Home-trade ships wish to avail themselves of the Shipping Offices for the engagement or discharge of their crew, he is, in such case, to follow the course prescribed for Foreign-going ships, so far as the law and the various necessary documents apply to Home-trade ships : and in this case the same fees are to be charged as in the case of Foreign-going Ships.

Duties with respect to the Sale of the Printed Forms.

Advance Notes must in all cases be bought at the Shipping Office, and are to be sold only when wanted for immediate use ; and in such numbers as are actually wanted. The Shipping Master must, when possible, fill them up, or see them filled up, and also see that the counterfoil of each, which is to remain in his possession, is made to correspond with the note. There will in general be nothing to prevent his doing this, as it is required by the Act that when seamen are engaged in his presence, Advance Notes must be given in his presence. Men, however, who are engaged subsequently to the first engagement of the crew, are not obliged to receive their notes in the presence of a Shipping Master ; and to meet these cases the Shipping Master must, in addition to the notes delivered to the crew, furnish the Master with such blank notes as he may require. In such cases he should number the notes and the counterfoil and request the Master, if the notes are not used, to restore them, or, if this is impossible, to cancel them.

As the Advance Notes have been expensively executed with a view to prevent forgery, and enhance their value to the Seamen, and as they now require no stamp, they will be sold at 1*d.* each, and will not be included in the general scale of the price of Forms. No extra charge is ever to be made for the trouble of filling them up.

The Shipping Master must in this, as in all other cases, look to the Master for payment, whatever further arrangement may be made between the latter and his crew.

All the Forms necessary for a Foreign-going or Home-trade ship, except Advance Notes,* may either be purchased at the Shipping Office, or elsewhere, and brought to the Shipping Office, to be there used and dealt with as the case may require. If purchased at the Shipping Office, a whole set must be paid for, according to the scale to be furnished for the purpose, which will vary in proportion to the size of the ship. This payment must be made in full, whenever the Shipping Master is required to supply any of the necessary documents, so that he may never be required to supply broken sets, or to receive or account for fractions of the sums mentioned in the scale.

On the engagement and discharge of single seamen, the necessary documents are to be supplied without charge, except Advance Notes.

It is very desirable that in places where the staff is sufficient, the Shipping Masters should fill up and settle, or make their assistants fill up and settle, the various documents, so that it may be correctly and legibly done ; and in the case of Advance Notes, according to the rules above laid down, the blanks must always be filled up by the Shipping Master.

Duties with respect to the Examination and Certificates of Masters and Mates.

In places where examinations are held the Shipping Master will be supplied with the necessary forms. Every applicant for examination must, before the examination begins, apply at the Shipping Office to have his name put down, and to pay his fee. The Shipping Master is then to sign the receipt, and to deliver it to the applicant to fill up, who must, on presenting himself to be examined, deliver it, properly filled up, with his testimonials and previous certificate of competency or service, if any, to the Examiner. The Shipping Master is to send a list of the applicants, immediately before the examination commences, to the Examiners.

* The Certificate of character and discharge is now issued by the Shipping Master only.

The above duties are confined to those of the ports having local boards at which examinations are held. Shipping Masters will, however, also be the channels through which the certificates of competency will reach the applicants, and their testimonials, if sent to London for verification, will be restored to them. Consequently, as applicants may frequently leave the port at which they are examined, and desire to have their documents sent elsewhere, all Shipping Masters, however appointed, and wherever stationed, must be prepared to perform the following duties :—

Every applicant who passes will, on the conclusion of the examination, receive a Form filled up, and signed by the Examiner; and, upon his presentation of this ticket to the Shipping Master to whom it is directed, the Shipping Master must require him to sign his name in the proper place on the back of the certificate of competency, and of the office copy; and, unless he sees ground for suspecting personation, must make the proper entries on the certificate and office copy, and deliver the former, with the testimonials (if any), to the applicant, and return the office copy to the Register Office. If he sees reason to suspect personation, he must report the case to the local board, if appointed by a local board, and, if not, to the Board of Trade.

If an applicant fails to pass, he will receive from the Examiner an order, and the Shipping Master, to whom it is directed, must return him half his fee, and must also, if the testimonials have been forwarded to the Registrar, and transmitted by him to the Shipping Master, return them to the applicant.

The Shipping Master will also have duties to perform in the case of applications for the renewals of lost certificates, either of competency or service. A form of application for that purpose is supplied. If the Shipping Master is able himself to certify to the circumstances under which the former Certificate is stated by the Applicant to have been lost, he should do so on the back of the Form. If he cannot the Applicant must procure and send with the Form either a statement from the Owner of his last ship, confirming his own statement of the circumstances under which the former Certificate was lost, or if the statement cannot be procured, a Statutory Declaration as to those circumstances, made by himself before a Magistrate. The Shipping Master must then transmit it to the Registrar of Seamen, who will send down a new certificate and office copy to be properly filled up. The former will then be delivered to the applicant, and the latter returned to the Register Office. If the certificate proves to have been lost by wreck or fire, no fee will be charged. The other duties of the Shipping Master relate to the Keeping of his Books and rendering his Accounts to the Board of Trade.

Duties with respect to the Receipt and Payment of Money.

On this subject every Shipping Master, however appointed, is bound to follow the instructions of the Board of Trade, and, if required, to communicate directly with the Board of Trade on the subject. The Shipping Master is to be the channel through which all local receipts and payments are to pass.

The Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade having, with the sanction of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, exercised the authority given them by the 32nd section of the Mercantile Marine Act to direct the discontinuance of Register Tickets and the Regulations respecting them, the following circular has been issued by the Registrar General of Seamen for the guidance of Shipping Masters :—

GENERAL REGISTER AND RECORD OFFICE OF SEAMEN, CUSTOM HOUSE, LONDON, 27th September, 1853.

SIR,

It having been determined to discontinue the Regulations connected with the Mariner's Register Ticket, I have been directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, to communicate with you, respecting the alterations consequent thereon, in the engagement and discharge of crews. On and after the 1st of October, 1853, it will not be required for any Seaman to produce his Register Ticket, nor for the Master of the Ship to demand and retain it. But should any one be desirous of having his Register Number inserted in the Agreement in the column headed "No. of Register Ticket," it may be done, provided you are satisfied of his identity.

In all cases, when the numbers are so inserted, they must also be entered in the other Lists connected with the voyage, when the crew is discharged. The names of Foreigners are to be inserted as correctly as possible, with their ages ; but it is not necessary to set forth the name of the town wherein they were born, the country of which they are natives being sufficient. Whether British or Foreign, the Christian and Surname, with the Name and Port belonging to of the last Ship, must be inserted at full length, and it is desirable that the discharge from his last Ship should be produced by the Seaman, in order to authenticate his statement.

Before executing the Agreement, you are particularly requested to call attention to the 75th section of the Mercantile Marine Act, which provides, that any Seaman giving a false name of himself, or of his last ship, shall forfeit Five Pounds out of his wages. In order that publicity may be given to this provision, placards have been transmitted to you, which you are requested to keep exhibited in your Shipping Office, and other conspicuous places.

A practice has grown up in some ports, which, being attended with great inconvenience, it is necessary to abolish. I allude to the neglect of depositing the Log-Book and Schedules, &c. within forty-eight hours after the arrival of the Vessel, in the hands of the Shipping Master, in order that he may have the opportunity of scrutinising the entries, more particularly those which apply to fines, and the account of the disposal of wages and effects of deceased Seamen.

Henceforth, it will be required, that these Lists shall be deposited within the time prescribed by law, and transmitted to this Office at the end of each week at the latest. You will therefore be pleased to caution parties in this respect, and should they neglect to comply, to report their names, in order that the penalties may be enforced.

The issue of Fund Tickets being, except in the Port of London, now transferred from the Officers of Customs to the Shipping Masters, the blank Tickets and Categories will be transmitted to you when required. It is desirable that no greater number of these than are absolutely necessary shall be sent from hence, and it being generally the case that the demand is not so pressing but that the Applicant can wait the return of post, a very small supply may be retained, and requisition need seldom be made until the Tickets are applied for.

As the scrutiny of his own claim, and more particularly of his relict, for pension hereafter, will be greatly facilitated by the account of his services set forth in the Category, it is now the practice to give the Applicant a blank form when he applies for a Fund Ticket, in order that he may fill up that portion of the Category which describes the Ships, Ports belonging to, and date of Voyages, relating to his services, at his convenience.

The numbers of all Fund Tickets possessed by men engaging for a voyage, must be entered in the Agreements and other Lists relating to such voyage.

I have the honour to remain, Sir,

Your faithful Servant,

J. H. BROWN, Registrar.

The Merchant Seamen's Fund Act, 4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 52, having been repealed by the 14th & 15th Vict., c. 102, which came into operation on the 1st January, 1852, the following Rules have been established for

CONTRIBUTIONS
TO
THE MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND,
AND FOR THE
GRANTING OF PENSIONS FROM THAT FUND.

Contributions to the Fund.

1. ALL Masters and Seamen who have contributed to the Fund before the 8th August 1851 may, if they choose so to do, continue to contribute; but those who did not contribute before that day, cannot now contribute or establish any claim upon the Fund.

2. All future contributions are to be paid to the Shipping Masters appointed under the Mercantile Marine Act.

3. In the case of men who are discharged before a Shipping Master, the contributions are to be paid at the time of the discharge, and are to be proportioned to the length of the voyage reckoning from the day of signing articles to the day of discharge inclusive, and are to be after the following rates, viz. :

(a) For a Seaman,

1s. for each calendar month of the voyage or engagement, and for any broken period of a month exceeding 20 days ;

6d. for any broken period of a month exceeding 10 and not exceeding 20 days ;

4d. for any broken period of a month not exceeding 10 days.

(b.) For a Master,

Double the above rates.

4. In the case of men who are not discharged before a Shipping Master, the contributions may be paid to any Shipping Master before whom the contributors may find it convenient to attend, and may be paid to him at such times as may be fixed by him. These contributions are to be after the following rates, viz. :

- (a.) For a Seaman,
     8s. for one year ;
     6s. for nine calendar months ;
     4s. for six calendar months ;
     2s. for three calendar months.

- (b.) For a Master,
     Double the above rates.

These contributions must be paid quarterly in advance.

5. In the case of foreign-going ships which arrive after the 1st January 1852, having commenced the voyage before that day, the contribution will be payable for the whole period of the voyage, according to rule 3 above. In the case of home-trade ships, no contribution will be payable for the period intervening between the 8th August 1851 and the 1st January 1852.

6. If a contributor serves for part of any one year in foreign-going ships, and the remainder of the year in home-trade ships, he is to pay as follows : If he contributes 8s. or upwards whilst in foreign-going ships no further contributions will be required. If he contributes less than 8s. whilst in foreign-going ships, the sum which he pays in such ships is to be reckoned as a portion of the 8s. or 16s., as the case may be, which he would, if serving all the year in home-trade ships, have had to contribute, and upon payment of the balance, his contribution for the year is to be considered complete.

7. Any man who has once contributed as Master, or who once contributes as Master, after the 1st January 1852, may continue to contribute thenceforth as Master, and establish a Master's claim on the Fund, although acting as a Seaman ; but if after once contributing as Master, he ceases so to do, and contributes as a Seaman, he will not be entitled to claim as a Master.

8. If any Master or Seaman for three consecutive years previous to the termination of his service at sea fails to pay any contribution to the Fund, he will no longer be allowed to contribute, and will forfeit all claim upon the Fund, whatever his previous contributions may have been.

9. But if any Master or Seaman who has not contravened Rule 8 by failing for three consecutive years previous to the termination of his last service at sea to pay any contribution to the Fund, fails to pay the appointed contributions at the proper times, he will be required, before he can be allowed to make another payment, to pay up all arrears ; and no claim for a Pension can be established until such arrears are paid for the whole period previous to the termination of his last service at sea.

10. No pension can be granted to any Master or Seaman, or to his widow or children, upon any ground whatever, unless he has contributed for a period of at least sixty months, such contribution to have been made either before the 8th August 1851, or partly before and partly after that date.

11. If a Master or Seaman who has before the 8th August 1851 paid dues for sixty months or upwards goes to sea again, and is, within three years from the 31st December 1851, killed or drowned in the Merchant Service, without having in the meantime paid any voluntary contributions to the Fund, his widow and children shall not on account of his so failing to become a voluntary contributor lose their rights to Pensions, provided their claims are in all other respects established as required by these rules.

12. Every Master and Seaman must, on paying his first voluntary contribution, state to the Shipping Master that he intends to be a voluntary contributor, and must produce his old Register Ticket to that officer, who will give him directions for procuring a new Register Ticket in exchange called a Fund Ticket. If the Master has no Register Ticket, he must procure a Fund Ticket, for which purpose the Shipping Master will give him the necessary directions.* This Fund Ticket must, on every occasion on which the contributor pays any contribution, be produced to the Shipping Master to whom he pays it, and the Shipping Master will enter on the back of the ticket each amount so paid. Masters and Seamen who become voluntary contributors should take especial care to procure Fund Tickets, and to see that the amount of their contributions is entered on the back thereof, as the ticket will be a proof of the contributions having been paid, and they will be required to produce it upon applying for Pensions.

13. Men-of-War's men who have contributed to the Fund, and desire to continue their contributions, may do so at the rate hereinbefore fixed for seamen who are not discharged before a Shipping Master. Arrangements have been made as to the manner in which these contributions are to be received.

Grant of Pensions.

14. In every case in which a Pension is claimed, it must be proved that the Master or Seaman who, or whose widow or children, make the claim, has contributed to the Fund in the manner pointed out in the above Rules as to contributions. No claim can be entertained by the Trustees or Local Managers of the Fund when the failure mentioned in Rule 8 has taken place, or if the conditions contained in Rule 10 are not strictly fulfilled. In case of any slight departure from the conditions contained in Rules 7 and 9, the Trustees or Local Managers are at liberty to state the circumstances for the consideration of the Board of Trade.

If the Pension has not been forfeited under Rule 8, but some arrears of contribution are due under Rule 9, the Pension may be granted, but the time for commencing payment of the Pension will be deferred, or the rate will be diminished, so as to cover all arrears.

15. No Pensioner is to be considered fully and finally entitled to his or her Pension until the claim and the evidence in support of it have been submitted to the Board of Trade and approved by that Board, as noticed in Rule 28.

16. The number of Pensions granted at one port in one year to each of the different classes of Pensioners hereinafter mentioned, must not exceed the average yearly number of similar Pensions granted at the same port during the five years ending with 1851, except by the special direction of the Board of Trade.

When there is danger of exceeding the above-mentioned limit, those of the worn-out Seamen who have contributed longest to the Fund are to be first provided for.

17. Subject to the foregoing general conditions, pensions may be granted to the following classes of applicants :

* This Ticket is now issued by the Shipping Master.

- (a.) Masters and Seamen who can prove that they are rendered permanently incapable of service by sickness, wounds, or other accidental misfortune.
- (b.) Masters and Seamen who have become decrepit or worn out by age.
- (c.) Widows whose husbands have lost their lives in the Merchant Service, either by casualty, or by sickness incident to the nature of the service, or by drowning.
- (d.) Widows whose husbands have contributed to the Fund for twenty-one years, provided they were married before the time at which their husbands would have been entitled to receive pensions, in other words, before they became worn-out or decrepit, or incapable of service.
- (e.) Widows whose husbands are at the time of their deaths receiving or entitled to receive a pension provided they were married before the time at which the husbands were entitled to receive pensions, in other words, before they became worn-out, decrepit, or incapable of service.
- (f.) Children whose fathers lose their lives in the Merchant Service, either by casualty, or by sickness incident to the nature of the service, or by drowning, provided such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood.
- (g.) Children whose fathers die after contributing for twenty-one years to the fund, provided that such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood, and provided their mothers are, or if living would be, entitled to pensions.
- (h.) Children whose fathers at the time of their deaths are in receipt of or entitled to receive pensions, provided that such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood, and provided their mothers are, or if living would be, entitled to pensions.

18. The amount of pensions to be granted to each of the above classes will be as follows :

Masters . . . . .	6	16	0	a year.
Seamen . . . . .	3	8	0	"
Widows of Masters . . . . .	4	8	0	"
Widows of Seamen . . . . .	2	4	0	"
Children of Masters, each child . . . . .	2	4	0	"
Children of Seamen, each child . . . . .	1	2	0	"

But Pensions are not to be granted to more than four children in one family unless they are orphans.

19. Pensions may be granted to the above, notwithstanding that the Pensioner is in receipt of other income derived from either wages, or public or private charity, or private property, or from a benefit society.

20. If men, after remaining in the service for the better part of their lives, quit the sea at an advanced age but before becoming actually worn out, and then earn a subsistence for a few years on shore, they are not on this account to be considered as forfeiting any claim on the Fund for themselves, their widows or children, to which they would otherwise be entitled.

If, however, men quit the sea service when still of age and strength sufficient to turn permanently to some other work or business, they are to be considered to have ceased to be Seamen, and no pension is to be granted to them when worn out or decrepit, or to their widows or children.

Commutation of Claims.

21. Pensions already granted may be commuted, and gross sums of money may be granted in lieu of Pensions in any special cases in which the money is wanted for purposes of emigration or for other pressing purposes. The reason for the commutation must, however, be stated to the Board of Trade, and approved of by that Board. The amount of such commutations and gratuities will be fixed by the Board of Trade.

Form and Nature of Claim and of Evidence to support it.

22. The London Corporation and the Trustees of Outports will (unless their functions are suspended in consequence of their failing to be duly chosen or resigning, or refusing or neglecting to act,) select the persons who are to receive Pensions, subject to the general Rules and to the tests hereby required, and to approval by the Board of Trade, and the muster rolls and books necessary for this purpose at their respective ports will remain in their possession. If any of these bodies are suspended, provision will be made for the performance of their duties either by the Local Marine Board of the port, or if there is no Local Marine Board, or if that Board is unable or unwilling to undertake them, by the Shipping Master, to whom the muster rolls and books will in that case be transferred.

23. Pensions are to be granted at the port at which the claimants reside, without reference to the question whether the claimants, or their husbands or fathers, have contributed at that port.

24. Claims for Pensions must be lodged with the President and Governors, or the Trustees, or with other the board or officers to whom the duty of inquiring into claims is committed.

The Shipping Master will, in all cases, inform claimants with whom to lodge their claims.

25. Claims must be made in printed forms, which will be furnished for the purpose by all Shipping Masters. These forms will contain directions as to the manner in which they are to be filled up and used.

26. The claims of a widow and her children must not be on the same form, but one form must be used for the widow and a separate one for each child.

27. Satisfactory evidence will be required of the various circumstances requisite to support claims; and for that purpose the following rules are to be observed :—

- (a.) Contributions to the Fund prior to the 8th August 1851, having been universal and compulsory, will be considered as proved by the fact of service at sea in British vessels trading from ports in the United Kingdom. This service must be proved as follows :— If and so far as the service is stated to have been in vessels belonging to the port at which the claim is made, it must be verified by reference to the muster rolls there kept, and a statement of such verification must be made on the form of claim by the officer to whom the duty of examining claims is committed, and the claim must then be forwarded to the Registrar of Seamen. If this service is stated to have been partly or wholly in vessels belonging to other ports, the claim must be sent to the Registrar of Seamen for verification, who will either verify it by the records kept at his office, or will transmit it for verification to the port where the muster rolls in which such service is recorded are kept ; from that port it will be returned to the Registrar.

- (b.) Contributions to the Fund subsequent to the 8th August 1851, not being universal or compulsory, must be proved to have been actually made. This must be done as follows :—The Fund Register Ticket, upon which the receipt for each contribution will be marked, must when practicable be attached to the claim. The claim with this Fund Ticket attached will be sent to the Registrar of Seamen, who will verify it by the records of contributions kept in his office.
- (c.) Claimants should also annex to their claims all certificates of discharge or other documents they may possess which can assist in proving their service to be such as is stated in the claim, whether such service has been prior or subsequent to the 8th August 1851.
- (d.) Claims founded on permanent incapacity, arising from sickness, wounds, or accident, must be supported by a certificate, to be signed by two respectable inhabitants of the place and to be confirmed by one or more of the Trustees or local managers or officers acting at the port after personal inspection, and also by the certificate of a medical man.
- (e.) Claims founded on decrepitude or incapacity arising from age must be supported by the like evidence.
- (f.) In the case of claims by widows and children, the death of the husband or father, if happening in this country, must be proved by burial certificate.

In the like cases death, if happening during a voyage, and the cause thereof (if essential), will be shown, by reference to the muster rolls or to the lists kept by the Registrar of Seamen, or by a certificate from the Consul or other proper authority at the place where it happened.

- (g.) In the case of claims made by widows, the marriage must always be proved, and this must be done by the production of the marriage certificate. In such cases it must also be shown that the marriage was contracted at a period of the husband's life before he became entitled to a pension, or, in other words, before he was worn-out, decrepit, or incapable of service.
- (h.) In the cases of claims made by children, the marriage of their parents must be proved by the production of the marriage certificate; and their age must be shown to be under fourteen, by certificates of their birth or baptism.

- (i.) For the purpose of proving, in the case of children above fourteen, that they are incapable from infirmity of obtaining a livelihood, medical certificates must be produced, and for the continuance of the Pension, similar proof will from time to time be required.
- (k.) Evidence which has been produced to establish one claim need not again be produced to establish another founded on the same circumstances; but a reference may be made to the claim already established.

28. When a claim has been established to the satisfaction of the Trustees or Local Managers of the Fund by the production of the evidence above required, and has been verified so far as in their power by reference to the documents in their possession, it should be signed by them or by their officer, and forwarded with all the necessary certificates or other documents annexed, to the Registrar of Seamen, Custom House, London. That officer will complete the verification as pointed out in rule 27, sections a and b, and return it to the Trustees or Local Managers. If the Trustees or Local Managers consider that the Pension ought to be granted, the claim is then to be forwarded to the Board of Trade, with the resolution of the Trustees and other necessary documents attached; and the Board of Trade, if satisfied that it is established, will, subject to the Rules herein contained, place the name on the Pension List, cause a Pension Ticket to be issued to the Pensioner, and give directions for the payment of the Pension.

29. Notice of the arrangements made for the payment of pensions will be given at the Shipping Master's offices, as well as at the places where Pensions have hitherto been paid.

Suspension or Forfeiture of Pensions.

30. If a Pensioner goes to sea after having had a Pension granted to him, he is to report the same to the officer who pays his Pension, and his Pension is to cease, but he may apply to be restored to the Pension List in the usual manner should he again become disabled or be obliged to quit the service on account of age or infirmities. If, however, when he goes to sea he continues to receive his Pension, or if he fails to report his going to sea as above required his Pension will not be restored.

31. If a Pensioner enters the workhouse, his Pension is to be suspended.

32. If a widow re-marries, her Pension is to cease.

33. When children attain the age of fourteen, their Pensions are to cease, except in the special cases of infirmity above noticed.

34. If a Pensioner becomes a pauper lunatic, and is supported in a county asylum, his or her Pension is to be suspended.

35. If a Claimant or Pensioner is convicted of felony, or is guilty of an attempt at fraudulent personation, or makes any fraudulent representation for the purpose of obtaining relief, his or her Pension is to be forfeited.

36. If a Pensioner changes his residence, he must within one month report the change to the officer who pays his Pension ; and if he does not do so, his Pension is to be forfeited either in whole or in part.

37. If any Pensioner is guilty of violent, insolent, or insubordinate conduct towards the persons employed in payment of the Pensions, or appears in a state of intoxication at the time of payment, or when assembled by order of the person appointed to pay him, or is guilty of giving a false address, or enters a poor house or hospital under a name different to that by which he is borne on the Pension List, or is guilty of any other offence of a fraudulent or disgraceful nature, or tending to create disorder or confusion at the time of payment or assembly, he will be liable to be punished by the suspension either of a part or the whole of his Pension as the offence may appear to deserve, in addition to any other punishment which the law may inflict for the offence.

NAVAL DEPARTMENT BOARD OF TRADE.

NOTE.—In addition to Rule 28, which directs the course to be pursued with reference to the application for Pensions, the Trustees or Local Managers of the Fund when a claim is established to their satisfaction, are to send with the application a descriptive return of the applicant to the Board of Trade on the form which has been provided in duplicate for this purpose.

With reference to the foregoing rules it is desirable, when Shipping Masters receive a deposit from a Master or Seaman desirous of continuing his contributions to the Fund, that they should require the party to procure his Fund Ticket, in order that the entry may be made thereon, and the number of the Ticket placed in the column headed "Number of Register Ticket," in Schedule 11.

As Foreigners are permitted to continue their contributions, a special certificate has been prepared which is to be furnished to them. The issue of the Fund Ticket is now made by the Shipping Masters, and all the business heretofore performed by the London Board and the Ports under its control, has been transferred to the Registrar General of Seamen, and also the business of those Boards where the Trustees refuse or decline to act.—EDITOR.

NOTICE OF EXAMINATIONS OF MASTERS AND MATES.

ESTABLISHED IN PURSUANCE OF
THE MERCANTILE MARINE ACT, 1850;

AND OF
VOLUNTARY EXAMINATION IN STEAM.

Issued by authority of the Board of Trade.

No Foreign-going * vessel is permitted to clear out from any Custom-house in the United Kingdom, unless the masters and mates respectively are in possession of appropriate † Certificates, either of service or of competency.

The Certificate of Service entitles an officer, who has already served as either master or mate in the British Merchant Service before the 1st of January 1851, to go in those capacities again, and may be had by application to the Registrar-General of Seamen, Custom House, London, on the transmission to him of the necessary certificates and testimonials.

Certificates of Competency are granted by the Board of Trade to all masters and mates who have passed examinations, whether under the old or the present regulations, and also to all Officers who have passed Lieutenants', Masters', and Second Masters' examinations, in the Royal Navy and East India Company's service, unless special reasons to the contrary exist; and any person desirous of exchanging a passing Certificate obtained under the former Boards of Examiners for a Certificate of Competency, should send it to the Registrar-General, as before-mentioned, with a request to that effect, and state the Port to which he wishes it to be returned, where it will be delivered to him by the Collector of Customs.

All other Officers, entering for the first time upon their duties, whether as mate or master, will be required to undergo an examination before one of the Local Marine Boards before they can act in either of those capacities.

For this purpose, Examiners have been appointed under the Local Marine Boards, and arrangements have been made for holding the Examinations at Ports upon different days; and these days are so arranged for general convenience, that a candidate wishing to proceed to sea, and missing the day at his own Port, may proceed to another Port where an examination is coming forward. The Days for commencing the Examinations at the various Ports are given in pages 9 to 15, and for procuring the Examination papers from the Shipping Master, see page 24.

The Examinations required for qualification for the several ranks under-mentioned, are as follow:—

A SECOND MATE must be seventeen years of age, and must have been four years at sea.

IN NAVIGATION.—He must write a legible hand, and understand the five first rules of arithmetic and the use of logarithms. He must be able to correct

* By a Foreign-going vessel is meant one which is voyaging to some place out of the United Kingdom, beyond the limits included between the rivers Elbe and Brest.

† For appropriate Certificates, see page 16.

the courses steered for variation and lee-way, and find the difference of latitude and longitude therefrom; be able to correct the sun's declination for longitude, and find his latitude by meridian altitude of the sun; and work such other easy problems of a like nature, as may be put to him. He must understand the use of the sextant, and be able to observe with it, and read off the arc.

IN SEAMANSHIP.—He must give satisfactory answers as to the rigging and unrigging of ships, stowing of holds, &c.; must understand the measurement of the log-line, glass, and lead-line; be conversant with the rule of the road, as regards both steamers and sailing-vessels, and the lights carried by them.

AN ONLY MATE must be eighteen years of age, and have been four years at sea.

IN NAVIGATION.—In addition to the qualification required for a Second Mate, an only Mate must be able to work a day's work complete, including the bearings and distance of the port he is bound to, by Mercator's method. He must be able to observe and calculate the amplitude of the sun, and deduce the variation of the compass therefrom. He must know how to lay off the place of the ship on the chart, both by bearings of known objects, and by latitude and longitude. He must be able to use a sextant and determine its error, and adjust it, and find the time of high water from the known time at full and change.

IN SEAMANSHIP.—In addition to what is required by a Second Mate, he must know how to moor and unmoor, and to keep a clear anchor; to carry out an anchor; to stow a hold, and make the requisite entries in the ship's log.

A FIRST MATE must be nineteen years of age, and have served five years at sea, of which one year must have been as either Second or only Mate, or as both.*

IN NAVIGATION.—In addition to the qualification required for an only Mate, he must be able to observe azimuths and compute the variation; to compare chronometers and keep their rates, and find the longitude by them from an observation by the sun; to work the latitude by single altitude of the sun off the meridian; and be able to use and adjust the sextant by the sun.

IN SEAMANSHIP.—In addition to the qualification necessary for an only Mate, a more extensive knowledge of seamanship will be required, as to shifting large spars, and sails, managing a ship in stormy weather, taking in and making sail, shifting yards and masts, &c., and getting cargo in and out; and especially heavy spars and weights, anchors, &c.; casting ship on a lee-shore; and to secure the masts in the event of accident to the bowsprit.

A MASTER must be twenty-one years of age, and have been six years at sea, of which one year must have been as First or only Mate, and one year as Second Mate; or two years as First and only Mate.*

In addition to the qualification for a First Mate, he must be able to find the latitude by a star, &c. He will be inquired of as to the nature of the attraction of the ship's iron upon the compass, and as to the method of determining it. He must possess a sufficient knowledge of what he is required to do by law; as to entry and discharge, and the management of his crew; as to penalties and entries to be made in the official log. He will be questioned as to his knowledge of invoices, charter-party, Lloyd's agent, and as to the nature of bottomry; and he must be acquainted with the leading lights of the channel he has been accustomed to navigate, or which he is going to use. In cases where an applicant for a certificate as master ordinary has only served in a fore and aft rigged vessel, and is ignorant of the management of a square rigged vessel, he may obtain a certificate on which the words "fore and aft rigged vessel" will be written. This is not, however, to apply to Mates, who, being younger men, are expected for the future to learn their business completely.

AN EXTRA MASTER'S EXAMINATION is intended for such persons as are desirous of obtaining command of ships and steamers of the first class. Before being examined for an Extra Master's Certificate an applicant must have passed one year either as a Master with an ordinary Certificate of Competency, or as a Master having a First Class Certificate granted by one of the former Boards of Examiners.

In NAVIGATION.—As such vessels frequently make long voyages, to the East Indies, and the Pacific, &c., the candidate will be required to work a lunar observation by both sun and star, to determine the latitude by the moon and star, by Polar star off the meridian, and also by double altitude of the sun, and to verify the result by Sumner's method. He must be able to calculate the altitudes of the sun or star when they cannot be observed, for the purposes of lunars, also to find the error of a watch by the method of equal altitudes, to correct the altitudes observed with an artificial horizon.

He must understand how to observe and apply the deviation of the compass; and to deduce the set and rate of the current from the D.R. and observation. He will be required to explain the nature of great circle sailing, and know how to apply practically that knowledge, but he will not be required to go into the calculations. He must be acquainted with the law of storms, so far as to know how he may probably best escape those storms common to the East and West Indies, and known as hurricanes.

In SEAMANSHIP.—The extra-Examination will consist of an inquiry into the competency of the party to heave a ship down, in case of accident befalling her abroad; of getting lower masts and other heavy weights in and out; how to construct rafts, and as to his resources for the preservation of the ship's crew in the event of wreck; and in such operations of a like nature as the Examiner may consider necessary.

The candidates will be allowed to work out the various problems according to the method and the tables they have been accustomed to use, and will be allowed five hours to perform the work; at the expiration of which, if they have not finished, they will be declared to have failed, unless the Local Marine Board see fit to extend the time.

Applicants for Examination are required to give their names to the Shipping Master, or to the Local Marine Board at the place where they intend to be examined, on or before the day of Examination, and to conform to the regulations in this respect which may be laid down by the Local Marine Board, and if this be not done, a delay will be occasioned.

The Examinations will commence early in the forenoon on the days before-mentioned, and be continued from day to day, until all the candidates whose names appeared upon the Shipping Master's list on the day of Examination are examined.

Testimonials of character, sobriety, and trustworthiness, will be required of all applicants, and without which no person will be examined; and as testimonials may have to be forwarded to the office of the Registrar-General of seamen in London for verification, before any Certificates can be granted, it is desirable that candidates should lodge them as early as possible. Upon application to the Shipping Master, candidates will be supplied with a Form, which they will be required to fill up and lodge with their testimonials in the hands of the Examiners.

The fee for Examination must be paid to the Shipping Master. If a candidate fail in his examination, half the fee he has paid will be returned to him by the Shipping Master on his producing a document which will be given him by the Examiner.

The following are the fees to be paid by applicants for Examination :—

Second Mate . . . . .	£1 0 0
First and only Mate, if previously possessing an inferior certificate . . . . .	0 10 0
If not . . . . .	1 0 0
Master, whether Extra or Ordinary . . . . .	2 0 0

Any one who has been one year in possession of a Master's first-class Certificate granted by one of the former Boards of Examiners, or of an Ordinary Master's Certificate of competency granted under the present Examiners, may pass an extra-Examination, and receive an extra-Certificate in exchange for his former one, without payment of any fee; but if he fails in his first Examination, he must pay half a Master's fee on his coming a second time; and the same sum for every subsequent attempt.

If the applicant passes, he will receive a document from the Examiner which will entitle him to receive his Certificate of Competency from the Shipping Master at the port to which he has directed it to be forwarded. If his testimonials have been sent to the Registrar to be verified, they will be returned with his Certificate.

If an applicant is examined for an higher rank and fails, but passes an Examination of a lower grade, he may receive a Certificate accordingly, but no part of the fee will be returned.

As the Examinations of Masters and Mates are made compulsory, the qualifications have been kept as low as possible; but it must be distinctly understood that it is the intention of the Board of Trade to raise the standard from time to time, whenever, as will no doubt be the case, the general attainments of officers in the Merchant Service shall render it possible to do so without inconvenience; and Officers are strongly urged to employ their leisure hours, when in port, in the acquirement of the knowledge necessary to enable them to pass their examinations; and Masters will do well to permit Apprentices and junior Officers to attend schools of instruction, and to afford them as much time for this purpose as possible.

Certificates of Competency are distinguished as follows, and signed by the Naval Members of the Board of Trade :—

Masters who have passed the extra-Examination, a Blue Seal.

All other Masters a Red Seal.

First Mate a Blue; Only Mate a Red; and Second Mate a Yellow Seal.

Certificates of Competency, whether of Masters or Mates, given in exchange for those who have passed the Examination under Regulations of the Board of Trade dated 19th August 1845, a Green Seal.

Certificates of Service, whether Masters or Mates, are issued to those who have served in such capacities prior to the first of January 1851, signed by the Registrar-General of Seamen, and these are to be obtained by transmitting to the General Register and Record Office, in London, a claim on a printed form, to be procured at any Custom House. Upon the claim being verified, the Certificate is transmitted to the Collector of Customs at any port desired.

EXAMINATIONS IN STEAM.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for giving to those Masters or applicants for Masters' Certificates who desire to do so an opportunity of undergoing an Examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the Steam Engine. These examinations will be conducted under the superintendence of the Local Marine Boards, at such times as they may appoint for the purpose; and the Examiners will be selected by the Board of Trade, from the engineer surveyors appointed under the Steam Navigation Act. The Examination will not comprise intricate theoretical questions, but will be such as to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to control the working of the engine, and has such a knowledge of the ordinary parts of the machinery as will enable him to judge of the nature of an accident, and, in the absence of the engineer, to give the necessary directions in the engine room.* The practice will be as follows:—The applicant must deliver to the Shipping Master a statement in writing to the effect that he wishes to be examined in Steam. If he is about to pass a Master's examination in Navigation also, this statement must be on or annexed to the form E E; if he has a Master's Certificate of Competency, it must be delivered to the Shipping Master with his Certificate, so that due notice may be given to the Examiner, and so that the Board of Trade on receiving it may have the means of indorsing on his Certificate and recording the fact that he has passed in Steam. He must also, at the same time, pay a fee of 7s., which will be applied in remunerating the Examiners. Notice will be given of the time at which the applicant is to attend to be examined; and if he passes, the result of the Examination will be reported to the Board of Trade, and his Certificate of Competency will be issued or returned to him, as the case may be, with an indorsement as above mentioned, showing that he has passed in Steam. If he fails, no notice of the failure will be recorded on the Certificate, but no part of the fee will be returned.

HONORARY REWARDS.

- Certif. 9. On arrival of the "Arabian" at Port Adelaide, May, 1850, the passengers expressed their high sense of his kind and gentlemanlike conduct towards them, and for his unwearied efforts made for their comfort and accommodation during the voyage.
- Certif. 53. The passengers of the "Harbinger," on her outward bound voyage to Australia, in 1853, presented him with a valuable Service of Plate, and those persons who returned to England by the same vessel presented him with a gold snuff-box in appreciation of his valuable services as the commander.
- Certif. 416. Received a Medal from the Hon. East India Company for his exertions in the battles of Meance and Hyderabad, whilst in command of the Company's steam-vessel, "Nimrod," in 1843.
- Certif. 471. A Silver Snuff-box was presented to him by the passengers of the barque, "Thetis," in October, 1845, "as a token of their regard and remembrance of his kind attention during the voyage to Calcutta."
- Certif. 498. On landing the foreign emigrants at New York, from the "Katherine Stewart Forbes," in 1847, they presented to him a Piece of Plate, "as a token of their respect and esteem, and for his attention to them during the voyage from Antwerp."
- Certif. 525. The insurance offices and underwriters interested in the ship "Adelaide" which was saved from destruction by Captain Tremearne's unceasing attention, on her voyage from South Australia to London, in 1853, have, after compensating the crew for their services, presented Captain T. with 1000*l.* and a silver tea-service.
- Certif. 549. On arrival of the "Constance" at Adelaide, in November, 1849, after a passage of 77 days from Plymouth, Captain Godfrey was complimented by an invitation to a public dinner, and received the grateful thanks of his passengers for the ability and gentlemanly conduct displayed during the voyage. On arrival of the "Statesman" in September, 1852, from England in 83 days, the passengers presented him with 40 guineas for the purchase of any article in accordance with his taste.
- Certif. 603. The Passengers of the "Duke of Bronte" on their arrival at Adelaide (and the remaining portion of the Emigrants on their landing at Melbourne), in October, 1849, presented a testimonial to Captain Barclay, in which they publicly thanked him for his uniform kindness and attention to all, and his unbounded liberality to the sick. They also expressed their gratitude for his gentlemanly and manly deportment throughout, his unwearied assiduity for their comforts, and constant eye to the cleanliness of the ship; and last, but not least, for his gentlemanly and firm determination in putting down anything approaching to unpleasantness.

- Certif. 645. On the wreck of the "Superb," off the Minquiers, on 24th September, 1850, by his exertions he saved the lives of 30 persons. Several gentlemen who witnessed the promptitude displayed, presented, him with a handsome silver cup.
- Certif. 871. A silver Salver and Gold Watch was presented to him in June 1850, by the passengers from England to New Zealand, in the "Poictiers."
- Certif. 885. On arrival of the "Bussorah Merchant," at Port Adelaide, in December, 1848, the Emigrants presented a gold watch and chain to Captain Edwards, as a mark of their gratitude for his attention during the voyage; and in October, 1849, a similar compliment was paid to him by the Emigrants on their landing at Port Philip, when he received a large silver cup, knife, fork, and spoon. In May, 1850, at a dinner given by the cabin passengers, a sextant, valued at thirty guineas, was presented as a mark of their estimation of Captain Edwards's distinguished merits.
- Certif. 1077. In September, 1849, the owners of the "Mahommed Shah" presented him with £50 for assistance rendered to that vessel when in a destitute condition at sea; also received from the passengers on the homeward voyage, in the "Mount Stuart Elphinston," a handsome Aneroid Barometer, with appropriate testimonial.
- Certif. 1156. In April, 1853, when in command of the "Equator," received a silver salver weighing 100 ounces, from the owners of the "Titania," for saving the lives of 30 persons, taken from the wreck of that vessel during a heavy gale in the China seas, in the September previously, also from one of the passengers, so rescued, a gold spy-glass and sympesometer.
- Certif. 1225. A handsome Silver Cup was presented to him for the judicious management displayed in rescuing 76 passengers from the "King William," which was wrecked about ten miles from Newcastle, New South Wales: it bears the following inscription:—
 "Presented by the Cabin Passengers of the "King William" Steamer to George William Jackson, Esq., Harbour Master at Newcastle, as a mark of their gratitude for the prompt and efficient assistance rendered them during the wreck of that vessel on the morning of the 2nd July, 1839."
- Certif. 1643. The Underwriters of Lloyds' presented him with a Gratuity of £100 for his meritorious conduct in saving the lives of the crew and passengers of the "Nautilus" steamer, which caught fire, July, 1847, on her passage from Alexandria to Liverpool.
- Certif. 1774. A silver salver bearing the following inscription, was presented to him at Sydney, in May, 1853,—“Presented to Captain W. Parfitt, accompanied by a purse of 340 sovereigns, as a testimonial of respect from the Merchants, Banking Companies, and others of the city of Sydney, in recognition of the energy and promptitude displayed by him whilst in command of the "Formosa" steam-ship, thereby ensuring the delivery in London of the Sydney mails of 8th November, 1852, in the short space of 69 days.”
- Certif. 1799. The passengers from England in the "Digby," on their arrival at Port Phillip in September, 1850, presented Captain Buchanan with a gold watch and chain, with a suitable address, acknowledging his humane treatment, his merits as a seaman, and his provident kindness towards every one during the voyage.

- Certif. 1969. On his return to England, in October, 1846, after the wreck of the hired transport vessel, "Briton," on Andaman island; the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty presented him with one hundred guineas, as a mark of their approbation of his services.
- Certif. 2111. The Underwriters of Lloyds', in the year 1851, presented the sum of £100, to be divided amongst the master and crew of the "Apollo," for their exemplary conduct during the period of 6 weeks which they were exposed in the Atlantic in a helpless state, and for their exertions in bringing the vessel in safety to London.
- Certif. 2571. Her Britannic Majesty's Consul, Lloyd's Agent, and several distinguished merchants and residents of Valparaiso, on the occasion of Captain Winchester, of the brig "Victoria," of Newcastle, returning to England, in July, 1849, after a detention of two years in that port, presented him with a testimonial of their approbation of his conduct, and particularly as regarded his steadiness, sobriety, and attention to the duties incumbent on him as a shipmaster.
- Certif. 2609. Has been presented with a valuable chronometer, on the lid of which is inserted a silver tablet, bearing the following inscription:—
"The inhabitants of Mauritius present this chronometer to Mr. S. B. Sheard, late Second Officer of the 'Randolph,' wrecked on this island, on the night of the 25th June, 1851, to mark their admiration of his gallantry and humanity in repeatedly risking his life under circumstances of peril and danger, in order to save the Indian Emigrants, in which he was eminently successful."
- Certif. 2884. Received a silver snuff-box from 307 Irish Emigrants on a voyage from Plymouth to Sydney, in the "Isabella," of London, as a token of gratitude for his kindness.
- Certif. 5085. April, 1849. Received from Messrs. Smith, Hufnagle, and Co., Merchants, Calcutta, a silver cup, as a mark of respect and esteem as consignees of the barque "Regina," of Sunderland, under his command.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SURVEYORS OF STEAM VESSELS;
AND THE
ADMIRALTY REGULATIONS AS TO LIGHTS TO BE CARRIED;
TOGETHER WITH THE VOLUNTARY EXAMINATION IN STEAM.

---

Surveys.

What vessels to be surveyed. EVERY steam-vessel constructed or intended to carry passengers, (except vessels which are employed in carrying mails or despatches under contract with the Admiralty to or from places beyond the limits of the rivers Elbe and Brest) is to be surveyed twice at least in every year by a shipwright surveyor, and by an engineer surveyor appointed by the Board of Trade. If the owner or his agents state that any vessel is not intended to be used in the conveyance of passengers, she is not to be surveyed. Every steam-vessel which carries persons for hire or remuneration is to be considered as constructed or intended to carry passengers.

Time when surveys are to be made. These surveys are always, when practicable, to be made in the months of October and April, so that the declarations may be transmitted on or before the 30th day of April and the 30th day of October respectively.

Exception. But in case any steam-vessel at the times when the surveys ought to be made should not be in the United Kingdom, or not be in a proper state for a survey, either from her being under repair, or from any other satisfactory reason, then the survey is to be made as soon after as possible, and the declaration transmitted with a statement of the reasons which have prevented the survey of such vessel being made at the time prescribed.

Surveyors to send list of steamers to the Board of Trade. As the names of all the steam-vessels frequenting certain ports are not at present known; and as they are frequently changing, the surveyors are, in the month of April in each year, to make a list of all such vessels as frequent their port or district, and which it would be convenient to have surveyed there, and transmit it to the Board of Trade.

On the receipt of this, a list of the vessels to be surveyed by each surveyor will be forwarded to him, and each person is, as far as can be done, to confine his inspections to the vessels appropriated to him; but if any surveyor be applied to by any owner, master, or agent to survey any vessel in the port not appropriated, he is to do so; and at any time when called upon in cases of emergency, and to prevent inconvenience to owners, he is to make any survey that may be required of him.

In making these periodical surveys, or surveys of any kind, the surveyors are to take convenient opportunities for so doing, so far as can be done consistently with the periods named in the Act; and with respect to the examination of the bottom of the vessel outside, they are to take the opportunity of making it at times when the vessel is lying upon the ground, or in dock, or on the slip, which may always be done, considering that unless a vessel meet with an accident, one such inspection in each year will be sufficient.

To take the opportunity of the vessel being on the ground to examine her bottom.

If, in consequence of any accident to a steam-vessel, or for any other reason, the surveyor considers it necessary so to do, he may require the vessel to go into dock for the purpose of surveying the hull thereof; but the surveyors are to be cautious never to exercise this power unless the circumstances are such as really to require it.

If necessary, a surveyor may order a vessel to be docked.

Declarations.

The declarations are of two kinds, one to be made by the shipwright surveyor, the other by the engineer surveyor, and they are either river or sea-going.

The declaration of the shipwright surveyor is to contain a statement to the following effect:—

Declaration of Shipwright Surveyor.

1. That the vessel is adapted for sea service, or for river or lake service, as the case may be.

2. That the hull is in a good condition, and sufficient for the service.

3. That the vessel, if sea-going, is provided with the requisite number of boats, and of the dimensions specified in the Act for her class.

4. That, if sea-going, she has the requisite number of night-signals, life-buoys, and has her lights fitted according to the Admiralty regulations, &c.

5. If river-going, that she is to ply between _____ and _____.

6. That the compasses have been examined and adjusted to his satisfaction.

He is to insert in the proper columns the number of superficial feet of clear space measured, as hereinafter directed, and the number of passengers the vessel is constructed to carry, according to the limits within which she is intended to ply, estimated according to the rules annexed to these instructions.

In addition to these particulars, the shipwright surveyor is to fill in such other information as may be necessary to complete the columns of the declarations.

As much inconvenience has arisen from owners not understanding the requirements which are necessary for steamers plying within the limits which are beyond those of river navigation, surveyors are to be careful to explain them to them when they are applied to, and they are not to send up declarations or even applications for the certificate marked with the letter B (see below, page 289), unless the vessels are calculated for the service by having a mast and sail, a compass, and the other necessary requirements for such occasions. The river, the excursion, and the sea limits of their ports have been supplied to them for this purpose, and they are to be careful to attend to the directions respecting them.*

They are to insert in all the declarations for river-going vessels the limits that have been named to them by this department, and no other, and are to state the number of passengers to be carried in those limits according to the directions contained below under the head of passengers, and they are to write these numbers opposite to the "ABOVE" and "BELOW," according as the place they are adapted for is above or below the prescribed limit of the smooth water or river portion of the voyage, thus—

Below ditto . . .	150 ditto.

Gravesend being the limit of the smooth water navigation of the Thames.

It is also important that the number and date of the previous certificate (if any) granted by this department should be inserted at the top of each declaration in order that a ready reference to it may be obtained.

Declaration
surveyor.

The declaration of the engineer surveyor is to contain the following statements, viz.—

1. That the vessel (if iron) is divided into the requisite number of compartments by water-tight iron bulkheads, as specified in the Act.

2. That the machinery is in good condition, and sufficient for the service.

3. That the boilers are in good condition, and sufficient for the service, and are fitted with the safety-valves required by the Act, and as explained by the circular of 19th April 1852.

4. That, if sea-going, there is a fire hose fitted of sufficient length to reach to any part of the vessel; and he is to add any further information which may be necessary to render the columns complete.

Time for
rations are to be given.

The declarations are to be given for a period of six months from the date of the survey, provided the hull and machinery appear to be good for that time, but if not, then for such a period and no more as in the opinion of the surveyor they are calculated to last in order. But when a survey of either the hull or machinery alone is made, the declaration is to be given for a period only which will make it expire when the other existing certificate falls in, so that at the next inspection both hull and machinery may be surveyed together, unless, indeed, the owner wishes to have a survey of both kinds, in which case the declaration, as before, is to be given for six months from that date, or for a shorter period, if the state of the vessel require it.

* See Passenger Accommodation.

Printed forms of declarations will be supplied by the Board of Trade, which the surveyors are carefully to fill up, and deliver to the owner of the vessel or his agent, in order that they may be by them transmitted to the Board of Trade; and as the owners of steamers are liable to a penalty of ten shillings a day after fourteen days' delay in the transmission of the declarations to the Board of Trade, surveyors are to be careful that such declarations are duly delivered to the owners or their agents, as they may be required to prove the delivery.

In the declaration is to be inserted in its proper place, opposite the words Col. 1, 2, 3, &c., the number of boats the vessel is actually provided with, taking care that the rules on the subject are complied with. See instructions as to Boats.

Passenger Accommodation.

The following rules are to be observed by the surveyors in appropriating to steam-vessels surveyed by them the number of passengers which those vessels are respectively constructed to carry, viz.—

Rule.—Measure all the clear space on the upper deck which can be properly appropriated to passengers, and is free from all incumbrance, exclusive of the space on the sponsons (in all but river boats), and exclusive of all hatchways, skylights, companions, steam-chest, windlass, steerage-wheel, binnacles, dunnage for luggage, &c.; and also of boats, if carried inboard, and of all other like impediment to passenger accommodation.

In vessels which have a poop, a forecastle, or a spar deck between the paddle-boxes, such exposed places being unfit for passengers, except in fine weather, are not to be included in the measurement, but the spaces under them, or such a portion of such spaces as is appropriated to the passengers, may be included.

Then (1) for vessels which are intended to ply exclusively on rivers, lakes, or on other waters which are always smooth—divide the above-mentioned aggregate number of superficial feet by 3, and the quotient is to be considered the number of passengers to be allowed to such vessel while she continues to ply within such perfectly smooth-water limits.

(2) For places which are more exposed, and yet do not extend to the open sea, the above-mentioned aggregate amount of clear space is to be divided by 6, to which, in some cases, may be added a proportion of the cabin space.*

(3) All sea-going paddle steamers are to have the above-mentioned clear space divided by 9, and in all cases where the quotient falls short of the amount of the gross tonnage of the vessel, the number is to be increased by as many passengers as there is accommodation for on the lower deck and cabins, at the same amount of superficial feet per head, (provided such place is

* See Note, p. 289.

Excursions along the

wholly free from cargo, and properly ventilated, and entirely appropriated to the passengers,) until the whole number of passengers equals the gross amount of tonnage of the vessel.

(4) In vessels applying for an excursion certificate for short distances along the coast during day light, the deck and cabin spaces are to be added together and divided by 9, and the result to be the number of passengers, although it should exceed the gross tonnage of the vessel.*

(5) Screw steamers, in which the deck passengers are allowed to go below, and are accommodated with space on the lower deck for one half their numbers, or on which the bulwarks are raised, so as to afford protection to the passengers on deck, are to be licensed to carry the same number of passengers in each case as paddle steamers.

(6) Screw steamers, on which these provisions are not made, are to be licensed to carry only one passenger to every four tons of the register tonnage.

Note.—If from any peculiar construction of a steamer there should be an unusual amount of permanent deck incumbrance, so as to greatly reduce the passenger accommodation, and there should be at the same time good accommodation in the saloons, the surveyors are to note it in their declarations, and to state, in addition to the number of passengers the vessel can carry on deck to the proper proportion of square feet, what number of passengers can be accommodated below at the rate of 9 superficial feet to a passenger. In making the measurement in the cabins and saloons, the sofas may be included in with the standing room of the clear deck space.

During the winter months only two-thirds of the number of passengers allowed as above under classes 2, 3, and 4 are to be permitted.

Certificates.

If the declarations are to the satisfaction of the Board of Trade, a certificate and a copy of it adapted to the service for which the vessel is required will be granted to the owner of the vessel,† and either the certificate or the copy is to be suspended in a conspicuous part of the vessel where it can be seen by all the passengers, under a penalty of 10*l*. And the surveyors are occasionally to notice whether the copies of the certificates which are suspended on board the vessel correspond with the certificates which have been given to them.

* These vessels are to have sea-going declarations, but they will not be required to carry the blue lights mentioned in No. 4 of the requirements in the certificate.

† The certificates will be forwarded to the shipping masters, to whom the owner or his agent at the port is to apply for them; but if they are not applied for within three days they are to be delivered at the residence of the owner, or of the master.

Representations having been made that many steam-vessels which are usually employed on rivers, and which therefore have river certificates, are occasionally employed for excursions beyond the local limits stated in their respective certificates, and that hardship will arise if they are prevented from so doing for the future, the following arrangement is to be adopted :—

Excursion
Certificates

When it is intended to use a river vessel for excursions beyond the river limits, or for short trips along the coast, the owner or master should state his intention to the shipwright and engineer surveyor; and if they are of opinion that the vessel is fit to make the intended excursion, they are to report the case to the Board, and send up declarations of the sufficiency of the hull, &c., in which are to be inserted,—

1. The limits of the proposed excursion.
2. The number of passengers to be carried on such a voyage.*
3. That the vessel is provided with a foresail and jib bent; a compass fixed and in good order; a suitable anchor and cable; a boat or boats proper for the occasion; and two life-buoys.

If the excursion is along the coast in the open sea, the vessel will be required to have on board all the requirements of a sea voyage, except the blue lights and rockets, which may be dispensed with during the summer.

A certificate, which will in general be the certificate marked B, will then be forwarded to the surveyor, upon which the limits and the number of passengers will be inserted, and upon which it will also be stated that the vessel, when using the certificate, is provided with a foresail and jib,† a compass, an anchor and cable, a boat, and two life-buoys, and if on an excursion along the coast, with other requirements. As the certificates for excursions will in future remain with the vessels, and the surveyors be put to no trouble on their account as before, the fee of 5s. will be discontinued, except in cases where a vessel having obtained a certificate applies for another of a different description, and for which the surveyor may have to forward a new declaration, or to see that the necessary sails, boats, &c., are on board, in which case he may demand the fee as before.

Boats.

It will be the duty of the shipwright surveyor to take care that all steam-vessels are provided with the boats required by the Act, both as to number and cubic contents, and to be very particular in seeing that they are efficient and in good order and ready for service, subject to the rules contained in the following instructions. Surveyors are not to insist upon the precise lengths and breadths and depths inserted in the table, but are to approve of any boats of

TOTAL NUMBER OF BOATS.

If, however, the smaller number of boats required by the Act is carried, one of them must be of the capacity named in column 2 of the table, or larger. Boats.

If the larger number of boats is carried, the cubic contents (equal in their aggregate to the cubic contents required by the Act) may be spread in any way over the whole number of boats.

In addition to the above relaxations, this Board are willing, in any special case in which it is shown that steamers, from any peculiarity of construction (such as having the paddle-wheels placed unusually far aft), or from other causes, are incapable of stowing the number of boats prescribed by the Act, or boats of the precise dimensions required by the Act, to consider the propriety of making an exception to meet the case upon a proper representation being made to them, accompanied by the report of any two of the surveyors appointed under the Act.

The measurement of all the boats should be taken outside for length and breadth, and inside for depth, measuring from the top of the wash strake.

In the examination of the life-boats care is to be taken that the buoyancy applied is sufficient to support in the water the number of persons the boat is calculated to hold. It will assist in making this calculation to bear in mind that the average weight of an adult person is about 162 lb., and that a cubic foot of salt water is about 64 lb. Life-boats.

The life-buoys required by the Act are also to be examined by the shipwright surveyors, who are to recommend that they be always kept in a place of readiness. Life-buoys.

The enactments with respect to boats and life-buoys do not apply to vessels having a certificate under the Passenger Act, 1852.

Fire Hose.

The hose required by the Act ought to be of sufficient length to extinguish fire in every part of the vessel, and it will be the engineer surveyor's duty to inspect it. Fire-hose.

Signals of Distress.

The night signals of distress are to be carefully examined by the shipwright surveyors, to see that they are kept dry and in good order, and are protected from fire and accident, and that the caannon is in good condition and ready for use. Signals of distress.

Safety Valves.

The engineer surveyor, in his examination of the machinery and boilers, is particularly to direct his attention to the safety valves, and, whenever he considers it necessary, he is to satisfy himself as to the pressure upon the boiler, and he is to see that the additional safety valve imposed by the Act is properly weighted and Safety valves.

Safety valves constructed, and is of the same dimensions as that of the ordinary valve, so that the intention of the Act be fully carried out; but surveyors are to take notice that in consequence of doubts as to the meaning of the 21st section of the Act, which requires that after the 31st day of March 1852 each boiler of every steam vessel shall have a safety valve "free from the care of the engineer, and out of his control and interference," and of the practical difficulty which has been experienced in bringing it into operation, the following instructions are to be attended to by the surveyors.

Each boiler must be fitted with a safety valve, constructed so that it shall be entirely out of the control of the engineer when the steam is up, and so that he may not have the power of increasing the pressure upon it in any manner whilst the vessel is under steam.

The responsibility of seeing to the efficiency of the mode in which this is done rests with the surveyors; but either of the following modes appear to this Board to be satisfactory.

The valve may either be contained wholly within the boiler and accessible through the man hole only, or on the outside of the boiler, enclosed in a box sufficiently large only for the weights and the necessary motion for them, and secured by a lock, of which the key is not to be kept by the engineer, and is, if kept on board, to be in charge of the master of the vessel, who will, of course, in such case be responsible, should any additional weight or pressure be placed on the valve.

These safety valves are in all cases to be of the same areas as the ordinary safety valves upon the same boiler, and to bear an equal or less pressure, but not in any case a greater.

In cases where two or more boilers of a steamer have a common steam chest, and there is no means of shutting off the steam from or disconnecting either of them, they may, so far as the safety valve in question is concerned, be considered as one boiler.

It is extremely desirable that the safety valve required by the Act, should be in addition to the ordinary valve, and the surveyors should point out this to the owners of vessels; but, as it is not expressly enjoined by the Act, they are not to refuse a declaration on account of the recommendation not being complied with.

The engineer surveyors are, so far as is in their power, to make the opinion of the Board of Trade on these points generally known to the proprietors of steam-vessels carrying passengers.

Surveyors are therefore not to give any declaration for a steam-vessel unless they are satisfied that the requisite safety valve is properly fitted.

Lights.

The light boxes and lamps of steamers are to be carefully inspected by the shipwright surveyor, who is to notice whether they are in order, and the blinds so fixed as to blink the light in the manner required by the Admiralty Regulations, an abstract of which is given below, and that the lenses are so placed that the light will show in the required directions.

ADMIRALTY REGULATIONS.

STEAM-VESSELS.

All British sea-going steam-vessels (whether propelled by paddles or screws), shall within all seas, gulfs, channels, straits, bays, creeks, roads, roadsteads, harbours, havens, ports, and rivers, and under all circumstances, between sunset and sunrise, exhibit lights of such description and in such manner as is hereinafter mentioned, viz.—

WHEN UNDER STEAM.

1. Bright white light at the foremast head.
2. Green light on the starboard side.
3. Red light on the port side.

1. The mast-head light is to be visible at a distance of at least five miles in a dark night, with a clear atmosphere; and the lantern is to be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of twenty points of the compass, being ten points on each side of the ship—viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side.

2. The green light on the starboard side is to be visible at a distance of at least two miles in a dark night, with a clear atmosphere; and the lantern is to be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of ten points of the compass—viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side.

3. The red light on the port side is likewise to be fitted so as to throw its light the same distance on that side.

4. The side lights are moreover to be fitted with screens on the inboard side of at least three feet long, to prevent the lights from being seen across the bow.

WHEN AT ANCHOR.

A common bright light.

Directions for Fitting the Lights.

The manner of fixing the coloured lights is to be particularly attended to. They should be fitted, each, with a screen of wood, on the inboard side, in order to prevent both being seen at the same moment from any direction but that of right a-head.

This is important, for without the screens (a principle first introduced with this plan) any plan of bow-lights would be ineffective as a means of indicating the direction of steering.

This will be readily understood by a reference to the illustrations contained in the Regulation, as published by the Admiralty, where it will appear evident, that in any situation in which two vessels may approach each other in the dark, the coloured lights will instantly indicate to both the relative course of each,—that is, each will know whether the other is approaching directly or crossing the bows either to starboard or to port. This intimation is all that is required to enable vessels to pass each other in the darkest night with almost equal safety as in broad day, and for the want of which so many lamentable accidents have occurred.

It is left to all persons concerned to furnish themselves with whatever description of lantern they may see fit to adopt, provided always that the above conditions are fully and effectually carried out.

Compasses.

A certificate to the effect that the compasses of all sea-going steamers have been examined and adjusted by competent persons is to be required of the master or owner, and is to be carefully examined by the shipwright surveyor, who is to satisfy himself as to the proficiency of the person whose signature is attached to the certificate, so as, in the words of the Act, Sect. III. "to be satisfied that the compasses have been properly examined and adjusted," more especially in iron steam-vessels; and either the certificate, or a copy of it, with the name of the party giving the certificate, is to be sent with the declaration to the Board of Trade.

Annexed is a form for the adjustment of compasses, which has been prepared with care, and may be used with advantage by the persons who give the certificates, especially in the case of iron steamers. These forms, when so used, are to be properly filled up, signed, and forwarded to the Board of Trade.

This form to be filled up to every second point of the compass, if possible; and a statement to be made whether any magnets or iron have been used to adjust the compasses. If it should happen that a master of any vessel has not been able to procure a certificate of the adjustment of his compass having been made, and it shall not appear to be from any negligence or fault of his, the surveyor may forward the declarations, and note the fact on the face of the document, and he is not to detain any vessel in consequence.

Bulkheads.

Water-tight bulkheads in iron steam-ers. All iron steam-vessels (except those specially exempted in the Act) are to be divided into three water-tight compartments, by bulkheads before and abaft the engine-room; and the surveyors, both engineer and shipwright are to report that these bulkheads are of sufficient strength for the purpose contemplated by the Act, and that the compartments are water-tight.

In the placing of these bulkheads, mistake has often been made in fixing them too close to the engine-room, by which either the forward or after compartment is left so capacious that either filling with water will carry the vessel down. The surveyors cannot alter such as are fixed, but they are to notice such in their reports to the Board, or any other peculiarity which may appear to be of consequence.

Accident or Damage.

In all cases where steam-vessels subject to the Steam Navigation Act have sustained damage from any accident or other cause, the surveyors of the port where the vessel may be are to go on board and inspect the damage, taking care not to cause any alteration of the articles on board which would be at all likely to affect any legal evidence, should an enquiry into the case afterwards be considered necessary.

They are forthwith to send a report * to the Board of Trade, in order that the certificate may be cancelled if necessary. But as it may happen that the damage can be made good, and the vessel may be required to proceed to sea before there is time for information of the repairs being effected to reach the Board of Trade, and a fresh certificate to be returned, the surveyor † may hold the certificate of the vessel during the time she is under repair, and for this purpose he is to require it of the master. When the vessel is in every respect rendered seaworthy and efficient both in hull and machinery, to his entire satisfaction, and not unless, he is to put an endorsement on the back of the certificate, to the effect that the damage has been made good entirely, or for any limited period that he may consider it perfectly safe for the vessel to run, and to return the certificate to the master or owner, and allow the vessel to proceed. He is then to send up the usual declarations of the efficiency of the vessel, and a statement of the extent of the repair that was necessary, in order that the Board

* It will be sufficient, if this report states in general terms whether the vessel is rendered inefficient or unseaworthy either in hull or machinery, and that the particulars be supplied afterwards when ascertained.

† Either shipwright or engineer, according to the nature of the damage sustained.

may decide upon the amount of fee (if any) that should be paid, and of the necessity also of a fresh certificate.

Should the master or owner decline to give up the certificate, the surveyor is to send information immediately to the Board of Trade, and it will be cancelled.

In case of accident or damage sustained or caused by steam-vessels, the surveyors, if required so to do by the Board of Trade, but not otherwise, are to hold an investigation under the 31st and 32nd sections of the Act.

The surveyors may go on board any steam-vessel, at all reasonable times, for the purpose of inspection, either of the vessel, the machinery, the boats, or other equipments rendered necessary by the Act, and the owners, masters, and engineers of steam-vessels are required by the Act to give to the surveyors, on being requested so to do, all such information and assistance within their power as may be required for the purpose of the returns required by the Act. In the performance of this part of their duty, the surveyors are to be careful to avoid impeding the duty of the vessel, or giving offence to any of the officers. But if they should be hindered or vexatiously obstructed by any person in the performance of their duties, they are to communicate the same without delay to the Board of Trade, as such persons render themselves liable to a penalty.

Every surveyor who demands or receives, directly or indirectly, from the owner or master of any vessel surveyed by him under the provisions of this Act, any fee or remuneration whatever for or in respect of such survey otherwise than as the agent and by the direction of the Board of Trade, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 50*l.* at the suit of any person whatsoever.

The fees for the certificates will be paid to the shipping masters by the owners or their agents at the time of the delivery of the certificate.

Every person who knowingly and wilfully makes or assists in making a false or fraudulent declaration or certificate with respect to any vessel requiring a certificate under this Act, or who knowingly and wilfully forges, counterfeits, or fraudulently alters or assists in forging, counterfeiting, or altering, any declaration or certificate required by this Act, or any words or figures in any such declarations or certificates, or the signatures thereto, is to be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, or to be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding 50*l.*, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, not exceeding one month.

The surveyors are to be careful that the steamers which run between ports in their district and their own place of residence are surveyed on some convenient occasion within the periods named in the Act, when they are in (the surveyor's) ports, as no travelling expenses will be allowed should they omit to do so and have to travel to other ports in consequence. When a surveyor is obliged to proceed to a port in his district at a distance from the port

General Powers.

Surveyors may go on board at all reasonable times for the purpose of inspection.

Surveyors taking fees from owners or agents liable to a penalty of 50*l.*

Travelling expenses.

where he resides, for the purpose of surveying a steam-vessel, he is to inform himself of the time at which the steamer will be ready for inspection, and be careful to be on the spot at the appointed hour.

The travelling expenses under such circumstances will be the full fare to and from the place, in second-class railway carriage, or first class fare by water, and will, if not occasioned by any act or default of the owner or master, be paid by the Board of Trade, and may be charged accordingly.

Should a steamer under the circumstances above mentioned (of a surveyor being sent for) not be ready for inspection at the time arranged, the surveyors may make any arrangement convenient to the owner or his agent, for either waiting or returning again, or having the vessel sent to this port, as may be agreed upon; but all charges above what were necessary for the first journey will be at the owner's expense.

Postage is not payable on letters sent from or addressed to this department.

Examinations in Steam.

Arrangements have been made for giving to those masters or applicants for masters' certificates who desire to do so an opportunity of undergoing an examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine. These examinations are conducted under the superintendence of the Local Marine Boards, at such times as they may appoint for the purpose; and the examiners are selected by the Board of Trade, from the engineer surveyors appointed under the Steam Navigation Act.*

The examination is vivâ voce. It extends to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of the steam-engine, and the applicant must show that he has a sufficient knowledge of the ordinary parts of the machinery, to enable him to judge of the nature of an accident, and in the absence of the engineer, to give the necessary directions in the engine room. In order to guide the Engineer-Surveyor as to the extent of knowledge which the Board of Trade think it desirable that applicants should possess, the following set of questions have been drawn up and should in substance be adhered to. To these may be added any questions of a similarly easy and practical character which the Examiner may think desirable; but it is to be distinctly understood that all intricate theoretical questions on the expansion and elastic force of steam, on calculations of horse power, on areas of cylinders, valves, or in short any of the more difficult questions which appertain to the steam-engines and boilers, may be avoided, and that the examination may in fact be confined to what a master of a steam-vessel may be called upon to perform in cases of the death or delinquency of the engineer.

* Engineer surveyors are not, however, to consider this as forming part of their duties, unless they receive special notice from the Board of Trade.

The engineer surveyor appointed to conduct these examinations, on receiving a notice from the Local Marine Board of the port at which he resides, is to attend at the time required, and put the applicant through the course of examination herewith annexed, and to require such answers as will satisfy the examiner that he is competent to control the working of the engine, and is conversant with the ordinary parts of the machinery, so as to be able to judge of the nature of any accident that may occur, and in the absence of the engineer, if necessary, to give the requisite directions in the engine-room.

Examination of officers commanding steam vessels, in steam.

If the applicant should fail to answer some few of the under-mentioned questions, and yet, in the opinion of the Examiner, possess such a competent knowledge of the parts of the engine generally, and such other practical knowledge of the subject, as will enable him to effect the object in view, he may in such a case exercise his discretion as to whether a sufficiently high standard of knowledge has been attained, and pass him or not accordingly.

QUESTIONS

TO BE ANSWERED BY COMMANDERS OF STEAM VESSELS UNDER EXAMINATION IN THE PRACTICAL USE OF THE STEAM ENGINE.

Explain the nature and use of the principal valves and cocks connected with the boilers and engines, commencing with the boilers.

Boiler Valves and Cocks.

Safety valves.
Reverse or atmospheric valves.
Communication or stop valves.
Feed valves.
Kingston valves.
Blow-off cocks.
Communication cocks.
The water-gauge cocks.
The glass water gauge.
Steam gauge.
Hand-pump for boilers.

Engine Valves and Cocks.

Throttle valves.
The slide valves.
The expansion valves.
The escape valves on top and bottom of cylinder.
The blow-through valve.
The foot valve.
The delivering valve.

The air-pump bucket valves.
 The injection valves and cocks.
 Bilge-pump valves and cocks.
 Stop or sluice valves to discharge pipes.
 Jacket cocks.
 The sniffling valves.

Boilers.

1. If the safety valves were set fast, how would you relieve the pressure on the boilers, if steam was up and could not make its escape ?
2. How do you ascertain the saltiness of the water in the boilers ?
3. How would you manage to change the water in the boilers, if the blow-off cocks were set fast ?
4. On examining the boilers, and they are found to be thin, what measures would you adopt to prevent accidents ?
5. How would you keep the boiler free from salt and incrustation ?
6. Is it requisite to have a hand-pump fitted to the boilers ; if so, for what purpose.
7. Explain the use of the gauge-glasses and gauge-cocks, fitted on the boilers.
8. If the mercury was blown out of the steam-gauge by the pressure of steam in the boilers, what would you apprehend was the cause ?
9. What would you do to relieve the pressure of the boilers ?
10. How would you regulate the height or quantity of water in the boilers ?
11. When the steam is up, how is the feed applied to the boilers ?
12. When it is not up, what is necessary to be done before the fires are lighted ?
13. When the engines are stopped, what precautions are necessary with regard to the water in the boiler ?
14. What is meant by a boiler priming ?
15. How would you prevent it doing so ?
16. If the water in a boiler is suffered to get too low what may be the consequences ?
17. What height should the water stand in a common boiler above the flues.
18. What height should the water stand in a tubular boiler above the tubes ?
19. If any of the tubes were damaged by the fire or leaky, what would you do, supposing you could not shift them ?
20. How do you detect the pressure of steam in a boiler ?
21. If the water in a boiler is suffered to get too high, what might be the consequences ?
22. How would you know when the water in the boiler requires changing ?
23. Explain the use of the thermometer and hydrometer.

Engines.

24. Explain the use of the cylinders.
25. Explain the use of the air pump.
26. Explain the use of the condenser.
27. Explain the use of the eduction pipe.
28. Explain the use of the hot-water cistern.
29. Explain the use of the piston, and how fitted.
30. Explain the use of the stuffing-box and glands.
31. Explain the use of the parallel-motion rods.
32. Explain the use of the excentric, and how fitted.
33. Explain the use of the starting-lever.
34. Explain the use of the barometer.
35. Explain the use of the steam-gauge.
36. The vessel is alongside the wharf, proceed to get the steam up.
37. When the steam is up, how is it applied to the engines to set it in motion ?
38. What precaution is necessary before the engine is set in motion ?
39. How do you start the engine ?
40. Is it necessary to move the engines by hand a turn or two before starting ?
41. The engines being started, regulate the injection-cocks so as to keep them going at full or reduced speed.
42. What is the use of the injection ?
43. How is the vacuum maintained in a condensing engine ?
44. How do you know when there is too much injection ?
45. How do you know when there is not enough injection ?
46. If the injection was not shut off when the engines are stopped, what would happen ?
47. If the condenser reject the injection, what would you do ?
48. Would it be advantageous if an injection-pipe was fitted so as to take injection from the bilge, if required ?
49. If water should get into the cylinder, what might be the consequence ?
50. In running free with a heavy sea, and a jump upon the engines, what precautions would you take to endeavour to prevent damage to the engines ?
51. If one engine was damaged, what would you do in order to proceed ?
52. If the excentric should break, could the engines still be worked ?
53. If a bearing becomes heated, what would you do ?
54. How would you slow an engine ?
55. How would you stop an engine ?
56. Wherein does a high-pressure differ from a low-pressure engine ?
57. How do you admit tallow into the cylinders, when the engines are at work, for the purpose of lubricating the pistons ?
58. What is meant by working the engines expansively ?

59. How would you disconnect the engines if there was no disconnecting gear fitted.

60. What is meant by throwing the engines out of gear?

61. Why have two feed-pumps fitted, say one to each engine?

62. Is it requisite to have branch-pipes fitted to the feed-pumps; if so, for what purpose?

The Engineer Examiner should provide drawings and working sections, on a sufficiently large scale, of the various parts of the steam-engine, and of the valves and slides, &c., as may be necessary, and should require the applicant to make use of them in giving his answers to the various questions put to him; and if an opportunity offer the applicant should be permitted, under the guidance of the Engineer, to start and stop an engine of some vessel which may have her steam up.

The practice will be as follows:—

The Examination will be conducted, in connexion with the other Examinations, in the premises and under the superintendence of the Local Marine Board, who will fix the time at which, and most convenient to all parties, it is to be held in such a way as may be most consistent with their ordinary business. The persons who may be examined in Steam are those who possess certificates of competency as masters, or who are applying for them. Any such person desiring to be so examined must hand in to the Shipping Master a statement in writing to that effect. If he is already possessed of a master's certificate of competency, he must deliver this statement with his certificate to the Shipping Master, at such time as the Local Marine Board may appoint for the purpose. If he has no certificate of competency, but is applying to be examined for one, he must make the statement above mentioned upon or annex it to the form E E. He must also, at the same time, pay a fee of 7s., which is to be entered by the Shipping Master in Schedule I.; and this entry must always be made so as to appear distinct from the fee (if any) paid by the applicant for an ordinary examination, and should be noted as being paid for an examination in Steam. No part of this fee of 7s. will be returned in case of failure.

The Shipping Master will inform the applicant of the time and place at which he is to attend to be examined, and the examination will then and there proceed in the same manner as the other visd voce examinations, according to the plan above laid down. The Examiner in Steam should then enter the result upon Form F F., in the column headed Remarks, and should sign the entry so made. If the applicant fails, and has given in his certificate, it may be at once returned to him. If he passes, his certificate (if any) is to be sent with the Form F F. to the Board of Trade. In the case of men who pass, the words "Passed in Steam," with the date and place of the examination, will be entered on the certificate and counterpart, and recorded, and the certificate will then be sent down to the Shipping Master, and delivered to the applicant in the usual manner.

The remuneration to be paid to the Engineer Examiners for their trouble cannot be definitively settled until some experience is obtained of the number of persons examined and of the manner in which the examinations are conducted; but steps will be taken to settle this point at an early period. The Board of Trade will also consider the necessary expense of preparing the drawings and plans above referred to, which the examiners are to submit before they incur any outlay. The fees to be paid as above mentioned will be applied towards payment of the above remuneration and expenses, and the remainder, if any, will be paid out of funds in the hands of this Board.

It will be observed the examinations in steam are confined at present to masters. Should they be found to succeed, they may hereafter be extended to mates.

OFFICIAL NOTICES.

CONSULAR FEES.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

RESPECTING FEES TO BE LEVIED BY CONSULS ON CERTIFYING TO THE SHIPMENT, DISCHARGE, OR DESERTION OF SEAMEN.

At the Court of Buckingham-Palace, the 14th day of April, 1851.

Present, The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament made and passed in the sixth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to regulate the payment of salaries and allowances to British Consuls at Foreign Ports, and the disbursements at such ports for certain public purposes," it is amongst other things enacted "that it shall and may be lawful for all Consuls-General and Consuls appointed by His Majesty, and resident within the dominions of any Sovereign or any Foreign State or Power in amity with His Majesty to accept, take, and receive the several fees particularly mentioned in the tables to this said Act annexed, for and in respect or on account of the several matters and things and official acts and deeds particularly mentioned in the said schedules; and that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, by any order or orders to be by him made, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time, as occasion may require, to increase or diminish or wholly to abolish all or any of the fees aforesaid, and to establish and authorise the payment of any greater or smaller or new or additional fees or fee, for or in respect of the several matters and things mentioned in the said schedules or any of them, or for or in respect of any other matters or things or matter or thing to be by any such Consul-General or Consul done or performed in the execution of such his office."

And whereas such Consuls-General and Consuls have under the provisions of the said Act, levied fees on certificates as to the shipment and discharge and desertion of British seamen at Foreign Ports:

And whereas it is expedient to alter the said fees: Now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act, and in execution of the powers in Her Majesty in Council in that behalf vested, it is hereby ordered by Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, that whenever a British Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul shall be called upon by masters of merchant ships to give his sanction in writing as to the shipment or discharge of a seaman, or his certificate as to the desertion of a seaman, it shall be lawful for such Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul to demand, recover, and receive from all masters or other chief officers or commanders of any ship or vessel belonging to any of Her Majesty's subjects, the sum of Two SHILLINGS for each seaman whose shipment or discharge shall have been so sanctioned, or whose desertion shall have been so certified; and that it shall not be lawful for such Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul to levy a larger fee for this service.

And the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

WM. L. BATHURST.

MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND.

Notice to Masters and Seamen.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament passed this 8th day of August, 1851, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts relating to the Merchant Seamen's Fund, and to provide for winding up the said Fund, and for the better Management thereof in the meantime," it is, amongst other things, enacted as follows:—

Section 20. "After the passing of this Act no Master or Seaman shall be compelled to pay any Duty or Contribution to the Fund; but any Duties which have become due to the Fund, and have been deducted from Wages before the passing of this Act, shall be paid to the Board of Trade, or in such manner as it directs; and any Master or Owner who neglects or refuses to make such Payment shall, in addition to such Payment, be liable to a Penalty of twice the Amount which he so neglects or refuses to pay."

Section 21. "No Master or Seaman who has not contributed to the Fund before the passing of this Act shall be allowed to contribute thereto, or to establish any Claim for a Pension or other Relief for himself or for his Wife or Children."

Section 22. "All Masters and Seamen who before the passing of this Act have contributed to the Fund, shall be allowed to continue to contribute thereto in manner hereinafter mentioned, and shall in respect of their Contributions be entitled to Relief in the Manner and subject to the Conditions hereinafter mentioned."

Section 23. "The Board of Trade shall fix the Time at which the Contributions to be made after the passing of this Act are to commence, and shall give not less than One Month's Notice thereof by advertising the same in the London Gazette; but such Time shall not be later than the First Day of January, One thousand eight hundred and fifty-two."

Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of the Provisions of this Act, Masters and Seamen will, after this 8th Day of August, 1851, no longer be compelled to pay any Contributions whatever to the Merchant Seamen's Fund.

Due Notice will be given of the Time at which the voluntary Contributions referred to in the Twenty-second Section of the Act, above quoted, are to commence, and of the manner in which they are to be paid.

BOARD OF TRADE, 8th August, 1851.

N.B.—This Notice is to be posted in the Shipping Offices, and to be otherwise distributed and made public.

GENERAL REGULATION

and 14 & 15 Vict. c. 96 s. 18.*

In exercise of the powers given to them by the 18th section of the Mercantile Marine Amendment Act, the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have dispensed with the observance of so much of 7 & 8 Victoria, c. 112, s. 18, as relates to the use of lime or lemon juice, sugar or vinegar, in ships bound to any ports on the Eastern Coast of North America, north of the 35th degree of north latitude, whether such ports are in the British Colonies, or in the United States, or to any ports situated in Islands in the Atlantic Ocean north of the same limits.

MERCHANT SEAMEN'S ACT.

BOARD OF TRADE, WHITEHALL,
30th September, 1853.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations having, with the concurrence of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, determined to exercise the powers given to them by the Mercantile Marine Act, 13th and 14th Vict., chap. 93, sec. 32, of dispensing with the observance of so much of the General Merchant Seaman's Act, 7th and 8th Vict., chap. 112, as relates to the Register Tickets of Seamen :

Notice is hereby given, that from and after the 1st day of October next, the system of Registering Seamen by means of Tickets will be discontinued, and that after that date neither Masters of British Ships nor British Seamen, will be required to observe any of the provisions of the said Act, 7th and 8th Vict., chap. 112, requiring such Tickets to be procured, kept, or produced, or otherwise relating thereto.

The Special Tickets issued for the purpose of recording voluntary contributions to the Merchant Seamen's Fund, under the Act for winding up that fund, 14th and 15th Vict., chap. 102, will still continue to be issued by Shipping Masters, and to be used as heretofore, and those Masters and Seamen who wish to keep up these contributions with a view to earning Pensions for themselves or their families, are hereby warned that they must keep their Fund Tickets, and produce them for the purpose of having their contributions recorded, upon pain of forfeiting their claims upon the fund.

With a view to the correctness of the records henceforth to be kept, Mariners are hereby warned, that by the 75th section of the Act 13th and 14th Vict., chap. 93, it is provided, that, if any Seaman, on or before being engaged, makes a false statement of the name of his last ship, or last alleged ship, or of his own name, he shall forfeit out of his wages a sum not exceeding 5*l*.

By Order,

T. H. FARRER.

CHOLERA.

Notice to Masters and Owners of Ships.

The approach of Cholera having rendered it necessary to take all possible precautions, and experience having shown that the Disease spreads rapidly and fatally wherever there is Overcrowding, Dirt, and Want of Ventilation, the attention of Masters and Owners of Ships is specially called to the following Sections of the Mercantile Marine Act :—

Section 63. “ Every Place in any Ship occupied by Seamen or Apprentices, and appropriated to their Use, shall have a Space of not less than Nine Superficial Feet for every Adult measured on the Deck or Floor of such Place, which shall be kept free from Stores or Goods of any kind not being their Personal Property in use during the Voyage ; and every such Place shall be securely and properly constructed and well ventilated.”

Section 69. “ If any Place in any Ship occupied by Seamen or Apprentices, and appropriated to their Use, is not in the whole sufficiently large to give such Space as hereinbefore required, or if any such Place is not securely and properly constructed and well ventilated, the Owner shall for every such Offence be liable to a Penalty not exceeding Twenty Pounds ; and if any such Space as aforesaid is not kept free from Goods and Stores as aforesaid, the Master shall for every such Offence be liable to a Penalty not exceeding Ten Pounds.”

Masters and Owners of Ships are hereby warned that the Board of Trade will, if occasion shall arise, take measures to enforce the above Enactments, by inspection, and, if necessary, by Legal Proceedings.

By Order of the Board,

F. W. BEECHEY.

W. H. WALKER.

CHOLERA.

Instructions to Captains of Ships issued by the General Board of Health.

Captains of Ships are hereby warned,—

I. What to avoid.

OVERCROWDING.—The amount of breathing space for the men which may suffice in ordinary times is insufficient in an epidemic season. Increase space as much as practicable. Permit no sails, large trunks, or any part of the cargo to occupy the fore-castle. If sufficient additional space cannot be otherwise obtained, erect a temporary tent on deck by awning, sails, &c. for the men at night, taking care that they sleep warm and dry. Ventilate the fore-castle and every part of the ship with fresh air as freely as possible. Pure air is the first essential requisite to safety.

DAMPNESS.—To lessen the danger from dampness let the boards be dry-rubbed. Let the men change their wet clothes whenever practicable, and never allow the wet clothes to remain below an instant. A thick flannel belt or bandage around the stomach or loins would be a great defence for sailors. Flannels or Guernsey frocks should be worn next the skin. Sudden and violent attacks of Cholera often follow a chill.

FILTH.—Let every part of the ship be kept as clean and sweet as possible, and enjoin personal cleanliness on the men. Vessels affected by bilge water should be pumped out frequently, especially steamers.

UNWHOLESOME FOOD.—Articles of food which may be taken with little inconvenience in ordinary times may be dangerous in an epidemic season. The best articles of food are meat, good biscuits, rice, oatmeal, and good potatoes. Solid food is better than fluids, and therefore at this time it would be desirable to give the crew beef and mutton instead of soup. Care should be taken to avoid all tainted meat and decayed vegetables. Special attention should be paid to having a supply of pure water. All river water near towns should be avoided.

EXCESS.—Great moderation both in food and drink is absolutely essential to safety. A single act of indiscretion has been followed by a severe attack; intemperance at such a time is fraught with extreme danger. An epidemic atmosphere commonly produces great depression, both of body and mind, and a desire for stimulants. If for the relief of this feeling recourse be had to gin or brandy, the result may be fatal.

PURGATIVE MEDICINES.—No purgative medicines of any kind should be taken at this season—unless under medical direction. Glauber's Salts and Epsom Salts are especially dangerous. Owners and Masters should provide themselves with the necessary medicines immediately.

II. What to do.

Cholera is commonly not so sudden in its attack as is supposed. It usually gives warning of its approach for some hours, and often for a day or two, by some degree of looseness of the bowels. This may be slight, and it is almost always without pain; but let no one be put off his guard by this circumstance. The Master should, by observation and inquiry, take notice of the health of the crew; and for his guidance, until such time as he may be able to obtain medical assistance, the following recommendations are subjoined:—

If any man should be attacked with any degree of looseness of the bowels the following medicine should be given to him at once: Fifteen or Twenty grains of Opiate confection, mixed with Two table spoonsful of Peppermint Water, or with a little weak brandy and water warm. This should be repeated every three or four hours, or oftener if the attack is severe. If this medicine is not at hand, Eight or Ten drops of Laudanum may be substituted for the Opiate confection.

If the purging is severe, and especially if attended with vomiting or coldness, the man should go to bed immediately, and be kept warm. Bottles of hot water, or bags filled with salt or bran, should be applied to the stomach and feet and along the spine.

A large poultice of mustard and vinegar should be put over the stomach, and kept on fifteen or twenty minutes. The above medicines should be continued every hour, or every two or three hours, according to the emergency of the case, until a doctor can be got. Rest and warmth in bed are essential until medical assistance arrives; but not a moment should be lost in seeking medical aid.

NAVAL DEPARTMENT, BOARD OF TRADE, LONDON EVENING NAUTICAL SCHOOLS.

Masters and Mates of Vessels, Seamen and Apprentices, are hereby informed that Schools for Teaching Navigation, and for preparing Candidates for the Examination of the Local Marine Boards, are Open at the SAILORS' HOME, Well Street, London Docks, on every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday Evenings, from Six to Nine o'clock. DAVID CARSON, Chaplain, R.N., Head Master. Terms of admission, paid in advance: Upper School, 6d. per week; Lower School, 2d. Apprentices free.

NAUTICAL SCHOOL, LIVERPOOL.

SAILORS' HOME, LIVERPOOL,
Feb. 10th, 1853.

By directions of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade,

Notice is hereby Given to the Masters, Mates, Seamen and Apprentices in the Mercantile Service, that there is now Open at the Sailors' Home, a Nautical School, which has been established at this Port by the Board of Trade, for the purpose of affording to Officers, Seamen and Apprentices in the Mercantile Service the best means of instruction in each department connected with their profession.

The Evening School is open five days in each week, and will be divided into two Classes, the Upper and the Lower.

The Upper Class embraces the higher rules of Arithmetic, Geometry, Algebra, Trigonometry, Navigation, Nautical Astronomy and Mercantile Laws and Usages as far as necessary for the Master of a Ship.

The Lower Class embraces Reading, Writing, Geography, the lower rules of Arithmetic, &c.

The terms of admission are, to the Upper Class, 6d. per week, and to the Lower Class 2d. per week, but Apprentices free. It will be observed that these terms are proposed under the impression that they are the lowest that would be acceptable to the parties for whose benefit the School has been established.

The Head Master having been educated for the office of a Naval Instructor in her Majesty's Service, the course of instruction will be of a higher description than that hitherto available to those connected with the Mercantile Service.

For those about to pass the Mercantile Marine Board as Masters or Mates, a Class is open for six days in each week, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The terms of admission to this class are 6s. per week.

Any further information that is required will be afforded on application at the School Room in the Sailors' Home.

JOHN A. TINNE,

Chairman of the Visiting Committee.

TRINITY HOUSE NOTICES.

SOUTH FORELAND HIGH LIGHT.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
1st September, 1852.

This Corporation having, with a view to promote the safety of Vessels when navigating by Night in the vicinity of Folkstone, recently caused examination to be made of the rocky patches which extend from the shore at Copt Point; and having ascertained that additional facility for navigating that part of the Channel, will be afforded by decreasing the Range of the South Foreland High Light to the Northward,

Notice is hereby Given

That on and after the 1st of October next, the Light from the said High Light House will not be visible to the Northward of the Line of Bearing of W. by S. Southerly.

Masters of Vessels drawing more than 14 feet water should adhere to the old rule, which requires that the Lower Light shall be kept in sight when approaching the shore; and Masters and Pilots of all Vessels not bound to Folkstone Harbour are now instructed to stand off immediately the High Light disappears.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

The following Translation of a Notice issued by the Danish Government, is reprinted for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

MARINE MINISTRY, COPENHAGEN.
10th September, 1852.

On the North West point of the small Island of Seiró, called Gniben, Lat. 55° 55' 10" North, Long. 11° 5' 9" East of Greenwich, a Revolving Light will be Exhibited in a Tower 50 feet from the ground, and 100 feet above the level of the Sea.

This new Light, which will appear first on the 25th instant, and will thenceforth be kept burning as long as the other national Lights, viz., from half an hour after sun-set until sun-rise, consists of 9 lamps with reflectors, which occupy 6 minutes for each revolution; so that every other minute they cast a powerful ray, which continues between 12 and 15 seconds.

The Light illumines the horizon to the distance of 3½ or 4 miles round (Danish).

MARINE MINISTRY, COPENHAGEN.

15th September, 1852.

In the course of October next, a Light-Vessel will be placed in the Channel of Læsøe, Lat.  $57^{\circ} 12\frac{1}{2}$  North, Long.  $10^{\circ} 41\frac{1}{2}$  East of Greenwich.

This Vessel, which has 2 masts, schooner-rigged, and her sides painted red, with a white cross, will lie in about 10 fathoms water, E. by S, 3 cable lengths from Dvale-ground's middle Beacon, which has 2 Brooms.

The Light-arrangements of the Ship consists of 9 lamps with reflectors, placed around the mainmast, and elevated to a height of 30 feet above the level of the water.

The Light will continue burning the same time as the other Lights of the Kingdom, viz., from half an hour after sun-set until sun-rise.

It will light the horizon round to a distance of 2 to  $2\frac{1}{2}$  miles (Danish).

Further information will be published as soon as the Light is exhibited.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,

8th October, 1852.

The following Notice having been communicated to this Corporation by direction of the Right Honourable the Lords' Commissioners of the Admiralty, the same is reprinted for the general Information of Mariners.

REVOLVING LIGHT AT MONTE VIDEO, SOUTH AMERICA.

Her Majesty's Government has received official information, that the New Light-house on the Summit of Monte Video was completed and lighted on the 16th of July last; that the Light is on the revolving principle, and is visible for an interval of thirty Seconds once in every three minutes, and that it is 486 feet above the level of the Sea, and is therefore visible from a distance of about ten leagues.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,

23rd November, 1852.

The following Translated Copy of a Notice having been communicated to this Corporation, the same is printed for the general Information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

ROYAL NAVY OF THE KINGDOM OF THE TWO SICILIES.

Notice is hereby Given,

That from the 1st November, 1852, a new Light of the 4th Order will be exhibited at the Entrance of the Military Port in the Gulf of Naples, of a small model, on revolving principle, rising 33·7 French feet (mètres 10·945) from the Medium Level of the Sea, and visible in ordinary weather to an observer, at the height of 7 feet above the horizon at the distance of 10 Geographical Miles.

The position of this Light is South  $26^{\circ} 30'$  East, and distant 458 Mètres from the large Light-House of the 3rd Order situated on the angle of the two Moles which form the Mercantile Port, and has been visible since 1844, the position of which (already indicated) is Latitude  $40^{\circ} 50' 15''$  North, and Longitude  $11^{\circ} 55' 18''$  East of Paris.

The Elbow of the Military Port on the End of which the Light is placed looks towards the E. N. E., and the entrance to it stands between these two Light-Houses with a free open passage of 401½ Metres.

Vessels entering the Military Port at Night will keep the new Light above-mentioned on their left at a distance of not less than 39 Metres in order to avoid the Breakwater of Rocks that extends towards the E. N. E. to a short distance from the point on which it is placed, and when the Light bears W. S. W. by Compass, the Helm to be immediately put to Starboard.

Finally—This new Revolving Light is situated South of the small fixed Light of the 5th Order, existing for some years past at the extremity of the Mercantile Port, and is distant from it 540·86 Metres, and which small fixed Light of the 5th Order bears from the large Light House of the 3rd Order already mentioned in the direction of N. E. ½ E. by Compass.

Consequently, in order to enter the Mercantile Port, after having from a considerable distance sighted the large Light House of the 3rd Order, there will be seen subsequently projecting further out than it, the new Light in question of the 4th Order already passed,—and after leaving this last mentioned Light on the left or Port side, the Vessel to be steered to the North East towards the small fixed Light of the 5th Order, keeping it on the Port side until abreast of it, when the Helm should be put to Starboard, and the Anchor let go at once in consequence of the narrowness of the entrance or mouth of this Port.

STANFORD CHANNEL, LOWESTOFT.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
9th December, 1852.

Notice is hereby Given,

That, consequent upon the Newcome Sand having gone into the Westward, the East Newcome Buoy has been moved nearly a Cable's length to the W. N. W. of its previous position, and now lies in 5 fathoms at Low Water Spring Tides, with the following Marks and Compass Bearings, viz. :—

The Spire of Lowestoft Church in Line with the Light

House on Lowestoft North Pier	. . . . .	N. by W. ½ W.
Pakefield Church	. . . . .	W. N. W.
Stanford Light Vessel	. . . . .	N. E. ½ N.

NETHERLANDS MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives notice, that the Boats belonging to the regular Pilot Service, from the 15th December next (1852), will carry as a distinguishing mark at night, from sunset to sunrise, a Top Light, of a White Colour, with narrow stripes of Red; and also will exhibit every hour, a White Light on Deck, in the manner of a Torch.

In Foreign Roads or Streams, the Pilot Boats are to be governed with regard to the Bearing or Exhibiting of Lights, according to the regulations of the place.

The Minister aforementioned,

J. ENSLIE.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
6th January, 1853.

The following copies of Notices are printed by Order of this Board, for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary

MARINE BOARD,
2nd December, 1852.

At List, on the North end of the Island of Sylt, in 55° 3' N. Latitude, 8° 26' E. Longitude of Greenwich, Two Wooden Beacons have been erected, to serve as marks for entering the Lister Channel; the Westernmost on the East Indiaman's Nook, 64 feet high, with a ball-shaped top, the Easternmost 4250 ells (8500 feet) more Easterly on Alba Head, 99 feet high above the usual Water Mark, with a square-shaped top.

From the commencement of this month, a Lantern Light, with sideral apparatus, will be shown for the first time on each of these Beacons, which will be seen at a distance of from 9 to 13 miles English.

These Lights will be kept burning the same time as all other Lights in the Kingdom, viz., from sunset until sunrise.

These two Beacon Lights, kept in one, in about E.S.E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. by Compass, lead to the deepest part of the Bar in the principal Channel for entering List roadstead with 15 feet depth of water, at the usual Low Water Mark.

When the depth of water, after passing the Bar, increases to 6 and 7 fathoms, the Lights, in order to go clear of the Solt sand, must no longer be kept in one, but a more Easterly direction must be taken for the Channel, as laid down in the Chart. The Beacon Lights will be best seen when coming in from the Northward.

Both the two old Westerly Beacons on List, as likewise the two Beacons on Romo', are taken away.

Further notice will be given as soon as the Beacons are lighted.

MARINE BOARD,
2nd December, 1852.

The latter days of last Month a Beacon has been erected on the South point of the Island of Sylt, called Hornum Head, in 54° 45' North Latitude, and 8° 17' East Longitude of Greenwich.

The Beacon has a Circle-formed Top, with the front towards the W. S. W.; is 101 feet above the surface of the Sea, and serves as a mark for the uniform line of coast along the Downs, from Rothe (Red) Clift to Hornum Head, as also as a Warning Mark for the dangerous Shoals running far out in a South Westerly direction from Hornum Head.

At the foot of this Beacon a shed will be erected, in which will be found, in cases of Shipwrecks, sleeping benches, and cases containing bread and water.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
15th February, 1853.

The following copy of a Notice having been communicated to this Corporation, is printed for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

CUSTOM-HOUSE, GALVESTON,
COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, January 10, 1853.

A fixed Light has been established on Point Bolivar, on the North side of the entrance to this Harbour, in Latitude  $29^{\circ} 22' 02''$  N., Longitude  $94^{\circ} 45' 33''$  W. from Greenwich, bearing N. W.  $\frac{1}{4}$  W.\* four and a quarter Nautical Miles from the Bar. The Tower is painted white, and has an elevation of about seventy-five feet above the level of the sea, and in clear weather is visible about twelve miles.

Masters of Vessels bound for this Port, and unacquainted with the Coast, should not approach the land near this entrance in less than 6 fathoms; Vessels having to wait outside for a Pilot, should come to in  $6\frac{1}{2}$  fathoms, with the Light bearing N. W. by W.,\* or if standing off and on, should be careful not to get to the Westward of this Bearing.

W. R. SMITH,
Superintendent Lights.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
4th May, 1853.

The following copies of Notices, issued by the Minister of the Netherland Marine, are printed for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

THE HAGUE,
24th March, 1853.

The Minister of Marine provisionally informs such as are interested thereby,
1st. That the present existing Sea Pier called Feldkaap, on the Island of Flieland, is soon to be taken down, and to be replaced in the same bearings by a new Pier.

2ndly. That a new Sea Pier is to be erected on the Robbenbol, being the West Corner of the dry Horst of Flieland, in the immediate neighbourhood of the Eyerland Shallows, furnished with two screens of an oval or elliptic shape, the one bearing N. E. and S. W., and the other N. W. and S. E. (unadjusted Compass).

3rdly. That on the high sand hills, near and at the Koog, on the Island of Texel, a Screen is to be erected, bearing N. E. to E., and S. W. to W. (unadjusted Compass).

The above-mentioned Pier on the Robbenbol, and the Screen at the Koog, are to serve as bearings for the recognition of the Island of Texel, and the there existing Eyerland Shallows, as a caution for Ships to keep off the Coast.

After the above-mentioned new works shall have been erected, further notice will be given thereof.

THE HAGUE,
9th April, 1853.

The Minister of Marine, with reference to the announcement of 21st of February last, gives notice, that the present Light on the Light House of Kykdum will, in the evening of the 11th May next ensuing, no longer be lighted, and that from that day up to the completion of the works for exchanging the aforesaid Coast Lighting for a new Catadioptric Lighting Apparatus of the first rank, an auxiliary Light will burn on the Light House aforesaid, consisting of a Catadioptric Lighting Apparatus of the fourth rank (small size), lighting the horizon from North through West to South, (adjusted Compass), and visible at a distance of Two Miles.

The time of lighting the new Catadioptric Lighting Apparatus of the first rank will be announced in due time.

THE HAGUE,
16th April, 1853.

The Minister of Marine gives notice, that about the middle of the month of May next ensuing, the Iron Pyramid-shaped Sea Buoy, situated outside the slijkgat of Goedereede, will, for the purpose of repairs, be temporarily substituted by an ordinary Black Sea Buoy of the first size, marked "Goedereede."

The replacement of the Pyramidical Sea Buoy will be announced in due time.

The Minister aforesaid,

T. ENSLIE.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,

18th May, 1853.

Notice is hereby Given

That the following alterations have been made, viz. :—

The N. E. WHITING BEACON BUOY;
The ELBOW WHITING BUOY; and The S. W. WHITING BUOY;

previously coloured White, have been replaced by Buoys coloured Red.

THE KNOWL BEACON BUOY,

At the entrance of the Colne River, previously White, has been replaced by a Buoy of larger dimensions, coloured Black and White, in circular stripes.

MOUSE LIGHT VESSEL.

The Mouse Sand having slightly grown out to the North Westward, the Mouse Light Vessel has been moved 120 fathoms in that direction, and now lies in  $4\frac{1}{2}$  fathoms at Low Water Spring Tides, with the following Mark and Compass Bearings, viz. :—

Maplin Light House . . . . .	N. E. by E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E.
North Nob Buoy . . . . .	S. E. by E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E.

East Oaze Buoy . . . . .	S. S. E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E.
The Pan Sand Beacon, in Line with the Girdler Light Vessel . . . . .	S. E. by S.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH FROM ORFORDNESS TO HOLLAND.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,

7th June, 1853.

Notice is hereby Given

That the Submarine Cables from Orfordness to Holland lay in a direction E. S. E. from the Orfordness High Light House, with the Light House on with Gedgrave High Trees, bearing W. N. W.; and that it is desirable that Vessels should not Anchor with those Marks or Bearings on, lest, by so doing, they damage the Electric Cable, or lose their own Anchors.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
8th June, 1853.

The following Copies of Notices having been transmitted to this House, the same are printed for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

FIXED LIGHT AT POINT ISABEL, BRAZOS SANTIAGO, TEXAS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE L. H. BOARD,
1st March, 1853.

A fixed Light will be exhibited on the 20th day of March inst., at

POINT ISABEL.

The Tower is painted WHITE. It is erected on a clay bank or bluff of 25 feet elevation, and the Light is 82 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Under ordinary states of the atmosphere, the Light ought to be seen 14 nautical miles from the deck of a vessel ten feet above water.

The Lighthouse and the large white buildings in the immediate vicinity to the Northward of it, are the most prominent objects seen in approaching the BRAZOS SANTIAGO. The intervening land of the Brazos and Padre Island is very low, and does not prevent objects at Pt. Isabel from being seen from Seaward.

This Coast should be approached cautiously, and the lead should be kept going constantly, when approaching the land at night.

Masters of Vessels may run until in 7 fathoms water with the Light bearing West by North (magnetic), with safety, when they should anchor or stand off and on, until a Pilot is obtained.

The entrance to the harbour lies between Brazos Santiago on the South side, and the southern extremity of Padre Island on the North side.

Illuminated arc of the horizon  $195^{\circ}$  between N. by W., around by East to S. by W. From Brazos Santiago the Light bears W. by N. (magnetic), distant  $3\frac{1}{2}$  miles.

APPROXIMATE POSITION OF THE LIGHTHOUSE.

PADRE ISLAND BEACON LIGHT

Is placed on the Southern extremity of Padre Island, and North side of the entrance to the Brazos Santiago. It is constructed of Wood, placed upon wheels, and easily distinguished from other objects by day. The Keeper's house is about  $\frac{1}{4}$  of a mile from it.

APPROXIMATE POSITION OF THE BEACON LIGHT.

Latitude .  $26^{\circ} 06' 00''$  N. Longitude from Greenwich .  $97^{\circ} 12' 00''$  W.

By Order,

THORNTON A. JENKINS, Sec.

SAND KEY LIGHTHOUSE, FLORIDA REEF.

A FIXED WHITE LIGHT, VARIED BY FLASHES.

PHILADELPHIA,
20th April, 1853.

This structure now being erected, to replace the one destroyed by the hurricane of 1846, is situated in the centre of Sand Key, Gulf of Florida. It is founded on 17 iron piles, covering a square of 50 feet at the base, and tapering to 20 feet at the top. The Keeper's house of one story, 38 feet square and 15 feet in height, is placed 20 feet above low water, and from thence there is a cylindrical tower 62 feet in height and 7 feet diameter, which leads to the lantern. The watch-room and lantern are together 24 feet in height, thus making the structure in all 121 feet above low water.

The whole structure is painted of a DARK COLOUR, except the lantern, which is WHITE.

The illuminating apparatus is of the Fresnel 1st order, and of the character called "Fixed, varied by flashes." It shows for the space of one minute, a clear steady light; in every alternate minute there is a brilliant flash of 10 seconds duration, preceded and followed by partial eclipses of 25 seconds duration.

The focal plane is 110 feet above low water. The tangent ray will strike the surface of the sea 12 nautical, or  $13\frac{87}{100}$  statute miles, and the light will be distinctly visible at distances beyond this point, proportionate to the elevation of the observer above the surface of the water. From an elevation of 15 feet above the level of the sea, it should be seen at the distance of nearly 17 nautical miles. The latitude and longitude, as determined by the Coast Survey, are—

Latitude,  $24^{\circ} 27' 09'' \cdot 5$  N. Longitude,  $81^{\circ} 52' 43'' \cdot 5$  W. of Greenwich.

The structure is now in course of erection, and near completion, and it is believed the light will be exhibited in all the coming month of June. Due notice will be given of the precise day so soon as it can be determined upon.

By Order of the Lighthouse Board,

GEO. G. MEADE,

Lieut. Top. Engineers, in charge of work.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,

8th June, 1853.

The following copy of a Notice having been communicated by the Consul General for Denmark, is printed for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

MARINE MINISTRY, COPENHAGEN,

14th May, 1853.

It is hereby made known that SUBMARINE TELEGRAPHIC WIRES have been laid down both in the GREAT AND LITTLE BELTS, bearing the following marks, to wit:—

In the GREAT BELT: 2 marks erected on Knud's Highland for the line from thence to Sprogó Vesterrev (West Reef), bearing W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S., and E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  N. from each other; and 2 marks on the Sealand side bearing W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  N., and E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. apart, for the line over the East end. South of Sprogó, Beacons are erected to show the direction of the wires at that spot.

In the LITTLE BELT: 2 marks are erected East of Strib, bearing N. by W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W.; and S. by E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. of each other.

All these marks consist of Wooden Barks painted White, and easily discernible, which, when brought into one, show the line of the wire.

As any anchoring over this wire might cause considerable inconvenience alike to the Public, by means of the Telegraph being brought out of order, and to every Ship or Vessel anchoring on the line, by which they run the risk of not getting their anchor home, or breaking their anchor chains or cables, all Navigators passing the Great or Little Belt are prohibited to anchor in the above-named marks; and they are enjoined by their own vigilance to prevent this, or by implicit obedience to any warnings they may receive relative thereto, either from the Inspector thereof, or from the Watchship in the Great Belt, the Light and Beacon Inspector, Pilots, Ferry-men, Coastguard, or whatsoever other authorities may be vested with the necessary power and instructions.

STEEN BILLE.

S. W. BAWDSEY BUOY.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
10th June, 1853.

Notice is hereby Given

That the S. W. Bawdsey Buoy has been moved one Half Mile to the Southward of its former position, and now lies in 6 fathoms at Low Water Spring Tides, with the following Marks and Compass Bearings, viz:—

A remarkable round Tree, next Westward of Falkenham Church, in line with the West End of Bawdsey Cliff .		N. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.
Hollesley Church, in line with the Easternmost Martello Tower below Bawdsey .		N. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.
Buoy of the Rough .		S. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.

ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH, SOUTH FORELAND TO BELGIUM.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
 28th June, 1853.

Notice is hereby Given,

That the Submarine Cable, extending from the South Foreland to Belgium, lies in an E. by S. direction (by Compass), with the South Foreland Light Houses in line, bearing W. by N., until without the stream of the Goodwin Sand, passing about One Mile to the Southward of the South Sand Head Light Vessel, after which it takes a general E. S. E. direction across to the Flemish Banks.

Mariners are requested to observe that it is desirable that Vessels should not Anchor with this Mark or Bearing on, lest, by so doing, they damage the Electric Cable, or lose their own Anchors.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

AUSTRALIA.—BASS'S STRAIT.—REVOLVING LIGHT ON CAPE OTWAY.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
 20th July, 1853.

The following particulars respecting the Revolving Light at Cape Otway, are hereby made public for the general information of Mariners, viz. :—

The Light House on Cape Otway in Bass's Straits is situate in Latitude  $38^{\circ} 51'$  South; and in Longitude  $143^{\circ} 29'$  East. The Light revolves, showing a Bright Flash once in every minute, and burns at the height of 300 feet above the Level of High Water, and may be seen, by estimation, at the distance of Eight Leagues.

Mariners are requested to observe that the Reef off Cape Otway lies about One-Half or Three Quarters of a Mile therefrom, in a S. E. to S. S. W. direction, and extends  $1\frac{1}{2}$  Mile to the Westward.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

BUOYS OFF LOWESTOFT.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
 26th July, 1853.

Notice is hereby Given,

That a Spit having grown out from the Corton Sand, the West Corton Buoy has been moved Four Cables' length to the N. by E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E., and now lies in  $8\frac{1}{2}$  fathoms at Low Water Spring Tides, with the following Marks and Compass Bearings, viz. :—

The Chimney of Lacon's Brewery at Yarmouth, half

The following copy of a Notice issued by the Minister of the Netherland Marine, is reprinted for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

THE HAGUE,
19th July, 1853.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives notice that the painted Buoy serving as a Beacon for the Freisland Sea Gat has been replaced by a Red Anchor-Buoy-shaped Buoy of the first size, which is furnished, for plainer distinction, with a Top Basket, the large Cape on the Englishman's Bank bearing S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S., and the large Cape on Schiermonnikoog S.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E.

Any further changes in the Buoys of the Friesland Sea Gat will be published hereafter.

The Minister aforesaid,

T. ENSLIE.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
16th August, 1853.

The following copies of Notices issued by the Minister of the Netherland Marine, is printed by Order of this Board, for the general Information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

THE HAGUE,
3rd August, 1853.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives Notice, that outside at the entrance of the Kromme Balz, between the Island Ameland and the Abt, on account of the existing Quicksands, which prevent any stationary Beacons being erected there, a Black Buoy has been placed in a depth of 30 palms at Low Water; the Tower of Hollum on Ameland, bearing N. E. to N.  $\frac{1}{2}$  North, and the Black Buoy now lying there N. to E. per unadjusted Compass.

THE HAGUE,
5th August, 1853.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives Notice, that on account of the decreasing depth in the beacons Sea Gat of the West Maese, the Buoys lying in that Channel have been placed more Northerly, as follows:—

The outer Black and White Buoys, which formerly served likewise as outer Buoys for the North or New Gat, in the following Marks or Bearings:—

1st. THE OUTER BLACK BUOY.

LONGWAYS.—The Steeple of the Brielle, and that of Oostvoorne in a straight line.

CROSSWAYS.—The Mill of Goedereede between the Great Wood and the Steeple there.

BEARINGS.—The Steeple of the Brielle S. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. The Steeple of Goedereede S. S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W. in a depth of 44 palms at ordinary low water.

2nd. THE OUTER WHITE BUOY.

LONGWAYS.—The Steeple of Maaslins and the Stone Beacon on the Island Voorne in a straight line.

CROSSWAYS.—The Mill of Goedereede a hand-spike's length to the East of the Great Wood.

BEARINGS.—The Steeple of the Brielle S. E. to E. The Steeple of Goedereede S. S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W. in 34 palms depth at low water.

FURTHER.—That the two succeeding Black Buoys are placed in 27 and 23 palms depth alongside the Southwest side of the West plaat, which with Red Buoy lying more in shore, indicate the North side of this navigable channel.

And the two succeeding White Buoys in 25 and 28 palms' depth along the North-east side of the Zeehonden bank, with the next following White Buoy, indicate the South side of the same:

In order to distinguish the outer Buoys of this channel from those in other mouths of the river, they have been furnished with a small flag of the same colour as the Buoys attached to a staff:—

Vessels entering this mouth from sea in the following bearings, namely, the Steeple of the Brielle, half a ship's length to the West of that of Oostvoorne, or in this course, the Brielle S. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. will find in the shallowest part (namely, between the 2nd and 3rd Buoys) a depth of 22 palms at ordinary low water.

The Bearings have been taken by unadjusted compass.

THE HAGUE,

5th August, 1853.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives notice, that on account of the decreasing depth of the navigable Channel of the Roads of the Brielle, the three Black Buoys at the West side of the Krabbe Bank, between the Haven Head of the Brielle and the Mill Haven, have been taken up, and the navigable Channel to the Eastward of that Bank is beaconsed by,

A Black Buoy on the hard ground of the Island of Rozenburg, and two White Buoys on the North East and South East extremities of the above-mentioned Krabbe Bank,

By which this Channel in the bearing of the Steeple of Zwartewaal at the end of the Heuvel Head, has a breadth of fully a cable's length, and a depth of 30 palms at ordinary low water.

The Minister afore-mentioned,

T. ENSLIE.

SAND KEY LIGHTHOUSE, FLORIDA REEF, A FIXED WHITE LIGHT, VARIED BY FLASHES.

KEY WEST,
30th June, 1853.

This structure, founded on iron piles, is erected in the centre of Sand Key on the Florida Reef.

It is 121 feet in height above low water, and is painted a Dark colour, except the lantern, which is White.

The illuminating apparatus is of the Fresnel 1st order, and of the character called "Fixed, varied by flashes." It shows for the space of one minute a clear steady light; in every alternate minute there is a brilliant flash of 10 seconds duration, preceded and followed by partial eclipses of 25 seconds duration.

The focal plane is 110 feet above low water. The tangent ray will strike the surface of the sea at the distance of 12 nautical, or  $13\frac{87}{100}$  statute miles, and the light will be distinctly visible at distances beyond this point, proportionate to the elevation of the observer above the surface of the water. From an elevation of .15 feet above the level of the sea it should be seen at the distance of nearly 17 nautical miles. The latitude and longitude, as determined by the Coast Survey, are—

Latitude 24° 27' 09" .5 North.

Longitude 81° 52' 43" .5 West of Greenwich.

The light will be exhibited for the first time on the 20th of July proximo, and will continue to be shown every night from sunset to sunrise until further notice.

By Order of Lighthouse Board,

GEO. G. MEADE,

Lieut. Top. Engineers, in charge of construction.

MARINE BOARD,
12th August, 1853.

During the month of September of the present year, a Light Ship will be placed on the Coppergrund (Kobbergrund) in the Cattegat, in Latitude 57° 8½ North, and Longitude 11° 20½ East of Greenwich.

This vessel, which has two masts, Schooner rigged, and whose sides will be painted Red, with a White Cross, will be moored S. E. to S., 3 or 4 Cables' lengths from the so-called Nyvager (new Vane Buoy).

The Vessel will show Three Lights.

Further notice will be given as soon as the Lights are burning,

The following translated copy of a Notice, issued by the Minister of the Netherlands Marine Department, is printed for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

THE HAGUE,
30th August, 1853.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives Notice, that, for the better indication of the Eyerland Shallows, a Lighthouse has now been erected on the Robbebol (West point, or Horst of Flieland), as also a Screen on the Texel Downs near the Koog.

It is considered useful, for the general benefit of Navigation, to repeat and make known the following, as a continuation to the Notices regarding those Shallows, dated the 16th of April, and 27th of October, 1852:—

1. The depth at five fathoms water, at ordinary low water, extends along that part of the coast from opposite the Koog on Texel, along the Eyerland Shallows, to opposite Flieland, about N.E. and S.W. to N.E. by E., and S.W. by W. (per compass), and especially,

(a) In the W.N.W., from the Screen, near the Koog, at the distance of half a German mile.

(b) Along the West Coast of the Eyerland Shallows, in the W.N.W., at  $\frac{1}{4}$  of a mile distance from the Look-Out Post, in the Downs of Eyerland.

(c) In the W.N.W., at fully  $\frac{1}{2}$  a mile distance from the Lighthouse of the Robbebol.

(d) And, in the N.N.E., at nearly  $\frac{1}{3}$  of a mile distance from the above-mentioned Lighthouse.

2. The Screen has been placed in the Downs of Texel, near the Koog, for the better, surer, and quicker observation of the Island Texel, and as a warning for the Eyerland Shallows. The Lighthouse on the Robbebol (Horst or West end of Flieland) has been erected for the same purpose, as also to make Ships keep further off the Coast at this Point.

3. The Screen is placed on the Down, near the Koog, bearing N.E. by E. and S. W. by W., about 30 Netherland ells above high water; and in shape resembles the roof of a house.

4. The Lighthouse on the West corner of the Robbebol is placed 18 Netherland ells above highest water, and remains dry in ordinary spring tides. This Light is furnished with two oval Screens, the one bearing N.E. and S.W., and the other N.W. and S.E.

This part of the Coast is generally approached far too closely, especially by small Ships and ignorant parties, and very great risk is incurred by sailing near the Coast and Shallows; even in fine weather, with the wind off land, Ships, as well by day and night, are very apt to run aground, or out of their course, with squally weather, and by the misguidance of the currents along the Coast, and at the mouth of the River.

5. The Lighting of the Coast hereabouts may also be considered as very satisfactory, for—

(a) The Light of Flieland is, with ordinary Beacon sight, visible at fully  $3\frac{1}{2}$  miles distance, close up to the Coast of Flieland, in the Eyerland Shallows, and even at a small distance from the Coast of Texel, near the Koog.

(b) The revolving Light of Terschelling is also visible from Sea, at 5 miles distance, to a little North of the Eyerland Shallows; and,

(c) The Light of Kijkduin, which, when repaired, will soon be visible at a distance of 5 miles, remains visible, coming from the West, until after having reached the South-West beyond and past the West Corner of the Downs of Texel; especially when observed at some elevation from the rigging when close on the Texel Coast, the Light of Flieland is, or soon becomes visible.

Although the above-mentioned observations will be found very useful, as well for guidance as warning, still Mariners are strongly recommended, when sailing round, or along that Coast (corner of Texel) to keep well off the Coast, and not to omit betimes frequently to use the sounding lead.

The currents close in Shore would greatly mislead Ships, especially in stormy weather, and with spring-tides, wishing to work their way up close in Shore, particularly for those who are little acquainted with the locality, and in thick or foggy weather or at night, if neglected, bad Charts and uncertain marks would soon cause the loss of the Ship.

The Minister aforementioned,

T. ENSLIE.

MADRID,

23rd August, 1853.

ATLANTIC OCEAN.—LIGHT HOUSE ON THE CIES ISLANDS, PROVINCE OF PONTEVEDRA—COAST OF SPAIN..

From the 19th of November next, a new Light House, established on the top of Mount "Faro," which is the foremost point of the Southern extremity of the "Isla del Centro," will be Lighted every night from Sunset to Sunrise.

This Light House lies in  $42^{\circ} 12' 23''$  N. Latitude; and  $2^{\circ} 41' 50''$  W. Longitude; from the Observatory of St. Fernando.

Its apparatus is of the second catadioptrical order, with eclipses every other minute. The Light's elevation above the level of the sea is of 650 feet, Burgo's measure, and produces a tangent of 31 miles; but it will be visible from a greater or minor distance, according to the state of the atmosphere and the elevation of the observer.

LIGHT HOUSE OF CASTRO URDIALES, PROVINCE OF SANTANDER—COAST OF SPAIN.

From the 19th of November next, a new Light House, established on the South-Eastern Tower of the Castle of "Santa Ana," will be Lighted every night from Sunset to Sunrise. Its distance from the line of level of the sea waters is of 52 feet, Burgo's measure; and the Rocks on which the Hermitage of "Santa Ana" is situated extend themselves in the South Eastern direction to the distance of 318 feet.

This Light House lies in  $43^{\circ} 24' 10''$  N. Latitude, and  $2^{\circ} 56' 10''$  E. Longitude, from the Observatory of St. Fernando.

Its apparatus is of the fifth catadioptrical order, with a fixed light, varied with red flashes every three minutes, and illuminates an arch of the horizon of 270 degrees. This Light's elevation above the level of the sea is of 143 feet, and produces a tangent of 13 miles; but it will be visible from a greater or minor distance, according to the state of the atmosphere and the elevation of the observer.

The above is hereby published by command of the Queen, for the guidance of Mariners.

JORGE LASSO DE LA VEGA.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
28th September, 1853.

The following translated copies of Notices, issued by the Minister of the Netherlands Marine Department, is printed for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

THE HAGUE,
18th August, 1853.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives notice, that on account of the change which has taken place in the Friesche Sea Gat, the outside Buoy and the outer Buoys have been placed more Eastward, and the number diminished by a Black and White Buoy, so that at present the White Flag Buoy is the fourth White Buoy on entering; that likewise the painted Buoy, indicating the Sea Gat, has been substituted by a Red Anchor-shaped Buoy, with a basket top.

This Red Anchor-shaped Buoy is placed in 100 palms depth, in the following Bearings:

The Large Light House at Schiermonikoog . . . . S.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E.
The Large Light House at the Englishman's Bank . . . . S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S.

The Bearings in which this Buoy, coming from Sea, can be recognised, are:—
The Steeple of Wierum in three, with the Light Houses on the Englishman's Bank (namely, Wierum, to the West of the Small Light House).

The Outside 1st Black Buoy lies in 42 palms depth, and in these Bearings:—

The Large Light House at Schiermonikoog . . . . S. to E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E.
The Large Light House at the Englishman's Bank . . . . S. W. to W.

The Outside 1st White Buoy lies in 45 palms depth, bearing—

The Large Light House at Schiermonikoog . . . . S. to E.
The Large Light House at the Englishman's Bank . . . . S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S.

And on the mark, the Steeple of Wierum in the Small Light House on the Englishman's Bank.

The course to be followed is S. W. to W. from the Red Buoy to the 4th Buoy, as near as possible, in the middle of the Channel.

The shallowest sounding at the entrance of the Channel is from 33 to 35 palms; it is shallowest along the White Buoys.

No change has taken place in the Buoys farther inland. It must be borne in mind, that with Northerly winds and ebb tide, the navigation between the Outer Buoys is generally very difficult, and the Sea very rough. It is very difficult to enter with South-Westerly winds at Flood Tide. The Bearings are taken by unadjusted Compass, and the Soundings at ordinary Low Water.

Ere long Buoys will likewise be placed in the Middle Gat, of which further notice will be given.

THE HAGUE,
23rd August, 1853.

The Minister of Marine hereby gives notice, in connection with sundry former Notices, that for better observation at Sea, large Anchor-shaped Beacon Buoys have been placed as Outer Buoys in most of the mouths of Rivers in the Kingdom, furnished with a Crown or top basket, and more especially

Outside the North-East Friesche Sea Gat;
" North-East Sea Gat of Terschelling;
" Thomas Smith Gat;

Outside the Stortemelksche Sea Gat (the Flie) ;

„	Westgat	} of Texel ;
„	Schulpengat
„	Brouwershaven Sea Gat ;
„	Roompot Sea Gat (East Schelde) ;
„	East Gat	} Western Schelde.
„	Wielingen

The above-mentioned Buoys lying outside the Friesche Sea Gat, those of Terschelling and the Flie, as also those outside the East Gat of the Western Schelde, are painted Red, the others are Black.

For the same purpose an Iron pyramidal Sea Buoy has for some time been placed on the outside of Slykgat of Goedereede.

The Minister aforementioned,

THE ROYAL NORWEGIAN MARINE DEPARTMENT,
CHRISTIANIA, 25th August, 1853.

Notice relating to the Lighting of the Coast Lights on Lindesnas (Naze), and Lights on Lister.

In conformity with the Department's Notice of the 2nd December last year, it is hereby made known that the Light on Lindesnas (Naze) and Lister third Light after having undergone the alterations already advertised, will be relighted on the 16th September next, at the same time with the other Lights in the Kingdom, and will continue to burn during the same period, as follows:—

Lindesnas (Naze) Light, is a revolving light, with a flash every minute, of the first class (Fresnel's System), and lights all round at Sea.

The height of the Light above the Sea is 159 Norwegian feet (212 English), and is seen 6 miles (24 English), Longitude 7° 3' East of Greenwich, and North Latitude 57° 58'.

The Light is fixed on a 10 feet high tower of stone, on which is constructed a 7 feet wall of iron. To serve as a Day Mark, the stone tower is White, and the upper part of iron, painted Red.

Lister Light, 3rd fixed Light of the second class (Fresnel's System), and is visible everywhere at Sea.

The towers form an obtuse triangle, the point of which is towards the Sea. The centre of the middle tower is 150 Norwegian feet from the centre of the other towers, and the base line is 282 Norwegian feet.

The direction of the centre tower with the northernmost tower is N. W. and S. E. by compass distance 150 Norwegian feet.

With the southernmost tower the direction is N. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W., and S. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E., distance 150 Norwegian feet.

The northernmost and southernmost tower is N. N. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W., and S. S. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. distance 282 Norwegian feet, in which direction Two of the Lights may be seen all round.

The height of the Lights above the Sea, in all the three towers, is 125 Norwegian feet.

Visible from  $4\frac{1}{2}$  to 5 Norwegian miles (18 to 20 English), Longitude  $6^{\circ} 32' 15''$  E. from Greenwich, North Latitude  $58^{\circ} 5' 30''$ ; all the Lights are on high towers, which in order to serve as Day Marks are painted White.

As the Oxó Light, in conformity with the Notice of the Department of the 30th June last, has been alight since the 16th July, there is only one of the Lights enumerated in the Notice of the 2nd December, 1852, and extinguished this Summer, which still remains to be relighted, namely,—Ilvidingsø.

CAISTOR AND BARBER SHOALS, YARMOUTH.

CAUTION.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
6th October, 1853.

The Swatchway between the Caistor Shoal Buoy, and the South Inner Barber Buoy, which is frequently used by Humber Keels and other Vessels of light draft of Water, having filled up, so that in lieu of a Passage of from 5 to 6 fathoms Water, as shown by the last Survey of Yarmouth Roads published from the Hydrographical Office, there are not now more than 12 and 14 feet therein at Low Water Spring Tides:—

Notice thereof is hereby Given,

And Masters of Vessels, Pilots, and others, are hereby cautioned that the said Channel, or rather narrow Swatchway, cannot be regarded as a safe navigable Channel.

Nevertheless, as circumstances of great emergency may occasionally arise to induce persons in charge of Vessels of light draught to attempt the navigation of this Channel, it has been deemed advisable not to take away the West Cockle Spit Buoy at present.

The Channel within, or to the Westward of the aforesaid Caistor and Barber Shoals, has a good entrance from the Northward, but Mariners who may avail themselves of it are hereby cautioned to bear in mind that the passage or outlet therefrom at its Southern end has not more than 9 or 10 feet at Low Water Spring Tides.

By Order,

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
6th October, 1853.

The following Copy of an amended Notice, issued by the British Consul at Santo Domingo, is printed for the general information of Mariners.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

BRITISH CONSULATE, SANTO DOMINGO,
22nd August, 1853.

SANTO DOMINGO LIGHT.

From the 14th of August, 1853, the Dominican Government have ordered a White Fixed Light to be exhibited, between Sunset and Sunrise, from the Bastion of San José, at the City of Santo Domingo. The cupola of the iron frame-work, the columns of which are painted white, the cornices red and blue, rises 113 feet above low water mark. The Lantern with the reflectors commences at 100 feet.

The Light House is situated in Latitude  $18^{\circ} 28' 5''$  North; Longitude  $69^{\circ} 52' 30''$  West of Greenwich. It bears North  $58^{\circ}$  West (true) distant 1423 yards from Punta Torrecilla; and South  $44^{\circ}$  West, distant 617 yards from the Homenaje or Signal Tower of the Fort.

The fixed White Light consists originally of nine reflectors of the first class, the patent of Messrs. Alcot and Brothers, at Rochester, in the State of New York, and might be seen with a clear atmosphere, were all these reflectors properly lighted, at a distance of from 18 to 20 miles. But as the Dominican Government have recently given orders that only six, and sometimes only four reflectors shall be lighted, by which its effect is greatly lessened, the distance at which it can be seen does probably not surmount 10 or 11 English miles. Its range extends nearly in a half circle from South to East and Westward.

Vessels coming from the East, running for Santo Domingo Roads, ought to keep in mind that, having doubled Punta Causedo, the Light will show over the land, somewhat to the North of Punta Torrecilla; and that from this point, from whence, as already observed, the Light bears N.  $58^{\circ}$  W., distant 1423 yards, a short reef extends South-Westward, upon which the water breaks when the sea is agitated. Bearing up for the anchorage, as indicated in the Columbian Pilot, and other sailing directions, this danger ought to be guarded against.

A duty of  $6\frac{1}{2}$  cents. (equal to  $3\frac{1}{2}d.$ ) per ton, is levied from every vessel, National and Foreign, that comes from abroad, for the support of the Light.

ROBERT H. SCHOMBURGK, Consul.

HAISBRO' SAND.

TRINITY-HOUSE, LONDON,
12th October, 1853.

In conformity with the intention expressed in the Notice from this House, dated 13th ultimo, a Buoy coloured Black and White, in Circular Stripes, has been placed near the middle of Haisbro' Sand.

The said Buoy, which is marked "Middle Haisbro'," lies in 6 fathoms at Low Water Spring Tides, with the following Compass Bearings, viz. :—

Haisbro' Church . . . . .	W. by S. S.
Haisbro' Light Vessel . . . . .	N. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.

And in completion of the intention, also expressed as abovementioned, the South Haisbro' Buoy, has been converted into a Beacon Buoy.

LIGHT HOUSE OF THE ISLA PLANA OR TABARCA, PROVINCE OF ALICANTE.

MADRID,
16th September, 1853.

From the 1st of January, 1854, a new Light House established on the "Isla Plana, or Tabarca," and at a distance of 2010 feet, Burgos measure, from the Eastern point of the Island, and of 560 feet from the Sea Shore in the Northward direction, will be lighted every night from Sunset to Sunrise.

This Light House lies in  $38^{\circ} 10' 13''$  North Latitude, and  $5^{\circ} 45' 38''$  East Longitude from the Observatory of St. Fernando.

Its apparatus is of the third Catadioptrical order, with a permanent natural light, varied with flashes every two minutes. The elevation of the Light above the level of the Sea is of 98.9 feet, and produces a tangent of 10.9 miles; but it may be visible from a greater or minor distance, according to the state of the atmosphere, and the elevation of the observer.

NOTICE RELATING TO THE LIGHTING OF HVITINGSÆ LIGHT.

THE ROYAL NORWEGIAN MARINE DEPARTMENT,
CHRISTIANA, 24th September, 1853.

In conformity with the Department's Notice of the 2nd December last year, Notice is hereby given, that the Light on Hvittingsæ, in the vicinity of Stavanger, having undergone the alterations therein pointed out, will be relighted on the evening of the 1st October next, at the same time as the other Lights in the Kingdom, and will continue to burn as they do.

The Hvittingsæ Light will therefore in future be a fixed Light, varied with a flash every fourth minute, of the second order (Fresnel's system). The height of the Light above the Sea is 145 Norwegian feet (149 English); the Light is visible from 20 to 22 English miles. Longitude East of Greenwich  $5^{\circ} 25'$ , Latitude North  $59^{\circ} 4'$ .

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

26th September, 1853.

In conformity with the Notice given by this Board on the 12th ultimo, further Notice is hereby given, that the Light Vessel on the Copper Shoal (Kobber Grund) had been laid at her station in 4 fathoms water, and the Lights were shown for the first time on the night of the 24th to 25th instant.

The Vessel's three Lights consist of three single Sideral Lanterns, of which two are fixed on the after-part of the Fore or highest Mast, respectively fifty and twenty-five feet above the level of the water; and the third on the fore part of the Main or shortest Mast, forty feet above the level of the water. The Lights will be kept burning the same time as all other Lights in the Kingdom, viz., from one half-hour after Sunset until its rise.

It lights the horizon for a distance of nine miles English (two miles Danish).

NOTIFICATION.

GRAND DUCAL OLDENBURG GOVERNMENT OF THE DUCHY OF OLDENBURG, OLDENBURG, 26th August, 1853.

It is hereby made known for the information of the seafaring people, that for the more easily making the Weser Schlüssel Buoy marking the entrance to the Weser, two Beacons have been erected on the North-West side of the Island of Wangerooge.

These Beacons stand on two of the highest downs of the Island, at a distance from each other of 750 feet, in the direction N. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. and S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W.; and both are in a straight direct line with the Weser Schlüssel Buoy.

The South-Western Beacon, crowned with a 14-feet ☐ head, stands 54 feet high, the North-Eastern Beacon stands 50 feet high, and has a round head of 14 feet in diameter.

Vessels coming from the Westward, and intending to make the first Weser Schlüssel Buoy, upon having properly neared the Island of Wangerooge, must continue their Easterly course until both Beacons appear in a direct line in S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W. as per compass, and so that the South-Western is covered by the North-Eastern Beacon, and in  $8\frac{1}{2}$  fathoms of low water they will see the first Weser Schlüssel Buoy; or if it should be drifted away, they will be, according to the above directions, close upon the position of the said Buoy.

NOTIFICATION

Of I. R. Central Maritime Government which extends to Foreign Vessels, also the obligation to keep a Lantern lighted at the Foremast, whenever they are in Austrian Maritime Ports, Roads, and Anchorages, during the night.

By virtue of the S. 21 of the Regulation of the 25th of January last, No. 8025, relative to Signals in Austrian Vessels by night, or in case of fog, all Austrian Sailing Vessels or Steamers, whether of War or for Trade, which may be at anchor in Austrian Ports, unless they are close to a mole, or anchored in line (in andana), are bound to keep lighted, from the moment of sunset to that of sunrise, a Lantern with plain light (luce naturale), at the Foremast, so as to be easily seen from all points of the horizon.

The above obligation, imposed with a view of preventing, as far as possible, the danger of running down, is now by this present Notification, with the said view and in the way above-mentioned, extended also to all Foreign Ships which shall be at night in the Ports, Roads, and other Anchorages of the Austrian Coast, in the same manner as is regulated for National Vessels, under the penalty of a fine of five florins convention money, to be recovered from the respective Captain or Master, for every violation of the above order, which shall for them be in force on the 1st day of July next.

The I. R. Port and Health Officers are directed to provide, as well directly as by the functionaries subordinate to them, for the exact observance and fulfilment of the present regulations.

GOLD CHAINS AND JEWELLERY.

WITH the view of removing the popular delusion that "Gold is Gold,"

WATHERSTON & BROGDEN

beg to append a Table of its values, from which it will appear that, Gold may be had of at least twenty-four different qualities; and, in order to show the public to what extent they may be deceived, (unless they insist upon the quality of the gold being stated on the invoice); Watherston and Brogden beg to call attention to a few figures, proving, beyond dispute, that the charge for LABOUR is enhanced to the purchaser, progressively, in the ratio as the gold is debased.

Take, for example, two Gold Chains of equal weight, purchased at different shops for £10 each:—in the one case, where the gold is what it should be, viz., of 15 carats, the charge for labour and profit will be THREE POUNDS; while, in the other case, where the gold is only of 7½ carats, it will be SIX POUNDS TEN SHILLINGS, as under:—

GENUINE GOLD CHAIN.

EDMISTON'S DREADNOUGHT, A NEWLY INVENTED WATERPROOF COAT,

Entirely superseding the old-fashioned cumbersome Macintosh. One fact alone causes this Waterproof to be superior to any other extant, particularly for the Tropics, namely, the process of Mineralisation, testing the India-rubber to 300 degrees of heat, thereby obviating the sticking, cracking, and unpleasant smell, in all previous Waterproofs.

Price, according to size, 28s. to 40s.

"EDMISTON'S DREADNOUGHT:—This is an excellent Waterproof overcoat. It is impervious in the heaviest rain, and resists the hottest sun."—Bell's Life, April 20, 1851.

The Dreadnought supplied by sending Height, and Size round the Chest, to EDMISTON & SON, 416 and 69, STRAND (near the Adelphi), LONDON.

TEETH.

ELMS'S ORIGINAL AMBOYNA LOTION, POWDERS, and GUM,

For the Preservation of the Teeth and Gums, Prevention and Cure of Toothache, and removing Impurities of the Breath, as prepared by the late Mr. Elms, 45, Leicester-square. The celebrity and extensive patronage which the above articles have obtained from royalty, the nobility, gentry, and numerous foreigners of distinction for the last FIFTY YEARS, prove the efficacy of these preparations, and render it superfluous to dilate upon their invaluable qualities. Sold by BRIDGE & CO., Chemists, 270, Regent-street, London. Sold, the Lotion, (a certain cure for Tooth-ache), in Bottles, 4s. 6d. The Powders, (a never failing remedy for arresting the decay and giving a healthy and beautiful appearance to the teeth), in Boxes, 2s. 6d., and the Gum for Stopping the Teeth, in Pots, 3s. each.

OF THE

ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA.

A New Dictionary of Universal Knowledge.

ILLUSTRATED WITH UPWARDS OF 5000 WOOD ENGRAVINGS.

CONDUCTED BY MR. CHARLES KNIGHT.

UPON completing the first two volumes of "THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA"—namely, one of GEOGRAPHY, and one of NATURAL HISTORY—the public attention to the distinctive character of this work is respectfully requested by the Proprietors.

"THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA," as announced from the first, is based upon "The Penny Cyclopædia of the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge." The copyright of that great work being the property of Mr. Knight, he alone had the power of re-modelling it throughout, so as to adapt the original materials to the existing state of knowledge. The amount of literary labour which this adaptation has involved will at once be seen by any one who will compare the present work with the original. It has not been a labour merely of correction and revision; it has involved the necessity of introducing a great body of newly-written matter. The changes which have elapsed since "The Penny Cyclopædia" was commenced, twenty years ago, have rendered every branch of information in some degree a new study. In "THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA" no diligence has been spared to collect every fact not previously recorded; to systematise articles that from the long course of publication of the original work were disconnected; to make the references complete; and truly to present, as far as a "DICTIONARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE" can present, the advanced opinions of our own times.

THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA.—continued.

During the progress of the publication, it has become more and more evident that the plan of issuing "THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA" in Four Divisions is a judicious arrangement. It has the obvious advantage of completing, in a comparatively short time, large departments of knowledge with the most recent information. Finishing the great branches of Geography and Natural History in two years and a half, the beginning and the end of each series will not present different aspects, the one somewhat antiquated, the other perfectly fresh. The editorial labour, too, being more condensed, the relations and proportions of each article and subject can be better preserved. The old materials were of the highest value ; but the edifice required to be re-built ; and thus "THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA" is essentially a NEW Cyclopædia ; not only taking a NEW form, but NEW in all the essentials of literary novelty.

Of the typographical execution of this work, in the essential point of accuracy, the Conductor can confidently speak. In associating with himself in this undertaking the firm of Messrs. BRADBURY AND EVANS, he secured the best mechanical execution of the Cyclopædia ; which was more than commonly required from the great number of woodcuts. He believes that no work of such remarkable cheapness was ever produced with the beauty that was once considered exclusively to belong to the dearest class of books.

It is necessary to add, that an ATLAS to accompany the Geographical Division of "THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA" will be prepared ; but as it will not be an isolated collection of Maps, but one adapted to the text of the Cyclopædia, it will not be issued till the work is more advanced : and thus the most recent information will be therein embodied.

The "ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA" will be comprised in Four Divisions each having its own alphabetical arrangement, and each forming, when complete, four distinct volumes.

GEOGRAPHY . . . . .	4 vols.
NATURAL HISTORY . . . . .	4 vols.
SCIENCES AND ARTS . . . . .	4 vols.
HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY, LITERATURE, &c. . . . .	4 vols.

A Number of the CYCLOPÆDIA is published every Saturday, price 6d. ; one week a Number of GEOGRAPHY, the next a Number of NATURAL HISTORY ; and a Part, price 2s., on the last day of every Month ; and Volumes at the rate of one in every four months.

OF THE

Shipwrecked Fishermen & Mariners' Royal Benevolent Society.

Patrons, } Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen.
              } H.R.H. Prince Albert, K.G., &c. &c.

Chairman of Committee,—VICE ADMIRAL HENRY HOPE, C.B.

Chairman of Life Boat Committee,—THE RT. HON. LORD H. CHOLMONDELEY, M.P.

UNDER THE ABOVE TITLE, the Committee of Management propose to issue, on the 1st of January, 1854, a Quarterly Publication which will contain a full account of all their proceedings, detailing in a tabular form the mode in which the funds at the disposal of the Society are laid out, giving the names of the ship to which the individuals relieved belonged, and at what cost; or if their lives should have been lost, the amount of aid rendered to their widows and families, with such notes as may be needful to illustrate any cases of a peculiar nature. These details will afford matter of great interest, as often presenting pictures of heart-rending affliction on the one hand, and of timely and well bestowed bounty on the other. The work will also contain accounts of shipwrecks, of voyages, of marine inventions, and discoveries beneficial to seamen, with information respecting life boats, and other means of saving life on the Coasts;—in short, it will give as extended accounts as its limits will permit, of everything instructive or useful to the seafaring man, or those who are interested in his welfare.

The Price will be 6d. each number, and it may be ordered through any Bookseller in Town or Country; and will be Published (D.V.) by the Society, at their Offices, Hibernia Chambers, London Bridge.

N.B.—The profits of the Journal will be devoted to the relief of the objects of the Society, viz.—Shipwrecked Persons, their Widows and Orphans, &c.
